

Keitt-Hart.

A large assemblage of guests filled Aveligh Presbyterian church Thursday evening to witness the ceremony which made Miss Anna Coe Keitt the bride of Edgar LaGrone Hart of Edgefield, the wedding with the reception following at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lawrence Keitt, on Boundary street one of the brilliant events of the season in Newberry society. The church, which lends itself ideally to decoration, was transformed, under the artistic touch of Mrs. J. Y. McFall, assisted by Mrs. D. J. Burns and Mrs. Everett Evans, into a bower of loveliness. The chancel, covered in white, had as a background a tall pyramid of palms and ferns with graduated white pedestals crowned with many branching silver candelabra burning white tapers and looped together with festoons of airy tulle, while nestling among the green were quantities of bright eyed daisies. A stately palm graced the center of the choir loft, and the railing on which gleamed numbers of colonial candles, was draped in white with traceries of southern smilax.

A half hour before the appointed time, Miss Mazie Dominick played a beautiful program of organ music composed of the following numbers: "March and Chorus from Tannhauser," Wagner; "Leibesfreud," Kriesler; Quartette from "Rigoletto," Verdi; "The Rosary," Nevin; "O, Promise Me," Reginald DeKoven, announcing the approach of the bridal party with the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin. The first to enter were the ushers, James O. Sheppard of Edgefield, W. R. Reid, Jr., Frank Bland of Johnston and E. B. Purcell, the bridesmaids and groomsmen coming next in the following order: Miss Anabel Saunders of Miami, Fla., Miss Josie Reid, Nicholas Holmes and J. L. Keitt, Jr., Mrs. James O. Sheppard of Edgefield, Miss Mary Fant Herri-do of New York, John Mims of Edgefield and Ollie Brown. The maids all wore dainty frocks of green taffeta and carried arm bouquets of pastel-colored sweet peas. The dame of honor, the bride's sister, Mrs. E. B. Purcell, was becomingly gowned in pink taffeta combined with silver cloth and carried pink roses. Little Hardin Keitt, dressed in a smart white suit, immediately preceding the bride, who entered on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage. She was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, his brother, James E. Hart of Edgefield. The impressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. E. D. Kerr, pastor of the church.

The bride's girlish beauty was emphasized by her exquisite gown of white duchess satin combined with rare old duchess lace, worn by her mother on her wedding day, with trimmings of seed pearls. The long court train which fell from the shoulders was sprinkled with orange blossoms and the tulle veil, arranged cap fashion with a bandeau of pearls was fastened to the hair with a wreath of the blossoms. Her flowers were bride's roses showered with swansonia. For the reception, the Keitt home, which is roomy and well arranged for entertaining, was beautifully decorated throughout the lower floor with a wealth of summer flowers, giving a different color in each room. The drawing room was in daisies; the living room, in which was displayed an unusually handsome collection of gifts, was in pink roses, and in the dining room everything was in white and green. The bride's table, spread with a handsome lace cover, was placed beneath the chandelier, from which streamers of tulle floated down, ending in a big bow just over a cutglass vase of white oleanders in the center, and crystal candlesticks held white tapers. Block cream and cake were served by Misses Margaret Kinard, Ella Bowman, Helen Purcell, Elizabeth Freed and Katherine Neel, and the favors were pinned on by Della McFall, Ollie Burne and Martha Vance Ellisor. Misses Fannie McCaughrin and Annie Bynum presided at the punch bowl, which was placed in an alcove of the veranda, and the bride's register was in charge of Miss Elizabeth Dominick. Others assisting in the various rooms were Mrs. T. E. Keitt, Jr., Mrs. W. H. Hunt, Mrs. W. F. Ewart, Miss Minnie Gist, Mrs. J. Y. McFall, Mrs. J. N. McCaughrin and Mrs. I. H. Hunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart left that night by automobile for a wedding trip, their destination known only to themselves, the bride traveling in a modish dark blue cape suit of imported point twill with touches of gray and hat and other accessories to match. On their return they will make their home in Newberry.

Among the out-of-town guests, besides those taking part in the wedding, were Mrs. James E. Hart, Sr., mother of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Jerald LaGrone, Miss Pearl Padgett, Mrs. Mamie N. Tillman and Mrs. Feltham, all of Edgefield; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Tompkins and Jim LaGrone of Johnston and Mrs. W. C. T. Bates of Columbia.—Newberry Observer.

Signora De Fabritiis Leaves for North Carolina.

Signora de Fabritiis is leaving this week-end after a very busy season. She will spend a few days motoring in North Carolina before going to her summer home at Cleora, S. C., about ten miles from Edgefield.

Several of Signora's pupils are planning to spend part of their summer with her at Cleora. Miss Dorothy Jane Scallin, of Mitchell, S. D., Miss Elizabeth Bussey, Miss Margaret Wall, Miss Mary Helen Hynes and others will be the guests at "The Shack" during the course of the summer.

Early in September Signora plans a trip East, going to Boston for a little work with her teacher, Charles A. White, before going on to New York city, where she will stay till the early part of November to attend concert-opera given by the San Carlo Association, and the opening weeks of the Metropolitan.

While in New York, Signora de Fabritiis will spend much of her time looking over new song publications and preparing her own recital songs to give on her return South at several cities where dates are now pending.—Augusta Chronicle.

McKendree News.

On last Sunday morning a goodly number attended services at McKendree, a splendid sermon being delivered by the pastor, Rev. R. M. Tucker.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. McCary and family of Greenwood spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frontis Timmerman.

On last Sunday evening prayer and song service was held at the home of Mrs. A. J. Permenter, who for several years has not been able to attend church service.

Tribute to Mrs. Bettie Allen.

The Death Angel entered the home of Mrs. Mary Allen Ashley of Fruit Hill, Saluda county on Wednesday night at nine o'clock, April 26, 1922, and bore away the sweet spirit of her beloved mother, Mrs. Frances Elizabeth Adams Allen, widow of the late Capt. Walter Scott Allen.

Mrs. Allen was the youngest daughter of the late Joseph Adams of the Elmwood community of Edgefield county, and leaves one devoted sister, Mrs. Sue Adams Daniel of near Saluda, three brothers and a sister having gone on before.

Besides the faithful and devoted daughter, Mrs. Ashley, she leaves four sons, equally as devoted, who are completely crushed because "Mother" to whom they have looked so long for loving council and advice, has gone from them. The sons are Dr. Ben Lee Allen of Saluda, William Orsamus and Walter Scott Allen of Fruit Hill, and Joseph Adams Allen of Saluda. Her oldest child, Mrs. Lizzie Allen Johnson died about six years ago, and the second, Miss Maggie Allen, died just as she reached young womanhood.

Mrs. Allen was a devoted Christian woman, a member of Rocky Creek church for many years, being at the time of her Home-going, 77 years of age.

The funeral services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. W. P. Brooke, being assisted by Rev. H. L. Baggott of Ward, S. C., and Rev. H. B. White, a former pastor, and Rev. G. S. Bearden of the Lutheran church of Saluda. Eight nephews of Capt. Allen and Mrs. Allen acted as pall bearers.

She was laid to rest in the family burial ground in sight of the dear old home, where she had lived since her marriage, just after the Civil war. Lovely flowers covered her grave.

Some day—
"I shall know the loved one who has gone before,
And joyfully sweet will the meeting be;
When over the river, the peaceful river,
The Angel of Death shall carry me."

A DEVOTED NIECE.

A Wonderful Health Opportunity.

Dr. Ernest Cooper, of Columbia, the eminent specialist, who has charge of the State Tuberculosis camp in Columbia, is to be in Edgefield on Friday, July 7th, for a free examination of white and colored people the former in the morning and the latter in the afternoon, at a clinic to be held in the rooms back of the offices of Drs. Tompkins and Marsh.

This is a golden opportunity given to the county by the State Tuberculosis Association, Edgefield having made a contribution to it through the sale of stamps at the Christmas season.

A clinic will be held in Johnston on Saturday, July 8th, and it is earnestly hoped all suspects and contacts of the whole county will be influenced to avail themselves of this free examination at one or the other clinics. All ministers and leaders are urged to assist in bringing this good news to the people for only by the concerted effort of all the people can the maximum good be gained.

For Fall Tomatoes.

Clemson College, June 19.—Many gardeners and farmers who wish to grow tomatoes for market on a small scale are asking just now for information on growing fall tomatoes, says Prof. C. C. Newman, horticulturist, who makes the following suggestions.

It is well to make two plantings of seed—one the first week in June and another about two weeks later, using a standard variety such as the Stone. Thin out the plants so that they will become stocky by the time they are transplanted in late July. It is advisable to have plants that are at least 6 inches tall, as the large plants stand transplanting in mid-summer very much better than the small ones. Plants 6 or 8 inches tall should be set three-fourths of their length in the soil.

Plant tomatoes in an open furrow rather than on a bed; fertilize them liberally with well decomposed stable manure, applied in the drill and a complete fertilizer analyzing about 8 percent phosphoric acid, 4 percent nitrogen and 4 percent potash at the rate of 1000 pounds per acre. The rows should be four feet apart and the plants set 3 feet apart in the row.

In transplanting the tomatoes use a liberal quantity of water around the roots of the plants, and take care that dry soil is drawn about each plant after it has been watered, to prevent the soil from baking around the plant.

Women Should Enroll.

It is important that every woman of voting age should enroll in the Democratic club nearest her place of residence in order that she may be qualified to cast a vote in the primary elections to be held this fall. As it is said by County Chairman Howell, in notice published this week, it will give that section of the county undue advantage whose women enroll, if there are other sections where they do not enroll in the same proportion. Women may not have liked the idea of having the ballot, but since they have it, it is their duty to use it.

The Press and Standard wishes to urge the women of the county to scan the life and history of the men who offer for election and if they ring true to vote for them, otherwise to cast their ballots for those who come nearest their ideals. It will be well for every voter to remember that a man does not become a good man after he offers for office. He can not make goodness in a night. It takes a lifetime to grow a really good man, and one whom it will do to trust. The oily and smooth tongued politician may not be the best man for the job. The women will learn, however, as we believe they are apt pupils in the political lessons of the times.

The thing about which we are concerned now is that all the voters of the county, men and women, enroll and vote.—Walterboro Press and Standard.

Indigestion

Many persons, otherwise vigorous and healthy, are bothered occasionally with indigestion. The effects of a disordered stomach on the system are dangerous, and prompt treatment of indigestion is important. "The only medicine I have needed has been something to aid digestion and clean the liver," writes Mr. Fred Ashby, a McKinney, Texas, farmer. "My medicine is for indigestion and stomach trouble of any kind. I have never found anything that touches the spot, like Black-Draught. I take it in broken doses after meals. For a long time I tried pills, which griped and didn't give the good results. Black-Draught liver medicine is easy to take, easy to keep, inexpensive.

Theford's
