Under the law the tax of two cents a gallon on gasoline is divided 50-50 between the counties and the state, the amount to the counties to be used exclusively for road purposes. Each county gets a proportionate share in the fund according to the ratio of the collection in the county to total in the state and the ratio of the assessed value of the property in the county to the total assessed value of the property of the state.

The tax so far has averaged about $72,300 a month and at that rate should bring in a total of a little over $700,000 for this year. The law went into effect March 1.

Candle Eggs to Make Sure 15th. They Are Fresh.

Do you know how to tell the quality of an egg without breaking the shell? All you need is a pasteboard box with a hole 11/4 inches in diameter, a strong light such as is furnished by a lamp or an electric light bulb, a dark room, and the egg. When the egg is held close against the hole the strong light renders its contents visible and its quality is indicated by the appearance of the yolk, the white and the air space at the blunt end. By comparing the egg with charts furnished by the United States Department of Agriculture in Department Bulletin 51, it is possible to learn the exact condition of an egg before it is broken.

Testing eggs by candling, as it is called, may not only be used by the housewife in obtaining fresh eggs for her table, but has also proved to be commercially practicable in preventing loss by separating for local consumption eggs that, because of cracks, wetness, incipient spoilage in shipment. Su'h eggs are suitable ecutive Committee, I hereby anand other defects are likely to spoil for immediate use, but will not stand shipping.

Candling as near as possible to source of production will not only save transportation and storage charges for the farmers who wish to buy and sell on an accurate quality basis, but will prevent the loss of a valuable food product. This method of conversation was tried out during the world war and the results have been so gratifying that many states have made it a permanent feature of their food-control work.

Department Bulletin 51, which con tains these charts, may be obtained from the Superintendent of Docu-Washington, D. C., for 40 cents.

Deeds Effective.

There is money and money. We are sense. A pound may be a pound, who-Treasurer Carter has sent checks ever gives it, if you are only going God. If these realms of material gifts become shrines, and they may be full or empty of mystic spiritual power. I have come to believe that, if a spiritual influence can accompany a material gift. In these realms of character the giver determines the momentum of his gift. If there be sacrifice May we in glory see, in the giver there will be spiritual power in the gift. I believe that all our offerings-of strength, or time, or money-have their virtue conditioned by the sacrifice which gave How happy ev'ry child of grace, them birth. And, therefore, by this Who knows his sins forgiv'n! reasoning, the poor widow may give more than Dives; the lesser gift may be more effective than the greater.

"You people in the United States do not half appreciate your wonderful prohibition law," remarked a visitor from a distant country. "You let the widespread wet publicity about the violation of the law blind you to the stupendous benefits accruing from it even partially enforced as it is. We from drink-cursed countries see the situation more clearly than you do."

To illustrate the impression the results of our law makes upon foreigners the visitor told of a man from Australia who had not been especially interested in the temperance cause until he had occasion to make a business trip to the United States. Upon his return to his city, he walked into the office of a temperance organization, then engaged in a wet and dry campaign, and throwing down upon the desk a check for five thousand dollars, said, "I've been in the United States and have seen conditions under prohibition. I want the same thing to happen in this country of mine, so here's my contribution to help the cause in Australia."-Ex.

Prohibition Enforcement Pays For Itself.

The amount expended in prohibition enforcement during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921, covering salaries, rent, travel, and other incidentals, was $6,250,095.43. The amount of assessments involving civil penalties, special taxes, and the ike, was $53,296,998.87, of which $2,152,387.45 has been collected. ## YOU AND I.

If men would cease to worry, And women cease to sigh, And all be glad to bury Whatever has to die:

If neighbor spake to neighbor, As love demands of all,

The rust would eat the sabre, The spear stay on the wall;

Then every day would glisten, And every eye would shine, And God would pause to listen, And life would be divine.

Of course your first responsibility is for prohibition over the four Holy, Holy, Holy, though the darksquare inch territory in front of your mouth. Next it is for effective and efficiently enforced local laws. Then follows your interest in state and national prohibition enforcement.

Prohibition.

Asserting that prohibition in the United States and some of the Canadian provinces has been "a big contribution to the spiritual regeneration of the World, Lady Astor said she heard it said that the rich in America look upon it as the basis and foundacould get drinks, though the poor tion of ninety per cent of the crime could not, but she added that she had not seen such a condition herself. She said special workers had told her the Salvation Army, social societies and churches now had a greatly re-

"The general sentiment seems to be that it is the rich, not the poor who really get the worst of it."

Lady Astor said the only anti-American propaganda she had seen in England was engendered by liquor interests that had gone into politics over the liquor question. She said prohibition had shown itself not only a problem of social welfare, but of clean politics as well.
