LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Hon. Walter McDonald was a visitor in Edgefield Saturday.

Mr. Clint Graydon of Columbia, spent Monday in Edgefield.

Rev. G. W. M. Taylor will preach at Trenton Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. W. F. Cothran of Inman, Spartanburg county, is here visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. M. Scurry.

Mrs. Ida T. Nicholson of the Elmwood section is a guest in the home of Mrs. Emma Dobson this week.

Mrs. Frank E. Johnstone of Georgetown is here visiting relatives. She was accompanied by their children.

The Epworth League will meet Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock at the Methodist church. All members urged to attend.

Mr. George W. Adams came down from Charlotte and spent the weekend here, being very cordially greeted by his friends.

Miss Elizabeth Rainsford left Monday for Blackstone, Va., to again fill the position as teacher of voice in the Blackstone Female College.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Barker returned from Georgia Monday, Mrs. Barker having been away some time visiting her parents in Georgia.

Mrs. C. T. Graydon and their children are spending this week in Edgefield visiting Mrs. Graydon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. McG. Simkins.

Miss Bessie Dunovant came from Williston where she is teaching to spend the week-end with the home folk. She is delighted with her work in Williston.

The Stork left a dear little girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Walker on October 6. She has been named Susie Tate for her maternal grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Grenaker and Miss Virginia Addison motored to Due West Friday to witness the game of football between the Erskine and Wofford teams.

Rev. Mr. Stewart of Augusta will preach at Berea church next Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock. The public is cordially invited and a full attendance of the membership is especially urged.

Concordia Lodge No. 50, A. F. M., will meet in called communication Friday night, October 20, at half past seven o'clock for work in the third degree.

At the conclusion of the game of football at Ridge Spring Friday, Mr. H. B. Salley, Parker Talbert, Edwin Rives and Misses Mary Davis and May Rives motored to Columbia for the week-end.

By an unintentional omission one of the brightest boys in the third grade was omitted from the honor roll last week. This was little Lovick Smith. We are glad to be able to correct the mistake.

Mr. Egbert Morgan has given up his position as pharmacist with Charles F. Bird & Company and has accepted a position with the Augusta Drug Company which is a large wholesale company.

The Corner Store, as usual, has things of special interest advertised this week for the ladies. Mr. Turner gets the newest and best of everything. Ask to see the new offerings at this popular store.

Several persons in Edgefield received invitations to the opening of the Rosalea Tea Room and Gift Shop in Aiken on October 17. It is being conducted on Hayne Avenue by Misses Bessie and Florida Harper.

Mr. Frank Logan will move his family to Limestone about the first of November to reside. He will however, continue to hold his position as traveling salesman. Mr. T. D. Barker has rented Mr. Logan's attractive bungalow.

Mr. W. E. Wash who has been making his home in Atlanta for the past 30 years is among the visitors in Edgefield today. He has been spending the past week with his mother and other relatives in the Rehoboth section.

Mr. John Bartley who is stationed in Washington, D. C., is spending a month here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Bartley. John is tall and handsome and as erect as Apollo. He has been very cordially greeted by his friends.

Mr. N. G. Evans has again been appointed special judge to hold court in Bamberg the first Monday in November. He is making quite a favorite record as special judge, having been selected for the fourth time within the past year.

In a personal letter Mr. C. M. Mellichamp states that they have moved to 644 3rd Street, where they have very comfortable quarters. Friends who desire to write to Mr. or Mrs. Mellichamp should bear in mind their new address.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Denby are receiving congratulations of their friends over the coming of a little son to be a part of the home circle. He has been named William Allen. There are now four generations in the home of Judge Kinnaird.

Miss Virginia Simkins has been selected by Attorney General Wolfe as a member of the engrossing department force for the next session of the legislature. Miss Virginia has served in this capacity for six or eight years and is regarded as very efficient.

Edgefield extends a very cordial welcome to Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Wright and their four children who have come to live among us, Mr. Wright having accepted the pastorate of the Presbyterian churches at Johnston, Trenton and Edgefield. They are at the Dixie Highway Hotel until the manse on Columbia street becomes available about the first of November.

Mrs. M. B. Hamilton was carried to the hospital in Columbia Thursday for treatment. Mr. Hamilton went down Tuesday to see her and reports that she is improving but that the attending physician is now of the opinion that she will have to remain in the hospital two months or more before being fully restored to health. Her Edgefield friends hope that she will be able to return to her home before that time.

Memorial Service.

Saturday morning at 11 o'clock the members of the Edgefield Bar Association will hold a memorial service in the court house to pay tribute to the lamented Arthur S. Tompkins. The meeting will be open to the public, and doubtless quite a large number of our citizens will attend, as few men, if any, have ever been more generally beloved in Edgefield than Mr. Tompkins.

Creamery Mass Meeting.

On the first Monday in November, immediately after the public sales of land, a mass meeting will be held in the court house in the interest of the creamery that is being planned for Edgefield. It has been a long time since a matter of more importance to the people of Edgefield county has been agitated. This enterprise should receive the support of the farmers of every section of the county.

Our Boys Victorious.

Edgefield is very proud of the victorious which the high school football team won at Ridge Spring Friday afternoon. Not only do our boys play a good game, from the standpoint of skill, but they play a clean game, deporting themselves as young gentlemen should. From their first contest of the season they have steadily improved with practice and by the time the season closes they will have a record to be proud of. On November 10 they will play the Fairfax team at Edgefield and our people should attend the game in large numbers, letting our boys know that we are interested in them and are standing by them.

My office will be closed on Monday, Tuesday and part of Wednesday, October 23rd, 24th and 25th, as I shall be in Columbia attending a meeting of the board of examiners in Optometry, of which board I am member.

GEO. F. MIMS.

Farmers of Edgefield county should sow a large acreage in wheat and oats. We can supply them with seed wheat, Texas, Appler and Fulghum oats at reasonable prices. EDGEFIELD MERCANTILE CO.

Edgefield Methodist Church.

Religious services at the Edgefield Methodist Church Sunday as follows: Sunday school meets at 10:30 o'clock, Mr. S. B. Nicholson, superintendent. Wesley Bible Class for men, Mr. T. B. Grenaker, teacher. All men invited to attend this class. At 11:30 Rev. G. W. M. Taylor will preach a special sermon by request—Subject, "Assurance, or How May I Know That I Am a Christian?"

Lower Ford Prices.

The bottom has dropped out of Ford prices, being lower now than ever before in the history of the Ford Motor Co. The Yonce Motor Company gives the reduced prices in its advertisement this week. Surely they are now within reach of every purse. By the way, have you caught any of the Radio messages at Mr. Yonce's office? He invites you to call any evening between six and seven o'clock and hear the concerts. He caught a message from Cuba the other night.

The Tattler.

The October issue of The Tattler, the monthly paper issued by the students of the Edgefield high school, is just off the press and it is an exceedingly creditable number. Miss Elizabeth Lott is the editor-in-chief and Mr. Amos Moore is the business manager. The assistant editors are, Miss Rhette Morgan, tenth grade; Miss Mary Lily Byrd, ninth grade; Miss Sara Hughes, eighth grade and Miss Mazie Kemp, graded school. Those who see papers issued by a number of high schools say The Tattler stands in the very front rank of school papers.

Miss Gladys Padgett Entertains Music Club.

Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock the Philharmonic Music club was entertained with Miss Gladys Padgett, when an enthusiastic gathering of the devotees of Apollo were present to show their interest in a greater music club.

A pleasant program of two numbers was given, Mrs. Thomas L. Nicholson playing one of Cyril Scott's Waltzes, and Mrs. A. R. Nicholson singing a Pickeninny Lullaby, with piano accompaniment by Miss Mary Davis.

Mrs. M. B. Tucker presided over the meeting, announcing the numbers, and the election of officers. The president for the coming year is Mrs. A. R. Nicholson.

The young lady teachers of the Edgefield school were guests.

At the close of the meeting a dainty salad course with iced tea was served.

Why the Decrease in Tuberculosis Death Rate?

The remarkable decrease in the death rate from tuberculosis is a matter of interest not only to the medical fraternity but to the laity. In the last fifty years there has been a fall of 77.9 per cent in tuberculosis death rate in New York City; in the last eleven years a fall of 51 per cent, and in the calendar year of 1921, a fall of 18.1 per cent. It is most important that the causes responsible for such a phenomenon should be discovered in order that health authorities and physicians may know how to combat the dread disease.

Dr. Haven Emerson, former Health Commissioner of New York City, and now professor in Cornell Medical School, New York, writing in the American Review of Tuberculosis of Baltimore, (June, 1922) seems inclined, in considering all the factors involved in this beneficent change, to lay most stress on the improved financial and living conditions of the poor including with this, decreased alcoholism and the lessened expenditure for alcohol. He says that it is probably not too much to say that in the next twenty-five years as great a percentage of reduction in tuberculosis can be attained as has been accomplished in the last fifty years, by adding to our methods and resources those which will build up bodily resistance by providing for and following a higher standard of living, and those which will diminish the hazards of occupation and of occupancy.

New Series of Postal Stamps.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Here is something new for the stamp collector. An eleven-cent stamp of peacock blue, bearing the portrait of President Rutherford B. Hayes.

The new stamp, the first of the complete new series planned by the Postoffice Department, will be placed on sale Wednesday at Freeman, Ohio, commemorating the centennial of the birth of the former president, according to Third Assistant Postmaster General Glover. The stamps will be available at the same time at the Philiteic Stamp Agency of the Postoffice Department in Washington.

The new five-cent stamp bearing the portrait of President Theodore Roosevelt will be available October 27, the anniversary of Roosevelt's birthday. This denomination is most widely used on mail to foreign countries, which prompted the selection of the Roosevelt portrait because of his fame abroad.

The new fifty-cent stamp will go on sale Armistice Day, November 11, as a World War memorial. It will bear the picture of the Arlington amphitheatre and the tomb of the unknown soldier. Others of the new series will follow as promptly as engraving and preparation of the plates is completed.

The thirteen-cent stamp has been dropped and the new fourteen and twenty-five cent denominations added. The series will run in denominations from one to twelve cents, inclusive, fourteen, fifteen, twenty, twenty-five, thirty and fifty cents, and one, two and five dollars. The portraits and other devices for the series are:

One-cent, Franklin; two-cent, Washington; three-cent, Lincoln; four-cent, Martha Washington; five-cent, Roosevelt; six-cent, Garfield; seven-cent, McKinley; eight cent, Grant; nine-cent, Jefferson; ten-cent, Monroe; eleven-cent, Hayes; twelve-cent, Cleveland; fourteen-cent, Indian head; fifteen-cent, Statue of Liberty; twenty-cent, Yosemite; twenty-five cent, Niagara; thirty-cent, Buffalo; fifty-cent, Arlington Amphitheatre; one-dollar, Lincoln Memorial; two-dollar, National Capitol; five-dollar, America.

Kathleen Norris, Noted Writer, Pleads for Enforcement of 18th Amendment of the 18th Amendment.

In Kathleen Norris, recognized as one of the most popular writers of fiction in the United States, the prohibition cause has an eloquent champion. She has enlisted heart and soul in the campaigns in California to secure the passage of the state-wide enforcement measure. She is speaking to large audiences, and everywhere her messages call forth enthusiastic approval. Her success is so marked that the anti-prohibition newspapers are devoting editorial space to ridicule and condemnation of her efforts, the highest compliment that can be paid to her endeavors.

In speaking before a large company of women recently she said: "I don't speak often. When I do make a speech I feel that I can be forgiven on the same grounds that the woman in the Bible was forgiven—because I love much. Today I am standing here because I love my country and because after a good many years of hard word, poverty, discouragement, illness—all the business of wifehood, motherhood, home-keeping—because now in these years I have a little freedom, and like many of the rest of you I have thought to myself, especially in my prayers, that I should be glad before I died to hand on to other women some little share of what love of country and love of God mean to me as a woman. We are all apt to look back into history and feel that in any of the great crises we could have shone brilliantly. We could have handled the work of Florence Nightingale—we could have been a noble Joan of Arc—but it seems to me today that as citizens we are facing an issue as great as any that the world has ever known."

The outstanding thought that Mrs. Norris drives home in her addresses is that the women must come to the rescue in this crucial time, and help to hold the law that has done so much to protect their homes and children. Her plea is to the mothers to live up to their responsibilities as loyal citizens in going to the polls and casting their ballots for the enforcement of the prohibition law, and to use their influence with other mothers, and with their husbands and brothers and friends to work and vote for men favorable to the 18th Amendment. One of her unique appeals to the patriotism of her audiences is made in these words:

"If anyone would be willing to tear down an American flag and wrap it around a garbage can, then he may consistently sneer at the non-enforcement of the 18th Amendment, but American patriots must not permit themselves to miss this opportunity for a patriotism fully as great as that offered by service at the front in the World War."
