

Office No 61
Residence, No. 17

Wednesday, November 1.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Mary Evans spent several days in Columbia last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Boykin are now occupying rooms in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Smith.

Mrs. W. C. Madden spent several days in Columbia last week with her daughter, Mrs. Samuel Hammond.

Who will win the most prizes at the Community Fair next Wednesday? Get your exhibits ready.

Mrs. William Hunter motored from her home in Laurens county today to visit her daughter, Mrs. L.T. May.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Sullivan of Callison motored to Edgefield Tuesday for a visit of several hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas DePass of Columbia are here visiting Mrs. DePass' parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Smith.

The Philharmonic Music club will meet with Mrs. H. C. Mitchell Friday afternoon, November 10 at 3:30 o'clock.

Miss Hortense Padgett visited her sister, Mrs. J. R. Timmerman on Sunday, coming by automobile for a few hours.

Concordia Lodge No. 50, A. F. M. will meet in regular communication Friday night, November 3, at eight o'clock.

Greenwood is making extensive preparation for entertaining the State convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, December 6, 7 and 8.

Our high school boys will go to Springfield Friday for a football contest. We trust that they will return with Victory emblazoned upon their banner.

Mr. L. T. May who has been quite indisposed at his home has been greatly missed from our streets. His friends hope that he will soon be well and strong again.

The Corner Store is offering all-wool serge skirts as a special bargain for Saturday. Read of these skirts in the advertisement this week.

The Lorraine, Augusta's newest cafe, invites the people of Edgefield to pay it a visit when in Augusta. Read the Lorraine's advertisement in this issue.

Geo. W. Scott, C. C. Jones, H. H. Sanders and W. H. Harling have been drawn as petit jurors for the United States circuit which will convene in Anderson.

The breezes from the Piedmont have wafted the information that a little daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Norwood Cleveland Saturday. The little lady has been named Natalie Katherine for her mother.

You can't read the advertisement of the Huggins Store in this issue, which offers so many good things to eat at reasonable prices, without wishing for some of them for breakfast. Try it.

Be sure to attend the Community Fair that will be held in the store in the hotel building next to the Collett Drug Store next Wednesday. It will be time well spent, being both pleasant and profitable.

The advertisement of Mr. H. G. Eidson, the Ford dealer of Johnston, shows what a great reduction has been made in Ford cars and trucks. Mr. Eidson can fill orders for any style car.

Miss Lillian Smith and Miss Katherine Mims motored from Columbia to Edgefield last Wednesday in Miss Lillian's handsome touring car. They returned to Columbia Sunday afternoon.

Hon. J. O. Sheppard called upon the State Highway Commission while in Columbia Saturday to confer with them concerning the condition of the Dixie Highway and urged that it be put in better condition. The commission assured him that they are endeavoring to secure additional funds for the maintenance of this particular road and that as soon as possible it will receive closer attention.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hart, Jr., and their little daughter are guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Jones. Mr. and Mrs. Hart are now making their home in Columbia.

Mrs. Arthur Childress arrived in Edgefield this morning to spend several days in Edgefield with relatives. She is always very cordially greeted by her Edgefield friends.

Mr. N. G. Evans has been appointed special judge to hold court at Bamberg for two weeks, commencing next Monday. He will leave Sunday for Bamberg.

Quite a number have heeded our appeal last week to those who are in arrears with their subscription to The Advertiser and we appreciate their prompt response. If you have not paid, will you not do so at once?

Mr. Abram Daitch tells The Advertiser's readers this week that he can supply the winter needs in wearing apparel of every member of the family and can also save money for those who trade with him.

Mr. T. J. Paul has just purchased the house and lot on the street leading to Trenton just south of Mr. Shive's planer and will move into it as soon as some improvements are made on the place.

Mr. Israel Mukashy announces this week that his stock of clothing for men and boys is complete and invites you to call. He also sells the celebrated Walk-Over shoes for men and women.

Mrs. T. B. Grenaker gave an elaborate course dinner Saturday evening in compliment to her guest, Miss Elizabeth Grenaker of Augusta. The occasion was one of unusual pleasure to those who were honored with invitations.

Mrs. P. M. Feltham attended the meeting of the official board and executive committee of the Woman's Convocation of the upper diocese of South Carolina in Columbia on Monday, Mrs. Feltham being vice-president.

Mr. J. H. Nicholson went to Columbia Thursday to attend a reunion of his class, the class of 1906 of the South Carolina University. All of the members of the class were present except one living in Chicago and another living in St. Louis.

A mass meeting will be held in the court house next Monday immediately after the public sales of land in the interest of the proposed creamery for Edgefield. This enterprise should appeal to hundreds of farmers and other business men. The mass meeting Monday should be largely attended.

The easy terms on which Mr. Yonce offers to sell you a Ford, truck or tractor, makes it possible for every person who needs one of these machines to buy one. Furthermore, they can get the use of the car or truck while they pay for it. Mr. Yonce's prices are f. o. b. Edgefield, all freight being paid.

During the fair weather of the past two weeks much lumber has been hauled to and shipped from Edgefield. The Morgan Lumber Company alone shipped out over 400,000 feet last week, which was a record-breaking week. It is interesting to visit their plant in Edgefield and see how well everything is managed.

In the foot ball contest between our boys and Ninety Six Friday another tie score was made, which speaks well of both teams. They will have another contest soon to break the tie. Our boys played a fine game and we are very proud of the record they made. William Hughes was acknowledge by everybody to have been the star player of the game. "Bill" is hard to beat.

As a tribute to Rev. H. B. White for his efforts and assistance in erecting the new house of worship, the members of Berea church have had a marble tablet placed upon the wall of the church with a suitable inscription. Recently Mr. Lewis Covar penciled the letters on the tablet with black paint, making the inscription easily read from any place in the building.

Saturday afternoon the members of the Philathea class of the Baptist Sunday school will sell sandwiches and Chero-Cola to raise funds with which to improve their class room. An attractive booth will be arranged on the business portion of Main street for the sale. Buy a sandwich from and take a drink with these young ladies, leaving with them all the cash you can spare.

We confidently believe that nine out of every ten who are in arrears with their subscription to The Advertiser could send us a check or money order today. If you are in arrears, will you not remit today? Do it now before you forget it.

Interest grows in the community fair which will be held in the vacant store next to the Collett Drug Store, on Wednesday, November 8. Get your exhibits ready by the day before and win some of the attractive prizes that are offered.

The Fall Invitation Sale which began at the popular store of Quarles & Timmerman last Thursday has been a pronounced success, great crowds attending the sale every day. Mr. Quarles has been very much pleased with the result.

Mr. Frank Reese has given up his place here with the express company to accept a much better position in the express office in Charleston, which was a well deserved promotion. Mr. Abney Parks now delivers express since Mr. Reese left for Charleston.

Mr. Elwyn Moore has been chosen as advertising manager of the Sphinx the college annual of the Citadel cadets. He was also chosen representative of the Citadel at the attractive booth of that institution at the state fair last week. It is an exception when an Edgefield boy does not make good.

Services at the Methodist Church Sunday.

Rev. John A. Holland of Greenwood will preach in the Methodist church Sunday morning at 11:30 o'clock. Subject, "Temptation." At 7:30 p. m. the pastor, Rev. G. W. M. Taylor will preach. This is the last service before the meeting of the Annual Conference.

Rev. G. W. M. Taylor will preach Sunday morning at 11:15 o'clock in the Trenton Methodist church.

In Honor of Mrs. A. S. Merrimon.

A number of friends were glad to be hostesses for Mrs. A. S. Merrimon on her recent visit to Edgefield, for her own sake as well as for the friendship they bore Gus Merrimon who was popular as a school boy, and who now is a leading lawyer in Sumter. Among those who entertained for her and her hostesses, Misses Mae and Ruth Tompkins, were Mrs. W. C. Tompkins, Mrs. P. P. Blalock, Jr., Mrs. J. G. Alford, Mrs. J. G. Holland and Miss Virginia Addison. Mrs. Merrimon returned to her home in Sumter on Saturday.

Much Larger Output.

Last week the Advertiser through a slip of the type stated that the quarry will very soon double its capacity and instead of shipping six or eight cars a week will ship twelve or fifteen cars a week. We should have stated that this number of cars will be shipped every day instead of every week, making the week's volume from 75 to 90 cars a week. Already the company has orders that will require ten months to fill and in that time many other orders will be received. Mr. W. B. Jamison, the capable manager, told The Advertiser's representative several days ago that their weekly payroll is about $1,200 for labor. This tremendous increase in volume of business means much to this community.

More About the Community Fair.

Since our announcement of last week, we have decided to have the Edgefield Community Fair in the vacant store next to the Collett Drug Company. Mr. A. E. Padgett very kindly let us have this building for this purpose.

Since publishing our list of prizes, the Morgan Lumber Company very generously gave us five dollars which we have divided into the prizes.

General admission 10 cents. Dinner, 50 cents, which includes admission.

Following is the menu:
Chicken salad
Potato salad
Ham
Bread Pickle
