Mrs. George W. Latimer of Jacksonville is here visiting her sister, Mrs. T. A. Hightower.

Mr. and Mrs. Tillman Pinson of Greenwood spent Sunday here with Mrs. Pinson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Peak.

Hon. and Mrs. James C. Sheppard, Mr. John Mims and Mr. J. T. Mims, Jr., were guests of friends in Chappell last week-end.

Dr. and Mrs. W. K. Lewis and son and Mr. and Mrs. Browning of Columbia were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Alford.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cantelou and Mrs. J. H. Cantelou motored to Greenwood Sunday for the day, returning in the afternoon.

Mrs. A. T. Allen, Mrs. Mamie N. Tillman and Mrs. J. L. Mims are in Columbia attending the annual convention of the State W. M. U.

Mrs. Raymond Rogers and her little children of Blenheim, Marlboro county, are here visiting her sisters, Mrs. C. E. May and Mrs. J. B. Kennerly.

The time is approaching for the annual Work Day for the orphanage. A reminder and an appeal is published in this issue of The Advertiser.

The November meeting of the Edgefield chapter, U. D. C., will be held Tuesday afternoon, November 14, at the home of Mrs. J. G. Alford at 3:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Oscar LaBorde came over from Columbia Friday afternoon to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Dunovant, and Dr. LaBorde motored to Edgefield Saturday.

Mr. Shields Johnson came home Sunday to remain for two weeks. He has been very warmly greeted by his Edgefield friends who are delighted to see him looking so well.

Capt. A. D. Martin of Hardeeville is the guest of Mr. J. L. Addison this week. Capt. Martin made many friends while he was on the Edgefield "run" who remember him very pleasantly.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Schroder of Savannah are spending this week with friends at Parkhill and Trenton. They are always very cordially greeted by their Edgefield and Trenton friends.

We are very grateful to those who have recently paid their subscription but there are yet many others who should come in. Please give the matter your attention at once, if you are in arrears.

Have you tried any of Mr. Huggins' big fat mackerel for breakfast? Only trouble is they give you such appetite that you may eat too much. See the list of good things in his advertisement this week.

Mr. Turner calls attention in the Corner Store's advertisement this week to the beautiful material he has for embroidering Christmas presents. If he has not what you want he will order it for you at once.

Rev. H. E. Wright went to Charleston Monday to attend to the shipping of their furniture to Edgefield and as soon as it arrives they will begin housekeeping in the Presbyterian manse on Columbia street.

Mr. J. M. Mays came up from Aiken and spent last week on his farm looking after sowing grain and other farm work. He had 60 acres of oats put in last week. This is a good example for others to follow.

Mrs. Lou B. Holstein left yesterday for Florida to spend some time. She was accompanied by the trained nurse who has been with her for some time. We are delighted to report that Mrs. Holstein's condition has greatly improved and we trust that she will return from the "Land of Flowers" fully restored to health.

A box party will be given at the Waycross No. 1 school house, Miss Lucile Brunson, principal, on Friday evening, November 17th, the funds to be used for school improvements. The public is cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McColl, Master Hugh McColl, Jr., and Miss Gabrielle McColl, of Bennettsville stopped over in Edgefield with friends Monday as they were going to Greenwood. Master Hugh McColl is attending the B. M. I.

The flower show in Aiken will be held in Titinian Hall Friday, November 10. The ladies in charge of the exhibits are Mrs. William Smoke, Mrs. Henry Clark and Mrs. Theodore G. Croft. Everybody is cordially invited.

Miss Jewell McDaniel who was called to her home in Macon about a week ago on account of the extreme illness of her father returned to Edgefield yesterday. Her pupils, as well as other friends, are very happy over her return.

The boys of the high school will give their minstrel in the school auditorium on Friday night, November 24. They are working hard on his entertainment and will give the Edgefield folk one that will be well worth attending.

Rev. G. W. M. Taylor left yesterday to attend the annual conference which is in session in Gaffney this week. All of Edgefield very earnestly desires that Mr. Taylor be returned to this field for another year, and still other years.

The ladies of the Civic League express themselves as being very grateful to the ladies of Johnston, Trenton, Aiken and other communities for the way in which they are patronizing the splendid community fair which is being held today.

The annual Episcopal Bazaar will be held in the court house Saturday, December 2. The Episcopal ladies are in a class all by themselves when it comes to holding a Bazaar and we feel confident that the one of 1922 will measure up to the very high standard set in years gone by.

Mr. L. T. May had sufficiently improved to be at his post as clerk of the board of county commissioners at the regular monthly meeting yesterday. His friends were delighted to see him out again. He will go to Columbia today for examination by a specialist.

The monthly report of the supervisor is published in this issue. Supervisor Edmunds is holding down the expense of the county to the lowest notch and in this he has the splendid cooperation of Commissioners Talbert and DeVore. The old county's financial interests are safe in the hands of this trio.

The Advertiser publishes a very interesting account of a visit by "Uncle" Rufus Derrick to the old soldiers' home in Columbia last week while he was attending the state fair. Mr. Derrick says he wishes all of the old veterans could visit the home and see how well the old soldiers are treated.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Boseman, and Woodrow Boseman came over from Darlington Sunday afternoon to attend the services at the First Baptist church on Sunday night. They were guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Arthur T. Allen. They returned home Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Jamison went up to Clemson college on Sunday to see their son, Thames Jamison, who is attending college. Miss Lillian Pattison accompanied them and on their return trip they came by Anderson college and had a visit with Miss Ouida Pattison who is on the faculty of Anderson college.

People seem to be indifferent to the things that affect them most vitally. For instance, although there were scores of farmers from all parts of the county here Monday it was impossible, for lack of interest, to hold the mass meeting in the court house immediately after the sales in the interest of establishing a creamery.

Misses Margaret Blocker and Emmie Broadwater came home from their school duties at Ninety Six to spend the week-end. Miss Emma Blocker also came home from her school in Lexington for the week-end. All of these young ladies are greatly pleased with their work this year, this being their first experience in teaching after graduating from Coker college last summer.

Mr. Yonce urges our readers to "buy a Ford and spend the difference." His easy payment plan makes it easy now to buy a Ford. By the way, Mr. Yonce took a 1910 model Ford in trade a few days ago and sold it right away to a man who is getting good service from it. Think of a car 12 years old still rendering good service. In 1910 that car cost $950 at the factory, while today the same model costs only $298 at the factory. The present low prices put Ford cars in reach of practically every person.

Great Bargain Sale.

The Economy Store announces in its advertisement this week that it will put on a great bargain sale commencing on Friday, November 10. Some very great bargains will be given in this sale. The Advertiser's job department has printed some large double-page circulars giving in detail the very low prices. These have been widely distributed by Mr. Jake Wynne, the proprietor of the Economy Store. Do not fail to reap the benefit of this harvest of low prices for dependable merchandise. The sale begins Friday of this week.

Sustained Heavy Loss.

Thursday afternoon Mr. F. F. Rainsford lost one of his large barns by fire. He had gathered his corn, peas and a large quantity of fodder and stored it in the building which was burned, making his loss very heavy besides the value of the building. Unfortunately he carried no insurance on the building or the contents. The origin of the fire is unknown. Mr. Rainsford was away at his saw mill at the time the building caught fire but arrived in time to prevent the fire spreading to other buildings.

Many Are Paying Up.

Quite a number of subscribers have responded to our request to those who are in arrears to come in and pay up their subscription and we are very grateful to them for their promptness. Our mailing list will be corrected by next week, showing the proper date to which all have recently paid. There are yet many others whom we have indulged in this season of financial depression who SHOULD COME IN AND PAY UP. We have carried them as long as we can. To publish a paper such as we are making The Advertiser involves a heavy expense and must urge all who are in arrears to pay up at once. We can not carry them longer. It is a small amount due by each individual but in the aggregate it is a large sum that we are carrying. Will you not, if in arrears, show your appreciation for our having carried you through these hard times, by coming in and paying the amount you are due on subscription? If you can not come to the office in person, send us a money order or check. Your immediate attention, please, if you are in arrears.

Community Fair a Pronounced Success.

As this is our publication day, it will be impossible for us to give a report of the Community Fair such as it deserves. Next week we will publish a complete list of the prize winners in every department.

Great crowds are going in and out of the store in the hotel building where the fair is being held and the great variety and beauty of the exhibits in every department baffle description. Mr. C. J. Balk, the florist from Augusta who is the judge of the flower department of the fair, says he never saw, except on one occasion, such very fine chrysanthemums as are on display at the Community Fair. He stated that many of our own people are amazed themselves at the beautiful display of fine flowers. The judges in the other departments were Mrs. D. R. Day, Mrs. F. W. Miller and Mrs. P. B. Day, Jr., of Trenton.

The ladies are serving a bountiful lunch today for the small sum of 50 cents, which includes admission into the fair. We are delighted that these good women who never grow weary in well doing are being so generously patronized.

"If My Ole Nose Don't Tell Me Lies Pears Like I Smell Custard Pies"

Such were the words of Whitcomb Riley's "Raggedy Man" as he sniffed Elizabeth Ann's pie-baking. Elizabeth Ann because of her great goodness in cookery came to be lovingly called Lizzie. Today the loving name of Lizzie is applied to that YONCE SPECIAL—

John Henry says "Buy a Ford and spend the difference," and Yonce makes it easy for you to buy.
