News Letter From Trenton.

Mrs. D. R. Day most delightfully entertained the Young Mothers' club on Tuesday afternoon of last week. Beautiful baskets of handsome yellow chrysanthemums throughout the lovely reception hall and parlors, and a glowing fire in the grate beat back the chill and dreariness of outdoors. The lady teachers and the wives of the professors, Misses May Harrison, Reynolds, Padgett, Moon and Mesdames Rentz and Bigford were honored guests at this regular meeting. After well chosen words of welcome by the splendid president, Mrs. Sidney Miller, a delightful musical program was given, at the conclusion of which Mrs. Day, assisted by Mesdames P. B. Day, Julius Vann, and Miss Laurie Moore served a delicious salad course with coffee and whipped cream.

Mr. B. J. Harrison, after a serious illness at the University hospital is at home again, to the delight and joy of his family and countless friends.

Dr. T. J. Hunter has returned from Johns Hopkins where he carried his daughter, Mrs. C. E. Graham of Scranton for treatment. During his mother's stay there little Charles, Jr., is with his grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Hunter.

Quilting parties are quite "the thing" in Trenton. The D. A. R. have just finished a quilt and sent it to the D. A. R. school at Tamasee. Also the Episcopal Guild and Baptist Missionary society are quilting one for their respective orphanages.

Mrs. Julius Vann was hostess to the Kill Kare Klub on Wednesday afternoon. Yellow was the color scheme, beautifully carried out in gorgeous chrysanthemums. Mrs. B. T. Horde, the honor guest, was presented with a handsome bouquet of chrysanthemums, and at the conclusion of the program a delightful salad course with coffee was served.

Miss Spivey of Columbia and Mr. Wannamaker of Orangeburg were week-end guests of Miss Laurie Moore.

Rev. Mr. Fuller who has been conducting a meeting at Johnston held a most inspiring service at Ebenezer Baptist church last Sunday afternoon.

Not alone the Methodist church, but all Trenton is delighted to learn that the Rev. G. W. M. Taylor has been sent back to his charge.

On Wednesday evening at 7:30 a neighborhood Bible study class will be organized at the Presbyterian church under the leadership of Mrs. Swaney of Nashville, who is spending the winter at "Pine House" with her daughter, Mrs. Bettis Bouknight. This class will be non-denominational, and everybody, man, woman, girl and boy is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Susie Miller left Tuesday for the D. A. R. Convention in Spartanburg where she will represent the Trenton chapter.

Mrs. Wertz of Columbia spent several days in Trenton last week, the especial guest of Mrs. Julius Vann.

Mrs. Bigford of Madison, Wisconsin is expected soon to visit in the home of her son, Mr. G. L. Bigford.

Mrs. L. P. Bouknight of Saluda was the guest last week of her daughter, Mrs. Edwin Watson.

Be sure to see the side-splitting comedy "Sewing for the Heathen," at the Trenton School Auditorium Friday evening at eight o'clock, by local talent, under the auspices of the School Improvement Association. Delicious oysters, fried and stewed, will be served after the play.

Mrs. P. B. Wise entertained with rook in honor of Mrs. Horde on Wednesday afternoon. The handsome home was thrown en suite for the happy occasion and was a veritable bower of yellow chrysanthemums. Seven tables of beautifully gowned women gather to make merry with the happy honoree and her charming hostess. After several spirited games Mrs. Wise, assisted by her sister, Miss Sabe Miller, serv-

Mr. Whatley Writes Again From North Augusta.

Editor Edgefield Advertiser:
 A protracted meeting and revival closed at our North Augusta Baptist church last Wednesday night with an addition to the membership of 49 souls. Pastor Surles was assisted by Dr. Lambroux, of Ridgeway, S. C. Dr. Lambroux is an evangelist and preaches with great convincing power. In addition to the 49 members, the entire membership seemed to be greatly revived.

E. L. Scott, state constable received several letters from persons in Edgefield county since I last wrote to your paper, beseeching him to go into the county and break up liquor stills and capture all who make and sell the "vile stuff." These persons gave the names of several white men who were making it and the lands on which it is being made.

In this connection I will state that if Scott does not act as promptly as these good people think he should, just put it down to the cause that he is unable to keep his car in running condition and gas in it, for he it known that his work is gratis to the state and also, to the fact that it is hard for him to find anyone who is willing to go with him without compensation.

Since I last wrote Scott captured Ben Thomas, an old negro bootlegger and his whiskey in North Augusta. Ben Thomas is the old fiddler who formerly played for all the big dances at Lanham's and Mathis' Springs in the long ago when these annual picnics and barbecues were held. Many of your readers will remember old Ben the fiddler.

Some North Augusta boys and girls went 'possum hunting. A young man meant to give them a scare. He went into the woods equipped for that purpose. The dogs got after him and ran him up a tree. The tree being too large to cut down a negro boy was sent up to shake the "possum" down. The "possum" threw his cap at the boy and the boy turned lose and fell to the ground. Thereupon, one of the young men shot up the tree and cut leaves near the "possum's" ear. The "possum" turned lose the body of the tree and came down trimming the tree as he came, scaring dogs and girls into a run for life. After the excitement subsided to a degree a large frying size girl told the "possum" what she thought of such conduct and then fainted. The above is true even though I told it.

I would say to all your readers who are anxious to break up distilling and bootlegging in Edgefield county, to report not only to Ernest L. Scott of this place, but to George C. Bowen, Federal Prohibition Director, Greenville, S. C. Give him as near as possible the location of stills and who you think are running them; also who is running them. And then the first opportunity Mr. Bowen will send a raiding party down to see after the gents. I know he will do it for I have tried him—had a still pulled in McCormick county and is having the man prosecuted.

Crouch-Horde.

A wedding of much interest throughout this section of the state was that of Miss Ruth Crouch to Benjamin T. Horde, which was solemnized at St. Paul's Methodist church Thursday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock.

The church was decorated with Southern smilax, stately palms and baskets of white chrysanthemums. On either side of the altar was a large cut glass candelabrum with white candles. The bride and bridegroom stood under an arch draped with white tulle in lovers' knot effect. As the appointed hour drew near, Miss Myrtle Higginbotham of Columbia sang "At Dawning" and "Because." Rubenstein's "Melody in F" was rendered by Mrs. B. W. Crouch, she having the musical program in charge. A chorus consisting of Misses Lucile and Edna Reames, Aline Trout, Eva Sue Etheredge, Mesdames J. H. Jennings and W. H. Crawford sang the wedding march from Lohengrin.

Misses Perrine Crouch and Lida Lewis, candle bearers, came in first, followed by the ushers, E. W. Crouch of Columbia, brother of the bride, Ed. Harrison of Trenton, A. H. Day of Newberry and Dr. Morrall of Trenton. Next came Carroll Marion Crouch, nephew of the bride, carrying the ring in the heart of a white chrysanthemum. Following came the maid of honor, Miss Sabe Miller of Trenton, and the dame of honor, Mrs. C. J. Ramage, sister of the bride. Just preceding the bride came the two dainty little flower girls, Mildred Matheny and Imogene Posey, dressed in white organdie.

The bride entered on the arm of her brother, M. C. Crouch, of Hartsville, by whom she was given in marriage. They were met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, William Wise, of Trenton. The impressive ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. L. Singleton, pastor of the bride. During the ceremony Miss Floride Crouch rendered "Sousvenir" on the violin and Mendelssohn's wedding march was played as the party left the church.

The bride was clad in a handsome gown of silver cloth trimmed in lace and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses.

The numerous and handsome gifts received by the bride and bridegroom attested to the popularity of the couple.

The bride is a graduate of Winthrop college, a splendid musician, and has been stenographer in the law office of Crouch & Ramage here for the past few years. She is a young woman of attractive personality and has endeared herself to many, who wish her a life of much happiness. Mr. Horde is the popular cashier of the Bank of Trenton, where he will take his bride to make their home.—Saluda Standard.

New Dog Tax Law.

For the benefit of all who own dogs I give below the law applying to tax on same:

"Dog tax is payable during January of each year. February 1 is last day of payment. A dog is liable to this tax if six months old or older on January 1. A dog born on June 30, 1922, is liable to the tax January, 1923.

"This tax is in lieu of all other taxes or licenses on dogs, either county, municipal or otherwise.

"Dog license tax payable January, 1923, the tag issued by the treasurer should bear this inscription, 'Dog license, 1923.' It should show the serial number and name of county.

"Tax not to be charged on auditor's duplicate nor carried on the ordinary tax receipt. Separate receipts are necessary.

"Do not turn this tax over to the sheriff for collection. Non-payment is a misdemeanor and punishable by fine or imprisonment. See Sec. 4 of said act.

"It is the duty of school trustees of each district to see that this tax is collected. The treasurer is to retain 25 cents for each tag sold to reimburse him for keeping the records and paying for the tags. The county pays for printing the receipts."

The above is the law as it now stands. For the convenience of the public I have arranged with the treasurer to allow trustees to handle the tags and make collections. In this way each district will receive all dog tax money paid therein. Purchase your tags from your own trustees, and we can keep the records straight on this money.
