LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Look at the label on your paper and see how your subscription stands.

Miss Mary Jeffers of Graniteville, is spending some time with her sister, Mrs. T. J. Paul.

Mrs. J. T. Matthews of Mooresville, N. C., has been for a visit to her sister, Mrs. Rudisill.

Read the list of good things announced in Mr. Huggins' advertisement this week. You will want to order some of them.

Mrs. Moss and Mrs. Patterson were guests of Mrs. J. G. Holland, president of the Civic League during their stay in Edgefield.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Allen of Fruit Hill, accompanied by their two dear little children, were among the visitors in Edgefield Friday.

Mr. W. E. Lynch of Rowland, N. C., spent several days here last week visiting his mother, Mrs. Kate Lynch, and brother, Mr. W. C. Lynch.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Herlong's Cash Garage of Johnston this week. Mr. Herlong's prices are reasonable and he guarantees all work to give satisfaction.

Mrs. Hal Beman of Augusta and beautiful little Hal, Jr., are spending this week in Edgefield with Grandfather and Grandmother Key.

Yes, if you want a leather collar we have it. 1912 prices, full kip, $4.25 and some cheaper.

BETTIS CANTELOU.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Medlock came to Edgefield this morning to attend the funeral of Wallace Prescott at 11 o'clock at the Baptist church.

There will be smutted faces but no "smutty" jokes in the Opera House Friday night. Nevertheless, everyone of them will provoke a hearty laugh.

The fellow who goes to the opera house Friday night and does not at least half way "split his sides" with laughter will be given his money back.

Mr. T. A. Hightower has withdrawn from the pedestrian class, having purchased a Packard car of the latest model while in Augusta recently.

Miss Mary Dorn came over from Columbia to spend the week-end under the parental roof. She is always very cordially welcomed by her Edgefield friends.

The Opera House should be jammed and crammed with people Friday night to see the Baraca minstrel. The miscellaneous program will appeal to and satisfy all ages.

Ex-Gov. J. C. Sheppard went to Columbia Tuesday to serve on the supreme bench in lieu of Associate Justice Cothran. To be chosen for so important a duty is a distinct honor.

Mr. N. K. Reed of the Ford Motor Company of Charlotte is in Edgefield today paying a visit to the Yonce Motor Company, which is easily one of the best equipped Ford agencies in the state.

Judge J. W. DeVore participated in an en banc session of the supreme court Monday when a case of unusual importance was before the highest tribunal in the commonwealth for consideration.

The Norris Millinery Company of Johnston offers pattern hats, sport hats and children's hats at a sacrifice. Read their advertisement in this issue. An opportunity is offered to get a great bargain in millinery.

The November issue of the Edgefield high school paper, "The Tatler," was published early this week and is a very creditable number. The stories and original articles by the high school students are very fine.

After making improvements on the property which he recently purchased on the street leading to Trenton Mr. Paul now occupies it as his permanent home. Mr. and Mrs. Paul's new home is very desirably located.

See our check lines 16 feet long, 1 1/8 inches wide, best leather, $4.25.

BETTIS CANTELOU.

"They say" that some fellows are so eager to shoot at "Bob White" that they are sneaking around violating the game law. A man who deliberately violates this law or any other law is not as good citizen as he should be.

A combined prayer meeting and thanksgiving service will be held at the Baptist church next Wednesday night. Special music will be arranged and there will be several talks in addition to that of the pastor. The public is invited.

Hauling by truck increases steadily in this section. People have learned the advantages and the economy of this means of hauling. The Yonce Motor Company has a shipment of Ford trucks on hand and can fill orders today. If you need one see Mr. Yonce at once. He can make you very easy terms on a truck or automobile.

On Tuesday evening at the lovely tea room of Misses Mae and Grace Tompkins an informal tea was served in honor of Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Moss, at which the following ladies were seated: Mrs. Mamie N. Tillman, Mrs. J. G. Edwards, Mrs. W. L. Dunovant, Sr., Mrs. P. M. Feltham, Mrs. A. E. Padgett and the hostess, Mrs. J. G. Holland.

The people of the town should turn out not by scores but by hundreds to witness the game of football Friday afternoon between the McCormick high school team and our home boys. Were we modern, up-to-date sports we would bet heavily on the manly set of boys of the Edgefield high school. Inspire and encourage them by your hearty yells Friday afternoon.

Mr. Stalcup to Leave.

The many friend of Mr. D. L. Stalcup deeply regret that he has given up his position with the Addison Mills to accept a similar position with a larger mill in Honea Path, his home town. He will leave the latter part of this week for his new field of labor. Mr. Stalcup's removal will necessitate a municipal election to elect a warden from that district to succeed him.

Winthrop Daughters Meet.

A delightful gathering of Edgefield's Winthrop Daughters met with their president, Mrs. W. C. Tompkins on Saturday afternoon. Among the interesting features of the program was a composite letter from the Winthrop girls which the alumnae at Edgefield greatly enjoyed. The Daughters are planning very interesting programs for the winter months. A message was read from Dr. Kinard who is greatly beloved by Winthrop Daughters.

At the close of the meeting tea and sandwiches were served.

Covar-Turner.

Magistrate-Elect George W. Turner has not only been successful in the political arena but he has likewise been successful in the matrimonial field, having claimed Miss Elsie Covar, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Covar, as his bride Saturday afternoon, November 11. The bride has been making a splendid record in the Edgefield High School until Cupid interfered with her school work. Mr. and Mrs. Turner are making their home just beyond the eastern edge of town on the highway leading to Johnston. The Advertiser extends the best of good wishes to these young people. Mr. Turner will enter upon his duties as magistrate the first of January or early in the new year.

If you want a good team or plow, and for less money, we have it.

Modern Tea Room.

The Tompkins Tea Room has attracted considerable attention and is being well patronized. Misses Mae and Grace Tompkins have transformed the rooms over the Holstein garage into a modernly equipped tea room where meals are served from 12 noon to late in the afternoon. Special parties are served by appointment during the afternoons and evenings.

Two Contests Friday.

The girls' basketball team and the football team of the McCormick high school will come to Edgefield to play the basketball team and the football team of our high school Friday afternoon. The basketball contest will take place on the school grounds promptly at 2:30 o'clock and at 3:30 o'clock the football contest will take place at the boys' athletic field where the former football games were played. Our people should attend both of these games and encourage our boys and girls to win additional laurels on the athletic field. Basketball at 2:30 Friday on the school grounds and football at 3:30 on the athletic field.

Thoughtfulness of the Orphans

Sometime early in the summer Carolyn Dorn suggested to the other little girls who compose her Sunday day school class that they jointly make a quilt to be sent to the Connie Maxwell Orphanage from their class. The other little girls heartily agreed and each set about to make a block or "square" for the orphanage quilt. All of the "squares" having been completed, with the name of the maker embroidered in the center of each "square," the little girls met at the home of Carolyn Friday and the numerous pieces were made into one completed quilt, which was a thing of beauty and it will also be a joy forever to the little orphans. Those who have learned of Carolyn's thoughtfulness of the orphans have commended her and her little co-workers in this labor of love likewise deserve commendation.

Program of Thanksgiving Service.

The Episcopal Auxiliary's November Meeting.

Mrs. David Strother and Mrs. Milton Parker, Jr., were hostesses at the interesting November meeting of the Episcopal Auxiliary.

The attractive Strother home, in its beautiful surrounding woodland scenery, with its fragrant old fashioned flower garden abloom with blossoms, was a charming scene of truly Southern hospitality.

The meeting was called to order in the spacious parlor, the devotions being followed by the secretary, Miss Sarah Collett's report of the October meeting, which was delightfully entertained by Mrs. R. C. Padgett. The president, Mrs. P. M. Feltham, conducted a program based on the church's new official "Program" as adopted at the recent Portland convention. In which the following goal is set for the parish: "Every member a worshipper, every worshipper a giver, every giver a worker, every worker a spiritual force."

The nation wide campaign of the past triennium was a splendid success—statistics prove that—but it only awakened the church to a larger vision, setting a new standard of service and blazed the way for greater and greater achievements.

After all business was finished, the guests were invited into the dining room where they were seated for a lovely two course tea.

A delightful memory of the genial hospitality of the hostesses, the blazing wood fires on antique brass andirons reflecting a glow on the pretty, old furniture, brightened with masses of autumn flowers, will linger in the minds of those privileged to attend the unusually enjoyable auxiliary meeting.

Hall-Loy.

On Saturday afternoon, November 11th, Miss Eula Hall and Yankey Loy were united in marriage by Rev. A. T. Allen at the Baptist parsonage. Our best wishes go with them as they go to make their home in North Carolina.

Just received a shipment of Tyson & Jones buggies, can furnish most any style you would like; not as cheap as ten years ago, but reasonable.

Little Adelaide Adams Celebrates Third Birthday.

About twenty five of her youthful friends were guests of little Adelaide Adams on Saturday afternoon the 11, the occasion being her third birthday. Upon arriving, the guests were received by Adelaide, assisted by her mother, Mrs. W. W. Adams, Jr., and her grandmother, Mrs. Carroll of Augusta, and delightful fruit punch served to them on the front porch.

The living room of the house was beautifully decorated, big vases of pink and white chrysanthemums being used attractively in the color scheme of pink and white. In the dining room, pink and white streamers were hung from the chandelier to the four corners of the table, on which the big white birthday cake was placed. On the cake were three lighted pink candles burning.

Many interesting games were played on the lawn from three until five o'clock, when the little folks were invited into the dining room, which to them was a scene of veritable enchantment. Here they were served delicious ice cream and cake. Upon departing each one was presented with a lovely little pink basket filled with pink and white mints, as a souvenir of the happy occasion.

The little hostess received many beautiful and useful gifts. This beautiful and attractive little girl was never so radiant as in receiving her friends, and quite as interested in entertaining them as a young lady of mature years would have been.

"Here Comes Dinah Belle of the Ball!"

Come to the Minstrel Friday night, November 24, and enjoy that "Dinah" song. Having supped on good things from Huggins' Store you'll get more fun from the show.
