A Rare Combination. When you buy a suit of clothes you desire fashion, style, fit and low cost. When you find out where this desirable combination can be found, it is reasonable that, as a sensible man, you will go there. As all desire such valuable information we will do you the kindness to gratuitously inform you that Mr. M. L. Kinsler's, Columbia, is the place. He personally visited New York this spring and selected every suit in his stock, and as he is a clothier of long experience and infallible taste, you can rely on getting the best goods ever offered in Columbia. He has surprising bargains for every buyer.

Tax Figures. The Auditor has completed his abstract and we get the following information from it:

Table with 2 columns: No. and Value. Rows include Horses, Mules, Cattle, Sheep and goats, Hogs, Dogs, Personal property, Real estate.

The increase of personal property over the fiscal year of 1887-88 is 56,610. A real property 4,210.

Total increase $60,820. The number of polls are 2,846. Last year 2,500. Increase 346.

Town Water Supply. One of our leading citizens has been in conference with the Town Council in reference to the feasibility of establishing a thorough system of water works in this place, and as an adjunct the organization of a hose reel company. The water supply is ample and on the spot, and by the use of a proper pump run by water power the water can be forced in a water tower of a sufficient elevation to throw a stream over any house in town from hoses attached to fire plugs located at proper places. If the expense was generally assumed by our citizens the cost to each one would be but slight, and no doubt the insurance rates would be materially reduced. What say the citizens?

The Stir and Bustle

Which continually prevail around Messrs. E. C. Shull & Bro's., Columbia, whether times generally are dull or lively, is easily accounted for. The reason is that their prices are always so low that competition only follows but never reaches them, and hence buyers are attracted from all quarters and as every one is a purchaser, why the stir and bustle necessarily must prevail. Low prices for the best groceries, provisions, etc., as well as for other things, will bring buyers for buyers are always seeking bargains, and no one can beat E. C. Shull & Bro., in giving them.
