Millinery and Fancy Goods—N. W. Trump.
Our Great Sale—J. L. Minnaugh & Co.

Sales Day.
Very few people in town Monday. The Sheriff sold the Shumpert tract to Joseph and Daniel Shumpert for $211.
The Probate Judge sold the Sam Leaphart tract of 39 acres to Solomon Taylor for $75.

Fresh Meats.
I will furnish beef, mutton, etc., at the market on Tuesday and Saturday mornings, and ask the liberal usage of the citizens in town surrounding country. Will also give the highest price for sheep, catfish, etc. Don't sell until you see me.
P. H. Conway.

Projected Railroad.
We learn from good authority that the line of railroad chartered years ago from Alston to Blackville has been taken in hand by capitalists owning the line from Monroe, N. C., and that they will push the line on via Winnsboro, Alston, passing near this place and on to Seiver, connecting there with the Blackville road.

Money Wanted.
The County Commissioners want to borrow as much as one thousand dollars for county purposes. They will borrow it all in one sum or in sums of $100 or more, as parties may wish to loan. As the taxes to be collected this fall are pledged for its payment the loan is a perfectly secure one. Seven per cent will be allowed. Read the notice of the Commissioners in another column and if you have money to loan see them.

Of Interest to Ladies.
It always affords us great pleasure to give prominence to matters of interest to the ladies and we do not know of anything of more interest than the fact that N. W. Trump, Columbia, has now in stock the largest display of beautiful millinery and fancy notions ever brought to that city, and its attractiveness is greatly enhanced by the extremely low prices at which everything in his line is being sold. Read his new advertisement, note his numerous attractions and then go and see him.

Almost Given Away.
Did you ever see in the columns of a newspaper such a startling enumeration of unapproachable bargains as are crowded in the space of J. L. Minnaugh & Co.'s advertisement this week? These goods are varied in the most recent styles and textures, all extremely beautiful and unexceptionable in low price; in fact they are the most startling bargains ever presented to the public, and you certainly will be most unfortunate if you cannot find the opportunity to visit their stores and secure the benefit of these unheard of offerings. Don't delay, but go at once and get your share of these splendid goods at prices so low that you will feel that they have almost been given to you.

We expect every individual who attend court, to come prepared to settle for his paper, and those who don't come can send by their neighbors.

Big Values.
If you wish to get the greatest value in every description of dry goods for your money, you should surely not miss the grand opportunity offered in the columns of this paper, by the "old reliable" house of McCreey & Bro's, Columbia. They have no dull time around their store, for the attractive and stylish goods offered in unsurpassed bargains never fail to draw customers when other stores look like vacation time. Carefully peruse what they enumerate in their new advertisement and don't miss being one of the fortunate purchasers.

McClure's Wine of Cardui.
The closing exercises of Lexington Graded School will occur on Friday the 12th instant. Col. McMaster, of Columbia, will deliver the annual address. The program is interesting and will be published next week.
An effort is being made to organize a Sub-Alliance at this place. Persons desiring to become members should apply to the secretary at this place.
The Government service has been terminated, mackerel, corned beef, potted ham, oysters, sardines, dried beef, pickles, fine parched coffee and best black and green teas, at the Bazaar.
Judge Page Chapin is in town Monday, making his returns to the County Auditor. He put more in the treasury than he took out. As he grows old he grows portly and dignified.
Our thanks are returned to Misses Alma O. Seay and Corrie Drafts for invitation to attend the closing exercises of Gaston College on the 18th instant. Miss Alma graduates at that time.
The wells bored by Messrs. Dickert & Meetze in this section have given so much satisfaction that these gentlemen will probably be kept busy in this neighborhood for some time.
Our thanks are returned to Miss Isabel C. Brooker, daughter of Dr. W. T. Brooker, who graduates from Greenville Female College, for an invitation to attend the commencement exercises on 18th instant.

Last year the Texas and Pacific railroad carried 1,250,000 passengers, and, strange to say, out of this vast number of people not one was killed or injured. During the past four years not a passenger traveling on this road has lost his life by accident while on the road.

Valuable Records Found.
A Matter of Great Interest to Lexington County.
In looking over the records on file in the Secretary of State's office yesterday Col. James G. Gibbs found a valuable roll of records, the discovery of which will be of great interest to the people of Lexington. The roll was that of the present century and it was supposed that all the records were destroyed. Those found yesterday, however, give the complete record of every deed to property sold during the years of 1817 to 1825. Those who have failed to trace their titles can easily do so now, and no doubt many valuable tracts of land can be made to change hands. State 29th.

Washington Letter.
(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
Washington, D. C., May 29, 1891.
Mr. Harrison has at last, it is said, braced up his backbone sufficiently to inform Commissioners of Pensions Bureau that he must hand in his resignation as soon as another man can be found with some political pull who is willing to take the place. Raun did the grand kick act, and has not yet consented to resign, saying that he prefers being dismissed; but he'll change his mind. They all do that way. When Tanner was asked for his resignation he swore that he would never write it, but he did all the same. It's easy to talk about being kicked, but when the big hob-nailed boot is raised they all get out of the way if possible.
Just as might have been expected, the alleged attempt to begin criminal proceedings against young Raun and his partners in office-selling has already practically petered out, and the District attorney, a republican of course, has begun to hint about the difficulty of securing the necessary proof to convict Raun or any of his pals, and the uselessness of bringing the case before the grand jury. It is always difficult to do that which we do not wish to do.
By the way, speaking of Pension Office matters, there was quite a farce played there this week. A man was tried for borrowing money, and Commissioner Raun, the man who acknowledged under oath that he had borrowed $12,000 from the king of the pension sharks, was one of the judges. Ye gods, think of that. It was certainly the acquitted, but a victim had to be found, so the fellow who got the loan for him from a Washington ten per center was found to be too loose in his ideas of the amount of interest that ought to be paid for accommodation loans.
There are piles and piles of crookedness all over the Pension Bureau awaiting the argus eye of a democratic Congressional investigating committee.
Secretary Proctor having given the War department several consecutive days of his valuable time has now gone back to Vermont to put in about ten days in looking after his private business.
If it be true, as is generally believed here, that the instructions telegraphed the revenue cutters Rush and Bear as to the part they should take in the present sealing season in Behring Sea, are practically the same as those issued to them last season to pretend to watch, but at the same time to be very careful never to see any illegal sealing Mr. Blaine must feel very thankful that he was not here when they were issued.
The Attorney General has gone to the Secretary of the Treasury, to a limited extent, by deciding that the last named official has authority to issue silver certificates against the $4,000,000 seigniorage that has been accumulated by the coinage of bullion. Mr. Foster has also, it is said, arrived at the conclusion that he can issue silver certificates against the $200,000,000 in fractional silver that he has been unsuccessfully trying to put into circulation for several weeks past. These are the methods by which the administration hopes to stave off that much dreaded deficit.
Mr. Harrison must have been reminded of the Conkling-Garfield trouble this week when ex-Senators Platt and Miller, of New York, each supported by a dozen or more friends, invaded the White House to engage in a fight over the appraisement of the port of New York. Mr. Harrison finally succeeded in making Secretary Foster temporary referee of the contest, and he got rid of the gang by promising to come over to New York and look into things before making any decision. When that decision is made, the side that gets left will jump on Mr. Harrison for satisfaction, and he will wish, as many as other Presidents have, that there were no Federal officers in New York.
Representative T. J. Campbell of New York, who is now here, is authorized for a statement that will have a very important bearing upon the Speakership contest if he is not mistaken. He says that it has been decided that the twenty-three democratic vote which New York will have in the next House will be cast as a unite in the vote for speaker. The
