MARION, S. C., July 3 .- If this had been a ball game instead of a campaign meeting here today its record would have been written, "Rain-no game-" But the candidates could not be fright ened by a wetting, so anxious were they to have their innings, look the dear people in the eye and see them face to face. There were about 700 persons who turned out to see the Senatosundry side accompaniments to the big political show. They were martyrs to their curiosity, interest or whatever feeling that took them there. They not only saw reeds shaken by the wind, but feit themselves drenched from head to foot by torrents of water from black clouds that hung over the town.

For several hours there was a terrific down-pour and the crowd and most of in a grove about a block away from any shelter, and the crowd were sensible enough to keep huddling together and crouching under what umbrelias were on hand, otherwise they would have been like drowned rats had they broke for cover. General Butler's speech was the feature of today's meeting. It was really a gem, and the big Tillmanite audience listened to him with such rapt attention that he actually seemed to have made severe inroads into the Governor's Marion forces. His speech was a combination of eloquence, wit and practical illustration.

County Chairman J. D. Montgomery opened the meeting by asking the crowd not to put any "injecting ques-tions" to the speakers and reminded them that the city needed money so that if any one misbehaved himself he would be sent to jail and made to "give up the stuff.'

I confess to very great surprise at the above. You seem not to realize the objects and interests of our primaries, but to have reached the conclusion that their sole aim and end this year is centered in the Senatorial contests. Possibly Democrats of the Western States are ries for a United States Senator, but as nothing more than gold bug Democrats usual these officers are elected by the and have never yet done anything to State Legislature, and it is to be pre-elect a Democratic President. Then there are candidates for the other State offices, for Railroad Commissioners, for Congress, for the Legislature, for coun-

Railroad Commissioner Thomas came in on the lightning express. He rehearsed his devotion to reform and quoted Trantwine on Civil Engineering, declared that the transportation question was a live issue and there was no better way to make the great engine of State strike a stump than to put unskilled men on the board of railroad commissioners.

Commissioner J. A. Sligb, of Newberry was the next speaker. He acknowledged that he was not a pretty man, but consoled himself with the thought that his wife contended he was the best looking man in the I can furnish the Governor with a cer- a massing of fighting men as has never world, though he could get no one else to sympathize with him.

Voice-That's right. (Appluuse.) Mr. Sligh-You know how it feels don't you? (Renewed laughter.) Mr. Sligh was a very bashful reformer. His reform was ingrained from birth and he could not be anything else. He declared that as railroad commissioner he had always risen above factional prejudice and had endeavored to solve all questions in an equitable way between the people and the railroads. He had just remarked that he was for unity among the people when time was called on him.

Mr. G. Walt Whitman spoke next. He took a hand primary to ascertain how many persons in the crowd had read the Alliance demands, four persons responding. He began to tell about how a straightout and a monometallist in Columbia had written to the Governor thanking him for supporting the South Carolina College, when it began to "pour down cats and dogs" and he suspended for a while. He was dead game, however, and resumed when the rain slackened. He was still discussing everything in sight when time was called.

Governor Tillman declared in his speech that General Butler had hollered like Tucker for office after 1876. He offered to join Butler in signing a request to the State Executive Committee to have a separate Senatorial box in the primary. He added that even if Butler could get more votes in a separate box he was going to get the legislators or there would be hocuspocus somewhere.

Columbia, S. C., July 2, 1894. Mr. S. A. Nettles, Chairman, Clarendon County:

Dear Sir: Your favor of June 30, In reply to the letter written by Senator Butler, asking for an equal representation at the coming primary election in Your expressions of surprise are as absurd as your ideas are narrow and parto feel sure that you do not express the views, nor do you represent the feelings, of the executive committee of your county or of the white Democrats of South Carolina, matters not to what faction they may belong. Many of your references to Gen. Butler are unworthy of you, but I dismiss them and credit them

Fom many portions of South Carolina I have received most courteous replies to Senator Butler's letter-from county chairmen, who have been in the who are no doubt just as true Reformers. Butler's letter to your executive com. mittee when it meets. The simple re-
