LEXINGTON, S. C., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 17, 1895.

Dr. and Lawyer Samps Pope has broken out in a new place. This time he proposes to carry the Dispensary Law into the United States Courts.

Senator Tillman, says an exchange, has accepted an invitation to deliver the address on the occasion of the laying of the corner stone of the new brick school building at Micanopy, Fla., on the 8th of next month.

The management of the Cotton States and International Exposition, which opens in Atlanta, September 18, and closes December 31, proposes to have a day for the reunion of the Grand Army and the Confederate veterans, at a time most convenient for both, and the occasion will be one of great interest.

Columbia is making a laudable effort to raise not less than $3,000, which is absolutely necessary to keep the State Fair in that city. An address has been issued signed by such well known and progressive citizens as Dr. A. N. Talley, Messrs. W. A. Clark, W. T. C. Bates, W. G. Childs, A. C. Haskell and Ed. W. Robertson, urging the people to subscribe this amount at once.

What are our people doing toward having this county represented in the State's exhibit at the Atlanta Exposition? Other counties in the State are moving in the matter and are organizing with a view of going to work in a systematic manner in order that the best results might be accomplished.

One of the best solutions for the accomplishment of a restrictive elective franchise is that suggested by an unknown writer from the Pee Dee section some time ago. His idea, as well as we can remember, is to allow every person, except those disqualified for crime, a vote, and then have additional votes based on a property qualification.

Great and thoroughly reliable building-up medicine, nerve tonic, vitalizer and

Blood Purifier

Before the people today, and which stands preeminently above all other medicines, is

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla

It has won its hold upon the hearts of the people by its own absolute intrinsic merit. It is not what we say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does that tells the story:—

Hood's Cures

Even when all other preparations and prescriptions fail.

"I have been afflicted for over twenty years with a very sore limb caused by bad blood. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and have been getting better ever since and can truly say that it is the best medicine that I have ever seen." ARBENA KITCHING, White Pond, South Carolina.

Synopsis and Comments on the Free Bridge Act.

BY J. H. ROOS.

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

You may be tired, but the free bridge across the Congaree is a living issue, that will not die, and that will be decided by the people in the near future in favor of the free passage of all persons; and thus will they remove the Chinese wall that so much hinders the free trade and civilizing influences resulting from an unrestricted communication between the different sections of the country.

This toll gate stops every person, and a tax must be paid before they can proceed—a subject for remark by strangers generally. Mr. Editor, no one understands all this better than yourself, hence, I feel sure that you will yet awhile kindly indulge an honorable discussion, if it be free from personalities and irrelevancies. In all I have yet said I have tried to confine myself to the issue and to respect the feelings and opinions of every person, and not an unkind word or discourteous personality has yet fell from my pen; nor have I shot Jonathan Kenison, of Bolan, Worth Co., Iowa, who had been troubled with rheumatism in his back, arms and shoulders read an item in his paper about how a prominent German citizen of Ft. Madison had been cured. He procured the same medicine, and to use his own words: "It cured me right up." He also says: "A neighbor and his wife were both sick in bed with rheumatism. Their boy was over to my house and said they were so bad he had to do the cooking. I told him of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and how it had cured me, he got a bottle and it cured them up in a week. 50 cent bottles for sale at Julian E. Kaufmann's drug store.

Closing exercises of Miss Estelle Langford's school at Cherokee Academy. Miss Estelle said the children did not have months for preparation, but thought there were oratorical talent in the school that would interest the visitors. The children had from one to five speeches a piece. Some were so interesting that I would like to have had them repeated. Miss Estelle held up a beautiful card as a prize for the best speaker. Mr. Milton Kyzer won it.

The clerk was called on to make an address, he spoke of Education being lasting, and the difference in education. The power of habit, and concluded by comparing people to flowers. Miss Estelle made a witty address. Said it made her sad to look in the faces of her pupils feeling it might be the last time, but told them of the grand possibilities, should they work and persevere. She brought up many of our statesmen and inventors to prove that destiny depends on determination.

After school was dismissed the music of the Kyzer string band got so lively that a couple of little boys began to tip the fantastic toe, which must have made the clerk think of Bishop Galloway's moral on lizzards dancing for he soon rapped for silence, and said, the trustees are now ready to give Miss Estelle, right and title for the balance of the fund due, school district number six, which she has justly won.

Yes, she has taken all our money and the hearts of the people too, (especially our young men,) and I predict she can say: With such a treasure store The light had of our; To paddle to the shore, Hard times come no more.

law for voters at general elections.

In case a majority of the ballots cast shall have the words "for free bridges" written or printed thereon the county shall be held to have voted in favor of the purchase or erection of said bridges, otherwise they shall be held to have voted against the same: Provided, that the vote so taken shall be construed as applying only to the question of the purchase or erection of said bridges. If the city of Columbia shall vote in favor of two thirds and the county of Lexington one-third of the amount agreed to be paid for either or both of said bridges according to the amounts specified, shall also vote in favor thereof, the contract so previously entered into shall be affirmed as to either or both of the said bridges, accordingly as the vote may be; otherwise it shall be void.

Sec. 5. The said bridges shall stand pledged as security for the payment of the principal and interest of the debt incurred for their purchase or erection respectively.

Sec. 6. The election for the purchase or erection of the Congaree or Broad river bridges shall be independent of each other.

Sec. 7. In case new bridges are built no part of the price shall be paid on either until the same shall have been completed according to contract and accepted by the County Commissioners of Lexington and the City Council of Columbia.

As will be seen the Act fixes $50,000, as the maximum amount to be paid for both bridges, but the act also provides that the City Council of Columbia and the County Commissioners of Lexington county may offer the owners of the bridge or bridges such price as they may deem fair and reasonable, and if such offer is accepted then a provisional contract is entered into, with terms, but in case the bridges cannot be bought for such fair and reasonable prices then a provisional contract is entered into for the erection of new bridges over one or both the said rivers. These provisional contracts with amounts and terms will be advertised for one month in the notice of election by the Board of County Commissioners, thus enabling every voter to cast his ballot intelligently. If the people confirm these provisional contracts then we shall have the bridges free, if not, why let us always willingly yield to the mandates of the people.

talent never was witnessed before in our law abiding community. No body was swallowed, though they made the echoes resound far and near. A change of venue will allow Lexington to hear some of the legal talent that has been of late edifying our juries here.

Cleanse the Blood.

Purify the System of Catarrhal Impurities and Cure is Certain.

Spring time is most favorable to the cure of Chronic Catarrh. Hundreds of letters are received, testifying to extraordinary cures. Wm. Mandel of Sleepy Eye, Minn. writes: "I have been troubled with chronic catarrh for thirty-five years and tried nearly every catarrh cure known, until by accident I was advised by a friend to give Pe-ru-na a trial. In one week from the time I took the first dose I began to feel like a new man. I kept on using it for some time and I am entirely cured. I have no symptoms of chronic catarrh whatever. I am 74 years of age and am sure Pe-ru-na is the best medicine I ever used and would not be without it in the house for anything."

The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company of Columbus, Ohio, are offering free, post-paid, two medical bottles of Pe-ru-na to all Catarrhal Batesburg Items.

To the Editor of the Dispatch: Our town is all agog now, the arrival of the machinery for the putting of it up, the advent of the Superintendent and his assistant, have combined to enliven us, even in the midst of these unusually dull times, and we trust with the hum of the wheels, ushered in an era of prosperity that have not been felt for a long time.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the cotton mill was recently held. The reports of the officers Col. J. H. Huie, President and Doctor E. C. Ridgell Secretary and Treasurer, were submitted, which showed hard work and great effort to further the interest of the enterprise. President Huie asked to be relieved of the duties as in addition to his other business that of President of the cotton mill was more work than one man should do, and thereupon Dr. E. C. Ridgell was elected President of the mill. The Doctor is well fitted for the arduous labors of the position, he is giving it every possible moment and his work in Philadelphia, Lowell and Augusta has proven his capacity for the position thrust upon him.

Capt. W. I. Woodward of Atlanta, Ga., has accepted the position of Superintendent and his vim and evident ability has impressed all that the proper selection was made. Mr. Ballard, his assistant from Griffin, Ga., has also arrived.

The weather of late has had great variety, wind, sunshine and rain all in profusion, cotton planting and farm work of all descriptions is being pushed vigorously.

The wife of Rev. N. G. Cooner, is much better. She has been exceedingly ill for several weeks. Ralph Hartley and Graves Cooner, have returned from Furman University, and are looking after the farm. Miss Gardner has come back from Baltimore.

Lee Gunter leaves for Poughkeepsie N. Y., today. The Baptist is still without a pastor. Rev. Mr. Percy of Leesville, preached for them last Sunday and administered the communion. The public debate at the Institute building last night was a brilliant affair.

The schools are progressing finely, and this is truly a centre of education.

Justice Hite's court is becoming famous for big cases. The Silver Tongued orator Douglass, of the central city, and the brilliant young lawyer of this town, are to be heard in the case of the late Mr. A. H. Goodwin.

Our local Bar is growing in popularity. Messrs. Mitchell and Strother are perhaps doing more business than they expected when they located here. Your readers will doubtless be astonished to hear of our bar. So few people in Lexington realize the magnitude of Batesburg that I am tempted to give you a small write up of our town in the near future. We have twenty stores, cotton factory, canning, two large mills and gins, three lawyer residents and five practicing physicians; a population of about a thousand souls.

We have been visited of late by Revs. Givens, Dixon, Percy, Boozer and Hall and of lawyers, Col. W. H. Folk and E. H. Folk, S. McG. Simpkins of Edgefield, Senator Eford, Col. J. Brooks Wingard, Col. G. T. Graham and Mr. Dreher of Lexington; also Mr. Douglass of Columbia and the non Professional will soon pour in in large numbers for a mineral spring of great value has been discovered here and soon we hope to have a hotel on the hill that will be the pride and comfort of all our people.

Boiling Springs Dots.

We are still kicking, though no butter has yet been churned.

The times are hard, still we swim. Everybody seems to be lively and hard at work.

The farmers are preparing, and planting. Corn and peas will constitute the main crop, for the agriculturalists here have learned to live at home. Five cents cotton doesn't pay, say they, and they are about right, still a few bales will be raised.

The turpentine men are at work and the woods begin to scent with resin. It looks like a pity to ruin good timber in such a way, yet it is for man's good and he has to live. After the resin is extracted it is usually sawed, thus giving to its owners full value. What will our friends do when the timber gives out?

After working hard all the week we attend church on Sunday to hear the gospel proclaimed and to learn of the meek and lowly Jesus in the Sabbath school. You ought to hear us singing in the Sunday school! Both young and old open their mouths and let come what will. I sometimes think of the famed Orphean strains as upward roll the swelling choruses from the lips of our people. If you want to hear some good music just come down to Boiling Spring church some Sunday.

In day school during the week and Sabbath school on Sunday, the children of this community are growing in grace and knowledge and are beginning to purify society. We are still moving on nicely with our school. The children are learning rapidly and love to go to school. Some of them have bright minds and will doubtless prove a blessing to their country. So called "Christian America" needs to be regenerated both in soul and body and to the rising generation she looks for her cleansing, her purification.

But while we are thus progressing, death also has been busy. Two precious lambs have been stolen recently from the fold of this "vale of tears," and their immortal souls waited by angels to Abraham's bosom to the God who gave them. Death enters palaces as well as huts, and when the summons comes we all must bow our heads and sustain our bereaved friends. Their loss is gain in heaven. O. M. ARNEY. Lewisdale, April 6.
