REMEMBER THE FACTS.

We publish elsewhere an account of the horrible and brutal crime of a negro fender known as Sam Hose and his awful and horrible death at the hands of a justly enraged people. The terrible torture to which the negro was subjected, to naturally at first, sent a thrill of horror through the breast of all civilized people and the brutality of his treatment was condemned, but as the sickening details of his heinous crime began to unfold themselves and the people understood the nature of it, the unanimous opinion is that no punishment could have been too severe for such a brute. Concerning this matter, the Atlanta Constitution editorially says: "The terrible expiation which Sam Hose was forced to pay for his crime will arouse a flood of discussion, carried on by those who know the facts on one side, and by those who do not care for the facts on the other. But, while the form of this criminal punishment cannot be upheld, let those who are disposed to criticize it look into the facts--and by these facts temper the judgment they may render."

An unassuming, industrious and hard working farmer, after his day's toil, sat at his evening meal; around him sat wife and children, happy in the presence of the man who was fulfilling to them every duty imposed by nature. At peace with the world, serving God and loyal to humanity, they looked forward to the coming day.

Noisefully the murderer, with uplifted axe, advanced in the rear, and sank it to the hilt in the brain of the unsuspecting victim.

Tearing the child from the mother's breast, he flung it into the pool of blood oozing from his father's wound. "Then began the culmination which has detracted the reason of the people of Western Georgia during the past week. As critics will howl about the lynching, the Constitution will be pardoned for stating the plain facts."

The wife was seized, choked, thrown upon the floor, where her clothing lay in the blood of her husband, and ravished!

Remember the facts! Remember the dark night in the country home; Remember the slain husband, and above all, remember that shocking degradation which was inflicted by the black beast, his victim swimming in her husband's warm blood, as the brute held her to the floor!

Keep the facts in mind. When the picture is painted of the ravisher in flames, go back and view that darker picture of Mrs. Cranford outraged in the blood of her murdered husband."

The jury in the Lake City lynching case, which was heard before Judge Brawley in the United States District Court in Charleston last week, has agreed to disagree and a mistrial has been ordered. The defendants, who are white men, are charged with having killed the negro postmaster Baker and his infant about a year ago, as they were driven from their home by the incendiary's torch. The prosecution exhausted every resource at the command of this powerful government to convict the defendants and all the eloquence, ability and ingenuity of shrewd and trained attorneys and a multitude of partisan and bias witnesses to accomplish this end. Indeed the case was pushed with such vigor that it really seemed to be one of persecution instead of one of prosecution. This, at least, is the way the conduct of the case impressed us. The government relied for conviction principally upon the testimony of a self-confessed lyncher who had turned informer, and the testimony of the other witnesses was more in the nature of a corroboration of the testimony of the informer so as to complete every link in the chain of circumstances by which it was expected to drag the defendants to the gallows. We are making no excuse for the killing of Baker and his child, but we do contend that the persons who are accused of doing the deed should have a fair and impartial trial and the crimes should be fastened on them beyond all reasonable doubts. The most sensational incident, however, during the progress of the trial, was the shedding of tears by the Presiding Judge while he was charging the jury and again after the failure to agree upon a verdict was announced.

There are somewhat mysterious movements which are surrounded by impenetrable silence in railroad circles in this State and rumors of new lines and extension of routes are flying thick and fast. A war between the rival companies is evidently on, and the scramble now seems to be for controlling the Northern travel, and each competing road is seemingly striving to secure the shortest cut so as to reduce time and mileage.

One year ago last Friday the war of civilization and humanity with Spain was begun. Since that time, however, the Republican party has thrown aside its mask and has come down from the lofty heights to which it soared at the beginning of hostilities and has degenerated into mere land grabbers. Alas! how the mighty have fallen.

A unknown negro brutally assaulted a Mrs. Silas Wallace, who lives a few miles from Greenville, in this State, during the absence of her husband, and made his escape Saturday. The entire opportunity was being secured by bands of white men, and if the negro is captured summary punishment will be meted out to him. His route is marked by horse stealing, on one which he travels until the horse gives out when he steals another and continues his flight. Our farmers should look well to the locks on their stables and the people should be on the lookout for the negro fiend. The following is the description of the brute as given by Mrs. Williams: "The criminal is coal, slick black, has very large prominent front teeth, is clean shaven, about 28 years old, is muscular but not plump, is broad shouldered and weighs about 140 pounds. Between his upper front teeth there are wide spaces. His soldier hat is scoloped around the brim, but she thinks it had no band on it. He had no leggings, his rough brogan shoes were well worn and there was a patch at the right knee of the blue trousers. He wore a soldier coat, but his shirt was a yellow and blue striped one, the colors bright but the shirt dirty. His clothes did not fit him well and his whole appearance was decidedly shoddy."

A statement, claiming to have come from Washington to the Charles ton News and Courier to the effect that Senator Tillman and Gen. Butler have buried the hatchet and have formed a combination to defeat Senator McLaurin with the latter for re-election four years hence. This statement bears on its face the stamp of unreliability and coming from the source it does places it beyond the pale of belief. There is nothing to wild or too small for some people to stand on the Senator in order to weaken him with the people and they dish out the vilest slander against him to accomplish their purpose. We would be glad indeed if it should prove true that these two will come together and heal their political differences for they are both good men and are in positions to accomplish great and lasting good for the State; but we don't believe that they have even thought of forming a combination to defeat Senator McLaurin. Such a course would prove disastrous to both.

It has been definitely settled to take the sick Governor to Summerville in the hope that the pine perfume breezes of that famous health resort will prove beneficial to him. He will stop at the Pine Forest Inn as the guest of Messrs. F. W. Wagener & Co. The South Carolina and Georgia railroad has tendered the use of a handsome private car for Governor Ellerbe and his attendants. Earnest and sincere supplications are daily ascending to a throne of grace from thousands of hearts all over the State for his restoration to health.

In the event the Government calls for more troops to shoot down the Filipinos, the Greenville Mountain ver wants the preference given to the negroes for the reason that they can stand the Philippine climate better than can their brothers in white.

Col. S. W. Vance, late State Lieutenant Commissioner, who was defeated for re-election by Mr. J. B. Douthit, has been elected State Phosphate Commissioner, defeating Mr. A. W. Jones, the present incumbent.

The wolf of starvation howls at the doors of thousands of men who are well to do and surrounded by plenty. It is in the majority of cases that it is not the lack of food, but the lack of proper nutrition, which is the cause of their suffering. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It gives energy to the appetite, corrects all disorders of the digestion, makes the assimilation of the life-giving elements of the food perfect, invigorates the liver, promotes secretion and excretion, and vitalizes the whole body. It makes firm, muscular flesh, but does not make corpulent people more corpulent. It cures 99 per cent of all cases of lingering coughs, bronchitis, throat and kidney troubles, which, if neglected, lead up to consumption. It is the best of all nerve tonics and restoratives. Kept by all medicine dealers.

When taken in February, 1898, with headache and pain in my back, writes H. G. Giddie, Esq., of 315 South 7th Street, Tacoma, Wash., I called in a doctor and he came three times. He said I was bilious but I kept getting worse. I took a cough so that I could not sleep, my being propped up in bed. My lungs hurt me, and I got so poor that I was just skin and bone, and I thought I was used two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it made me feel better. I would have said, "I saved my life!"

No remedy relieves constipation so quickly and effectively as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They never gripe.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has made a decision which, it is claimed will seriously affect the tobacco interest. In brief the ruling is that a dealer, after receiving tobacco from a farmer, is required to pack it in hog-heads, cases or bales before offering it for sale to a third party.

FOR NAMELESS CRIME!

A Negro Ravisher Burnt at the Stake by Infuriated White Men. Sam Hose, the murderer of Alfred Cranford, who assaulted the victim's wife and dragged her over the dying body of her husband, has paid the penalty of his crime by the most terrible death a criminal ever suffered in this State.

Hose was captured at the home of his mother near Marshallville Saturday night and brought to Newnan and lodged in jail Sunday morning. A crowd of 2,500 people took him from the Sheriff and burned him at the stake after cutting off his ears and mutilating his body in an indescribable manner.

Hose confessed the crime, and in his death agony said that Lige Strickland, another negro, paid him $20 to kill Mr. Cranford. As the result of this statement Lige Strickland was lynched Sunday night, and his body was found hanging to a tree about a mile from Palmetto Monday morning.

The awful scene at the death of Sam Hose is graphically described by a member of The Journal staff, who wrote the following dispatch on the scene of the tragedy:

BURNED TO DEATH.

Newnan, Ga., April 23.--Sam Hose was burned at a stake two miles from Newnan on the Palmetto road. The torch was applied at 2:30 o'clock.

At 2:40 a chain which held the negro to a tree broke and fell into the flames. The fire was put out and the negro chained again. He slowly burned. Before the fire was started both ears were cut off and he was emasculated.

At 2:50 p. m. Hose ceased his fearful contortions, and his head drooped upon his shoulder. The crowd cheered every contortion. Warning was given for men to shout, but to let him die by degrees. Then an eager crowd sprang upon him and cut out his vital organs. Men taking pieces of his heart, etc., as ghastly souvenirs of the terrible event.

While burning he confessed all the details and implicated a negro named Lige Strickland, who had offered him $20 to kill Cranford. On the way to the stake Hose was positively identified by Mrs. McLeroy, Mrs. Cranford's mother, and also by Mrs. Cranford's sister.

Hose was marched through the streets of Newnan, followed by at least 2,500 people.

"This is a warning to all negroes!" cried the crowd.

I left the scene of torture at 3 o'clock, and Hose was unconscious. He did not utter a cry, but several blood vessels broke from the agony of the torture.

Hundreds are now at the scene and Newnan is almost deserted.

Sam Hose was first put in the Newnan jail, and the crowd waited for Mrs. Cranford, who is in Newnan, to reach the jail. The crowd was very orderly, but such determination as is shown by 2,500 people I have never seen before.

The trip from Griffin was made very quickly. Sheriff Brown refused to accept Hose at the depot in Newnan, demanding that he be delivered at the jail. He was marched through the streets, thousands wildly cheering and hundreds in line.

Sheriff Brown and the captors of Hose, the Jones brothers, of Marshallville, put their heads close to the prisoner as they marched, saying: "Boys, be quiet. If you shoot him you will kill us. We are going to take this man to jail."

Thousands packed about the jail, and many ladies were on the scene, waving their handkerchiefs and applauding the men who made the capture. Nothing on earth could have saved Hose, and a regiment of soldiers would have been powerless.

Mrs. Cranford's arrival was awaited impatiently, and it was reported she was on the way to the jail. Sheriff Brown had been informed that he must deliver Hose to the crowd, and he acceded to their demand to save a wholesale loss of life.

The crowd blocked every street in the vicinity of the jail and clamored for Hose.

"Burn him at the stake!" was the cry on a thousand lips.

Ex-Governor Atkinson made a speech for law and order. When he finished the crowd yelled: "Take him out and burn him!"

Judge A. D. Freeman spoke for the law to take its course, and urged the crowd to leave. Delay and speech making made the crowd boisterous and determined. A speech was made by a Griffin man urging the crowd to take Hose to Palmetto. A train was asked for over the West Point road to Palmetto.

Royal Daniel. THE CAPTURE. Griffin, Ga., April 23.--Sam Hose was found at 9 o'clock last night by two farmers at the home of his mother four miles from Marshallville, where he had been in hiding ever since the day after the commission of his diabolical crimes.

Hose was brought to Griffin this morning and was taken from here by special train to Palmetto. There is no question about the identity of the negro. He confessed.

The two men kept their prisoner without telling any one of their capture until this morning, when they started for A. L. A. with him, taking him by way of Macon. They told those who questioned them that the negro was an escaped convict whom they were taking back to the camps.

But in some way the people of Griffin heard that Hose was on his way to Atlanta from Macon. A Griffin man went down to the Central railroad this morning, and finding that Hose was on the train, notified those whom he had left behind.

Hose was captured by J. B. and J. J. Jones, two brothers who live a short distance away from the house occupied by Hose's mother. They have known the negro for many years. On Friday, April 14, the day after the Palmetto tragedy, one of the Jones brothers saw Hose making way to his mother's home. Jones did not then know of the crimes of which Hose had been guilty, but he learned soon afterward.

Yesterday the Joneses decided to act. Accordingly, they went to the home of Hose's mother at 9 o'clock last night and captured Sam Hose without difficulty. The negro had disguised himself by blacking his face with soot, but was easily recognized.

On Monday morning a telephone message was received by The Journal from Palmetto stating that the dead body of Lige Strickland was hanging to a tree about a mile from town and it was supposed that he was lynched about midnight.

It was reported that Strickland was taken from the Thomas plantation about 10 o'clock, loudly protesting his innocence. Mr. Thomas, his employer, and some of the crowd defended Strickland. A trial, it is said, was held by the mob, with some deliberation.

On Monday morning a man came to The Journal office with a piece of dark flesh which he said was a part of Sam Hose's heart.

His name is J. M. Moss and he is an employee of the Fulton Bag and Cotton mills, Atlanta. A large crowd went from Atlanta on Sunday to see the burning.

THREE MORE MARKED. On Monday morning at 9 o'clock a telephone message from Palmetto stated that the mob, after lynching Lige Strickland, had marked three more negroes for execution, that one of them had been lynched since daylight and the other was after the other two.

His presence will be greatly missed in our lodge room, having been a prompt and regular attendant upon the stated and extra communications of the order, of which he was a bright and shining light. Charitably disposed, peacefully inclined and bearing brotherly love toward all, he endeared himself to us in the bonds of affection.

Nervous Debility

is often one of the most distressing after-effects of the Grip. It may also be caused by overwork, worry, mental strain or excesses of almost any nature. Whatever the cause, a debilitated nervous system means that the nerves lack nutrition. Feed the nerves and life will renew its joys for you.

The best nerve food, and the most valuable tonic (because it both builds up the blood and strengthens the nerves) is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Hundreds of worn-out, depressed men and women have been made strong-nerved, ambitious, energetic and healthful by this remedy.

Among the well-known men of the newspaper profession is J. T. Lawrence, of 443 Fourth Avenue, Detroit, Mich., who for the past eleven years has been at his desk every day. He says: "At one time I was in such a condition that my physician said I would have nervous prostration; that I would have to stop newspaper work or I would go to pieces if I persisted in doing it. I was destroying what nerve force I had left. I lost flesh and had a complication of ailments which limited my usefulness. An associate recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and I gave them a trial. I can't say that I received any benefit from the first box, but derived very good results from the second. They gave me strength and helped my shattered nerves so that I could get a full night's rest."

"A great deal of pain in the small of the back I attributed to a debility of the kidneys. For this complaint Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People worked wonders. Soon after I began taking them regularly, the pain ceased, and I felt like a new man. I am greatly encouraged from the results of using four boxes and am confident that the pills will work a complete restoration of my former condition."--From Evening News, Detroit, Mich.
