Mr. J. C. Marchant

died suddenly at his home near Hebron church, a few miles from Columbia, in this county, Tuesday of last week, at a ripe old age filled with the rich fragrance of a well spent life of usefulness and good deeds. Another grand old soldier of the cross has been gathered to his fathers. He was in his yard when the summons came to him to cease from earthly toil and enter upon that rest which remaineth for the people of God, and it is supposed that the immediate cause of his death was appoplexy. His remains were interred at Hebron cemetery on Wednesday after an appropriate tribute to the worth and esteem of the deceased by the Rev. Mr. Mann, his pastor.

Northern tourists in search of health will find Lexington one of the healthiest places in our beautiful Southland. It is pleasantly situated on a high and dry ridge; its climate is invigorating and salubrious and its air laden with the resinous perfume of the health imparting pine, is a healing balm to those afflicted with pulmonary complaints. If you want to go to God's country come to Lexington. One of the best appointed furniture establishments in Columbia is that kept by E. G. Cook & Co, where a full line of all kinds of funiture from the handsomest and costliest to the common and cheapest, can always be found. This firm is reaching out after the trade of Lexinglon and if the best furniture for the cheapest price on the most reasonable terms can get it, they will succeed. Read their advertisement, think of Cook when you need any piece of furniture and go there to make your purchases.

Miss Moore, of the firm of Trump & Moore of Columbia, has just returned from the northern markets with a lovely line of fashionable Millinery, embracing all the latest novelties. This is said to be one of the handsomest and cheapest stocks ever offered in Columbia. The homeliest woman, none of whom are to be found in Lexington county, will look as fine as a pretty dressed doll if her garments and millinery are purchased at this establishment. The stock is now open for inspection.

Leaphart & Drafts, the peoples' clothiers, are too busy opening their handsome spring stock and waiting on customers to change their advertisement this week. In the meantime if you want a stylish spring suit, fashionable neckwear and shoes or gents' furnishings of any description, go there and you can get what you want as cheap, if not cheaper, than the same can be purchased in any other market.

School Closing at Union.

The closing exercises of the school taught at Union by Mr. Lewis M. them. Smith, on March 16, was a pleasant and successful affair and was immensely enjoyed by all whose good fortune it was to be present and the little lads and lasses acquitted themselves in a manner highly creditable alike to themselves and their instructors. The singing was supurb. We have received a full program of the exercises but its length and the occasion having taken place so long in the past makes it undesirable for publication, so we cannot use it.

Died From His Wounds.

Mr Harry W. Shuler died in the hospital in Augusta, Ga, at 12:20 o'clock Tuesday morning from the effects of the wound he received at Batesburg a week or two ago.

Mr. Shuler is said to have been a promising young man and was esteemed and respected by a large circle of warm personal friends. He was well known throught the county and was connected by family ties with a large number of our best and most prominent citizens. His untimely and tragic death is greatly deplored by the community in which he resided and our entire county generally. He will be buried to day. Mr. Shelton F. Perry who i charged with having done the shoot ing, was rearrested last Thursday and is now in jail awaiting the June term of court. The Perrys have the reputation of being quiet and peaceable young men of large tamily connection, and are very popular.

He Studies to Please. The Globe Dry Goods Company of Columbia, is keeping abreast of the times and is on the top wave of progress. Its energetic and progressive business manager, Mr. W. H. Monckton, Jr., studies to please his numerous customers and has gathered together some rare and valuable bargains in dry goods and millinery which he is now showing to a delighted and appreciative throng of buyers. This being a department establishment there is kept in stock every article needed in the dry goods, notions, clothing, underwear line, in fact every thing needed in a lady's, gentleman's or boy's whole toilet and at prices which make competitors scratch their heads in amazement and perplexity. The secret of the success of this establishment is that Mr. Monckton has learned the art of purchasing and gives the benefit of his experience to his patrons. An invitation is extended to the peop'e of this county to inspect this stock.
