Crops. During our recent trip we noticed that in but few sections will anything like a full crop of farm |r duct; be made. The drougth, hot weather, wind and bail storms have played havoc with the farming interest. Fortunately the Fork harvested a large crop of grain. The cotton and corn crops are about two-thirds short. The same deplorable condition of affairs exists in almost every other sections of the county and the farmers are blue over the situation.

On Thursday night of last week v. were hospitably entertained by our old true and tried friend, Mr D. A. Richardson, and it goes without saying that we spent the time most pleasantly. Mr. Richardson is en of the Fork's most progressive and en terprising ci izens and takes an active interest in everything tending to the upbuilding of his section in particular and his county in general.

Friday night found us at the pleas ant and beautiful home of Mr. J. J Ballentine, who is o e of Saluda's most substantial citizens. His hon e is an ideal country home, and he is surrounded by the comforts and conveniences of life. County Campaign Ended.

The county campaign closed last week by the Salvation army invading the Fork and devouring barbecurd pork and mutton and slaying yaller legged chickens and biscuits. The Customers will please keep these candidates were all well received and given an attentive hearing. At Pine Ridge, where the last glorification meeting was held, the candidates had an all round hand shaking, each one of whom being confident that he would be the fortunate one chosen from among the many to serve the people in the office to which he as pired, and was jubilant over the prospect of becoming a pompous and b'oated office holder.

At this writing the election has been held and the hopes of some have been blasted. Some good men have been elected to stay at home This, however, should not be an occa sion for sulking and bickering as the election was but the voice of the people and they have spoken and se lected their servants or have decided who shall be in the second race Their decision should be final and the defeated ones should return to their various avocations with grateful hearts and bouyant spirits feeling thankful that they were not called upon to engage in the laborious and thankless task of guiding the cance of county. The successful ones should remem ber the pledges and promises during their term of office and religiously strive to make them good, and thus win the plaudit of well done good and faithful servant.
