Women are Like

Flowers. Healthy and strong they blossom and bloom. Sickly, they wither and die. Every woman ought to look well and feel well. It's her right and duty, but she might as well try to put out a fire with oil as to be healthy and attractive with disease corroding the organs that make her a woman. Upon their health depends her health. If there is inflammation or weakening drains or suffering at the monthly period, attend to it at once. Don't delay. You're one step nearer the grave every day you put it off. Women can stand a great deal, but they cannot live forever with disease dragging at the most delicate and vital organs is the r body. You may have been deceived in so-called cures. We don't see how you could help it—there is so much worthless stuff on the market. But you won't be disappointed in Bradfield's Female Regulator. We believe it is the one medicine on earth for womanly ills. There is as much difference between it and other so-called remedies as there is between right and wrong. Bradfield's Female Regulator soothes the pain, stops the drains, promotes regularity, strengthens, purifies and cleanses. It does all this quickly and easily and naturally. It is for women alone to decide whether they will be healthy or sick. Bradfield's Regulator lies at hand. $1 p.r bottle at drug store. have been deceived in so-called cures.

Savannah train of the Southern railriver bridge. The man had been crossing the bridge along with a number of other white men and several negroes. All of them were carpenters who live in New Brook land, but have been working on the houses in the village of the Olympia mills. It seems that they have been in the habit of walking over upon this bridge every morning. While coming over yesterday mornthey heard the train coming and all of them except Major Thompson stepped off upon the platforms placed at intervals upon the bridge Thompson, however, thought that he could reach the end of the bridge before the train caught him, and at tempted to do so, but when he had just reached the end and before he could clear the track the train struck bim. He was badly injured and was picked up, placed in the baggage car and the train went around the city to the Columbia hospital, where every attention possible was given the suff-ring man.
