Honors for a Lexington Boy. The following special to the Colum bia State from Chicago explains itself: "Mr. J. J. Wolfe, of Lexington, ismaking a fine record here in every way. Some days ago he was recommended by Dr. Coulter, the head of the department of botany, to the authorities of Oak Park High school, this city, without knowledge, to teach botany next year. This is a very desirable position and the recommendation was a high compliment to Mr. Wolfe. He has not yet decided whether he will accept.

Only a few days later he secured a scholarship covering his tuition and about the same time a scholarship to Wood's Hall for the summer. This gives him a chance to make a fine trip to the coast of Massachusetts and hear some of the leading botanists of the world during their six weeks' course."

Mr. Wolfe is a son of Mr. J. Archie Wolfe of Sandy Run township in this county, and we are pleased that he has made such a creditable record for himself, but it is nothing more than was to be expected when we remember the stock from which he came and the county which gave him birth. Lexingtonians cannot be surpassed in whatever they undertake.

From the Ella Section.

A correspondent writing from Ella says: The continued rains have delayed field work so much that it will be very difficult to clear the grass.

Some wheat and oats are not cut and nearly all that has been cut remains in the field. Oats are tangled down badly, and wheat is sprouting. Labor is said to be scarce in the Ella section and some hands are reported as leaving the crops.
