Pleased With the Improvements. Dr. Bunyan Kyzer, of North Carolina, visited relatives in this county last week and dropped in to give us an old time shake. He is a son of the late J. B. Kyzer and a brother of former County Superintendent of Education, J. E. Rawl Kyzer. He was much pleased with the improvements made in Lexington during the last twenty years, which made him feel proud of his old home. He was in the best of health and looked better than we have ever seen him although his hair is tinged with silver. He has an interesting family.

Dropped Dead. Mrs. Richard Moak, who resided near Rev. J. A. Cromer's, between this place and Columbia, dropped dead last Saturday morning at about 6 o'clock, at her home. She had been complaining of feeling bad but the symptoms were not of such a nature as to alarm the family and no one thought that she was seriously ill or that it would terminate fatally. No one saw her drop, but she was heard to fall and when she was reached it was found that she was past human aid and life was extinct. She was a young woman whose beauty of character and gentle disposition endeared her to all with whom she came in contact. Before her marriage she was a Miss Keisler. The stricken family whose circle has been so suddenly and ruthlessly broken by the icy fingers of death, have the sympathy of the entire community in their time of sorrow and affliction. As God tempers the wind to the shorn lamb, so may he temper this dispensation of his unerring providence to their eternal good.

PENCIL AND SCISSORS.

THE GHOST. Of our boyhood resolved itself to an old tree when we had courage to examine it. Manhood has its ghosts, which, to the man who has courage to confront them, prove to be as harmless as the ghosts of boyhood. One of the ghosts which scare a great many people is the ghost of lung disease. But experience shows this ghost to be very harmless. In cases almost innumerable it has been made strong, obstinate coughs stopped, and bronchial affections cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. And these cures have been wrought in many cases after the doctor had said—"There is no help for you." Don't give in to the superstition of a past age. Give the "Golden Medical Discovery" a fair and faithful trial. It always helps. It almost always cures. "When I commenced taking your medicine eighteen months ago my health was completely broken down," writes Mrs. Corn L. Sanderson, of Chambersville, Calvert Co., Md. "At times I could not even walk across the room without pain in my chest. The doctor who attended me said I had lung trouble, and that I would never be well again. At last I concluded to try Dr. Pierce's medicine. I bought a bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' took it, and soon commenced to feel a little better; then you directed me to take both the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and the 'Favorite Prescription,' which I did. Altogether I have taken eighteen bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' twelve of the 'Favorite Prescription,' and five vials of 'Pellets.' I am now almost entirely well and do all my work without any pain whatever, and can run with more ease than I could formerly. I feel that I owe my recovery to your medicine."

CONGRESSMAN STOKES DEAD.

Seriousness of His Illness Not Realized by the Public. Columbia State. Orangeburg, July 6.—The death of Congressman J. William Stokes, which occurred at his home near this city this morning at 5 o'clock, was a great shock to the whole community, though not unexpected; for it was known several days ago that little if any hope was entertained of his final recovery. He had been in declining health for months, yet his desire to serve his constituency caused him to forget self and continue at his official work until a short time since when he was forced by weakness to give up all of his labors. His private secretary was brought here, however, and attended to all matters of pressing importance. In the death of Dr. Stokes the State and country have lost a good citizen. He was enterprising and pushing, and in church and matters of State, he had drawn to himself thousands of faithful friends who will sorrow at his untimely taking off. He was unostentatious and faithful to every duty; and while it may be said with truth that at one time in his political career he had many opponents of his advancement in this his native county, it can be as truthfully asserted now, that at the time of his death there were few who opposed him, so closely had he identified himself with the people by his faithful service as a congressman. Congressman Stokes leaves surviving his wife and mother, and one brother, Rev. Edwin Stokes, of the South Carolina conference, M. E. church, South, and two sisters, Misses Anna and Lala. To all these go out the unfeigned sympathies of a sorrowing people. Until Monday the body will lie in state at the home of the deceased one mile from the city. The time for the funeral has been fixed for Monday, 11 o'clock a. m., at the Methodist church. The deputy sergeant-at-arms will arrive here tomorrow and the congressional committee are expected Monday morning. SKETCH OF HIS LIFE. Congressman J. William Stokes was born in Orangeburg county in 1853. After attending the public schools he was graduated from the Washington and Lee university with high honors. After graduation he taught school as principal of the Lincoln county, Tennessee, school for two years. Then at the age of 27 he decided to study medicine and entered Vanderbilt university for that purpose, completing the course. While at Vanderbilt he taught a school near Nashville. At this graduation he won high honors and won from among 38 contestants a medal offered for the best on a medical subject. Though offered the superintendency of a fine school in Mississippi he came home and practiced medicine for a year. Finally, the offer being bettered, he did go to Mississippi and took charge of the schools at Corinth, remaining there six years. Then Lincoln county's schools needed him again and he accepted the superintendency for a period of five years. At the end of the first year, however, he was called home to take charge of his father's estate, the latter's health having failed. Dr. Stokes soon became greatly interested in agricultural matters and fell into the farmers' alliance with his whole soul, first organizing a sub-alliance, then the county alliance, and later on purchasing and running The Cotton Plant in June, 1890. He ran the paper for some time. Still later he became State organizer for the alliance in its palmy days and was president of the organization for some time. In the general election in 1890 he was sent by his county to the State senate. From the senate he went to congress. His career there, particularly his persistency in the matter of the rural free delivery system, is known to all. In 1881, Dr. Stokes married Miss E. L. Landers, Fayetteville, Tenn. As teacher, doctor, farmer, editor and official Dr. Stokes was successful. COMMITTEE TO ATTEND FUNERAL. Washington, July 6.—The following committee has been appointed to attend the funeral of Congressman Stokes, who died today at Orangeburg, S. C.: Representatives Elliott, Talbert, Latimer, Johnson, Finley and Scarborough, of South Carolina; Small and Thomas, North Carolina; Andamson, Livingston, Maddox and Fleming, Georgia; Senators Tillman, McLaurie, Pritchard, Clay, Simmons, Talliaferro and Cartmack. THE FUNERAL. Orangeburg, July 8.—As announced yesterday the funeral services of the late Congressman J. William Stokes took place this morning here in the Methodist church beginning a few minutes after the appointed time. About 9:30 o'clock the visiting committee of the senate and house, consisting of Senator Tillman and Congressmen Talbert, Johnson, Finley, of South Carolina; Thomas of North

THE GHOST.

Carolina, and Fleming of Georgia, with a large number of the friends of the deceased, repaired to the late residence of Dr. Stokes, one mile from the city, and accompanied the remains to the church, where they were met by a large and representative audience of the people of the city and country and other parts of the State. If any other evidence of the popularity of the dead young statesman were needed, the number of the sorrowing people who were present at the funeral today fully supplied it. Though not a resident of the city, Orangeburg showed her appreciation of Congressman Stokes by suspending business almost entirely during the hours of the funeral services—the banks, drug stores, merchandise stores, public offices of the city and county and the post office and all other places of business being for the time closed, and their keepers attended the service. The large national flag which floats from a large pole near the fire engine hall, was at half mast. Deputy sergeant-at-arms Pierce of the house of representatives, and his assistant, Mr. Tucker, were in charge of the funeral cortege, assisted by the following active pall bearers: H. N. B. H. Moss, Hon. T. M. Rysor, Hon. C. G. Dantzer, Private Secretary Lever, Clerk of Court G. L. Salley and Mr. A. F. Fahey. The long procession arrived at the church at 11:15, the congressional committee named above, being in the first carriages, followed by the active pall bearers, the bears with the remains, the family of the deceased and a great number of friends of Dr. Stokes and his family, in the order named. The services were by request of the simplest nature, in full keeping with private life of the deceased. Rev. J. C. Chandler, the pastor of the New Hope congregation of the Methodist Church, in which Congressman Stokes held his membership, officiated assisted by the Rev. H. B. Browne, Presiding Elder, and Rev. D. D. Dantzer. The ritualistic services of the Methodist Church were used by the officiating ministers. The Rev. Mr. Chandler made a few appropriate remarks, touching upon the life of the deceased and his public services. The singing was rendered by a choir of good voices and Miss Carrie Dantzer opened the solemn services with a beautiful solo. The services at the church were closed by the singing of the hymn "We Shall Sleep but not Forever." The long procession followed by hundreds of sympathetic hearts, wended its way to Sunny Side, where the final ceremonies were had, and all that was mortal of J. Wm. Stokes were by their last resting place. The floral tributes were profuse and magnificent. Messages of condolence have come to the bereaved family from every part of the country, from friends of Dr. and Mrs. Stokes. The congressional committee and sergeant-at-arms all left this afternoon. A Painful Accident. Last Saturday morning County Treasurer Shealy met with a bad accident, from the effects of which he is laid up at home. He was making some repairs to the wind mill in the jail yard, and had the pipe which conveys the water from the pump in the well to the tank, uncoupled and had placed his left hand around the lower section with his thumb resting on the top over the hollow of the pipe, when the upper section, by some means, came loose from its fastenings and came down with a crash, catching his thumb between the two, and fearfully lacerating it from the first joint to the end. Mr. Shealy was severely injured and was given prompt medical attention. It is not known whether or not the thumb will have to be amputated. Mr. Shealy was taken to his home near Amick's ferry Sunday and reports from there say that he is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances. Mr. E. Lawson Amick, one of Saluda's most substantial and popular citizens, was in town yesterday and remembered the printer with his cart wheel. May he live long and prosper more abundantly.

Hartley died at his home in that town last Monday morning in the 52d year of his age. He was for a number of years the efficient depot agent and telegraph operator and conducted the business of these positions in such business like manner as to make himself popular with his employees and the patrons. He was the first President of the First National Bank of Batesburg which was forced to retire on account of ill health. He was a brother of Mr. A. L. Hartley of our town. The influence of these two men both in business and religion will be greatly missed.
