Pretty Grove.

The grove of hackberries on the court house square is making a fine showing now and in years to come it will afford a beautiful amusement ground for our people as well as a delightful shade for our country cousins when they visit us on business or pleasure. This grove will ever be a monument to the public spiritedness and progressiveness of Mr. S. L. Smith, during whose incumbency of County Supervisor the trees were planted.

Visitors at Dallas.

Many of Lexington's delegation to the veterans re-union at Dallas have returned and report having had a very enjoyable time. Most of them are well pleased with the treatment they received by the people of that hospitable city. After the re-union the following visited relatives and friends at the places named: T. S. Harman, Prairie Plains; T. C. Sturkie, Dublin; Dr. E. J. Etheredge, Denton; Col. M. D. Harman and wife, Tallapoosa; Rev. S. P. Shumpert, Pine Bluff; H. N. Monts, Sunset; A. P. West, stopped with his son; S. B. George, Howe; Uncle Ezra Snelgrove was treated for a short while at the hospital; Mr. Ed D. George having secured a good situation in Dallas, will remain there. Nearly all of those who went to Dallas have returned.

Dr. James Harman warns all persons from hiring or harboring John Bickley.

A FACT ABOUT THE "BLUES"

What is known as the "Blues" is seldom occasioned by actual existing external conditions, but in the great majority of cases by a disordered LIVER.

THIS IS A FACT which may be demonstrated by trying a course of

Tutt's Pills

They control and regulate the LIVER. They bring hope and buoyancy to the mind. They bring health and elasticity to the body.

TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE.

Fair Warning.

Information has been received that certain parties are using dynamite for killing fish in the Saluda river. We understand also that some of the parties who practice this unlawful act are known and unless they cease from their wrong doing they will certainly be prosecuted. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Odd Fellow's Celebration.

Last Sunday afternoon Dixie Lodge No. 52, celebrated the 83rd anniversary of the organization of the Order of Odd Fellows.

The ceremony took place in the court house and there was practically a full turn out of the Lodge, and the ceremonies were of unusual interest and very impressive.

Captain L. W. Redd gave a very interesting and instructive address on Friendship, one of the cardinal doctrines of the Order. He went into a detailed history of the order from its foundation up to the present time. In glowing elquence he depicted the beauties of friendship and its office in contributing to the happiness of suffering humanity. Friendship stands on the barren shores of suffering and throws its benificent rays across the dark chasm of despair and light up the way to the fair fields of hope. The hand of friendship stretches across the gulf of sorrow and lightens the heavy burdens of a weary brother and pours the oil of consolation upon his troubled spirits.

Rev. W. D. Quick followed in a well timed address on the subject of Charity, or as the revised edition of the Bible has it, Love, the greatest of all the virtues. When hope is gone and friendship fades and pass away Love sheds its refulgent beams to warm up the sinking heart and her gentle ministrations soothes and binds up the bruises and wounds inflicted by a selfish and unfeeling world. Over all it throws its mantle and invites the erring into nobler, purer and holier walks of life. These two addresses were well received and gave the uninitiated a clearer insight into the aims and purposes of Odd Fellows.

A. Gentle Hint.

In our style of climate, with its sudden changes of temperature,—rain, wind and sunshine often intermingled in a single day,—it is no wonder that our children, friends and relatives are so frequently taken from us by neglected colds, half the deaths resulting directly from this cause. A bottle of Boschee's German Syrup kept about your home for immediate use will prevent serious sickness, a large doctor's bill, and perhaps death, by the use of three or four doses. For curing Consumption, Hemorrhages, Pneumonia, Severe Coughs, Croup, or any disease of the Throat or Lungs, its success is simply wonderful, as your druggist will tell you. Get a sample bottle free from Kaufmann's drug store. Regular size, 75 cts. Get Green's Special Almanac.

Dr. Joe Vouches for This.

Last week Dr. Blue Mountain Joe returned a pleasant visit to Mr. Pat Bickley, near Hilton, and he says that Pat's crop of wheat and oats are wonderful ones, the stalks being larger than California's famous trees and each grain will fill a four-house wagon. Pat and Joe must have made a gay old couple as they are both "mashers". One of the amusements provided for the entertainment of Dr. Joe was an old fashioned break down, and the way the Doctor went through the figures made the young men turn green with envy.

Hail, Wind and Rain.

The heaviest hail storm that we ever remember of seeing fell at this place last Friday afternoon. It was accompanied by heavy rain, wind and thunder. Much damage was done to garden truck, branches of trees were broken off, fruit in large quantities were knocked off and gullies washed in fields. It certainly was a terrific storm and the timid were for a time greatly frightened, imagining, we suppose, that a second deluge was about to visit the earth.

Our information is that the storm fell only in spots. On the north side of Twelve Mile creek no hail fell as far up as we have heard from and between this place and the Double Branches little or no hail fell but from there to Columbia the storm was quite severe.

Free Rural Delivery.

Mr. F. P. Bousbee, special agent and examiner of the free rural delivery, was in town this week and inspected the proposed route leading from this place in a northwestern direction. He has gone over the route and has the matter of its establishment under consideration. He has gone to other points in the county to examine more proposed routes. The visit of this official to the Seventh District is entirely due to the persistent efforts of Congressman Lever. This young statesman has been remarkably successful in his work in securing preference in the detail of an agent for his district when it is remembered that over thousands of applications are pending. The establishment of these routes are of incalculable value and convenience to those living in the rural districts as they put a post office at every man's door.

GRANT AND OCHILTREE.

The Grievance the President Had Against the Colonel.

"After the war," said a veteran officeholder, "a warm friendship sprang up between General Grant and Colonel Tom Ochiltree, although they had fought on opposite sides. When Grant appointed a large number of people who had been under him to federal offices, he also appointed Ochiltree. Tom had been 'under him' in a sense. Tom was made United States marshal in Texas.

"Well, you know, in those days Tom took a very deep interest in the ponies and was a sort of patron saint of racing in the new southwest. He was so much admired by horsemen generally that it became quite the thing for owners to name their horses after him. At one time there were not less than a dozen horses running at various tracks under the name of Tom Ochiltree.

"Everything went lovely until Tom came up to Washington, several months after assuming his new duties. In the course of his visit he called at the White House for a conference with the president. After talking generalities for awhile Tom noticed that the president seemed to have something on his mind—didn't appear to be as frank and cordial as usual. He finally asked General Grant what the trouble was, hinting that the chief executive might not be satisfied with the manner in which the marshal's office was being conducted.

"Well, I'll tell you," said the president, "I don't like the way you've been running about the country, following the races. I see by the sporting columns of the papers that first you are in Louisville, then you're in New York, next you're in Saratoga and next somewhere out west. I would rather you stayed at home and looked after your office."—Washington Post.

Welcomed There.

Strangers in Columbia will find a hearty welcome awaiting them at the immense department stores of J. L. Mimnaugh & Co, where the prettiest line of the most fashionable goods in dress fabrics, novelties, millinery, clothing, shoes and hats, in fact every article required in a lady's or a gentleman's or a child's complete toilet. These goods are the cream of the loom and of the skill of artists and for quality, loveliness and cheapness cannot be excelled. Mimnaugh's has the reputation of being the cheapest house south of the Mason-Dixon line. All of the departments of these immense stores are crowded from ceiling to floor with the choicest goods at unprecedented bargains and the purchasers are always delighted with what they receive for their money. Reader, if you have never purchased your dry goods or wearing apparel there, do so at once and be astonished at the amount of goods you receive for such a small amount of money.

The weather begins to feel like summer time.
