Klondike's Letter.

Yes Mr. Editor its mighty dry and hot; but the prospects now are that we will have showers.

All's well and silent along the R. F. D. No. 1.

Most of the farmers are wearing long, dry faces, trying to imitate the weather, I guess.

There's one man in Lewiedale, however, that is not wearing a long face: Rev. C. B. Avery. is a happy man, the birds sing sweeter and the echoes of distant music falling on his ear lights up his face with a smile as broad as the Atlantic Ocean but why all this?—it's only a girl.

The Poet was sadly mistaken when he thought all the world would join him singing his sweet song, "There's a laud that is fairer than day." One young man in our town declares he cannot conscientiously sing it. He spells the day with a capital D. However he sings through with great tenderness—"Beautiful Day."

Yes we went down to the cue at friend Fry's. No candidate except Uncle George Shealy wants these people's votes or at least they don't seem to be very anxious about them. Two preachers and one candidate were the crop of public men, but the young people all came out and had a good time. The boys gave us some good music, but these girls and boys have too much self-respect to dance.

Three or four young men celebrated the "fourth" by putting themselves out side of some booze. How foolish they did look and act, but I suppose they thought the same of us.

That's right young men play out to the end of your line, but it will snap one day and the golden cord will be loosed and life will be miserable. How manly they did look. O God when will the day come, when our young men will be free from this Demon of hell? But why take on se? They got it from our dispensary and on the 4th of July at that.

Celebrating the 4th. Yes on that day we struck off the shackles of England and became a free people so far as the king was concerned. But to day many poor souls are under the tyrant "King Alcohol" and we who boast of our freedom are not doing anything to release them. Kings cannot bind men, but sin can. I am sorry for the young man who drinks. He is falling behind in the great march of life and sober young men are forging to the front.

Tell Billie I'm not in the race, says Mr. Kyzer. He prefers for the present a quiet secluded spot where even the thoughts of office trouble him not.

That's right Mr. Preacher go a head and boom up the man who says favors of the dispensary but God pity your consistency.

Mr. Editor this is not like me to write things so blue, but ain't it the truth? Well it will all come right when it is washed, but some things don't look like they were going to be washed.

Miss Ethel Koon is visiting in the Pond Branch section.

Our friend, Prof. I. B. Marsh of William and Mary's college spent a night at Mr. Jimmie Gunter's last week.

Shipping peaches is the order of the day.

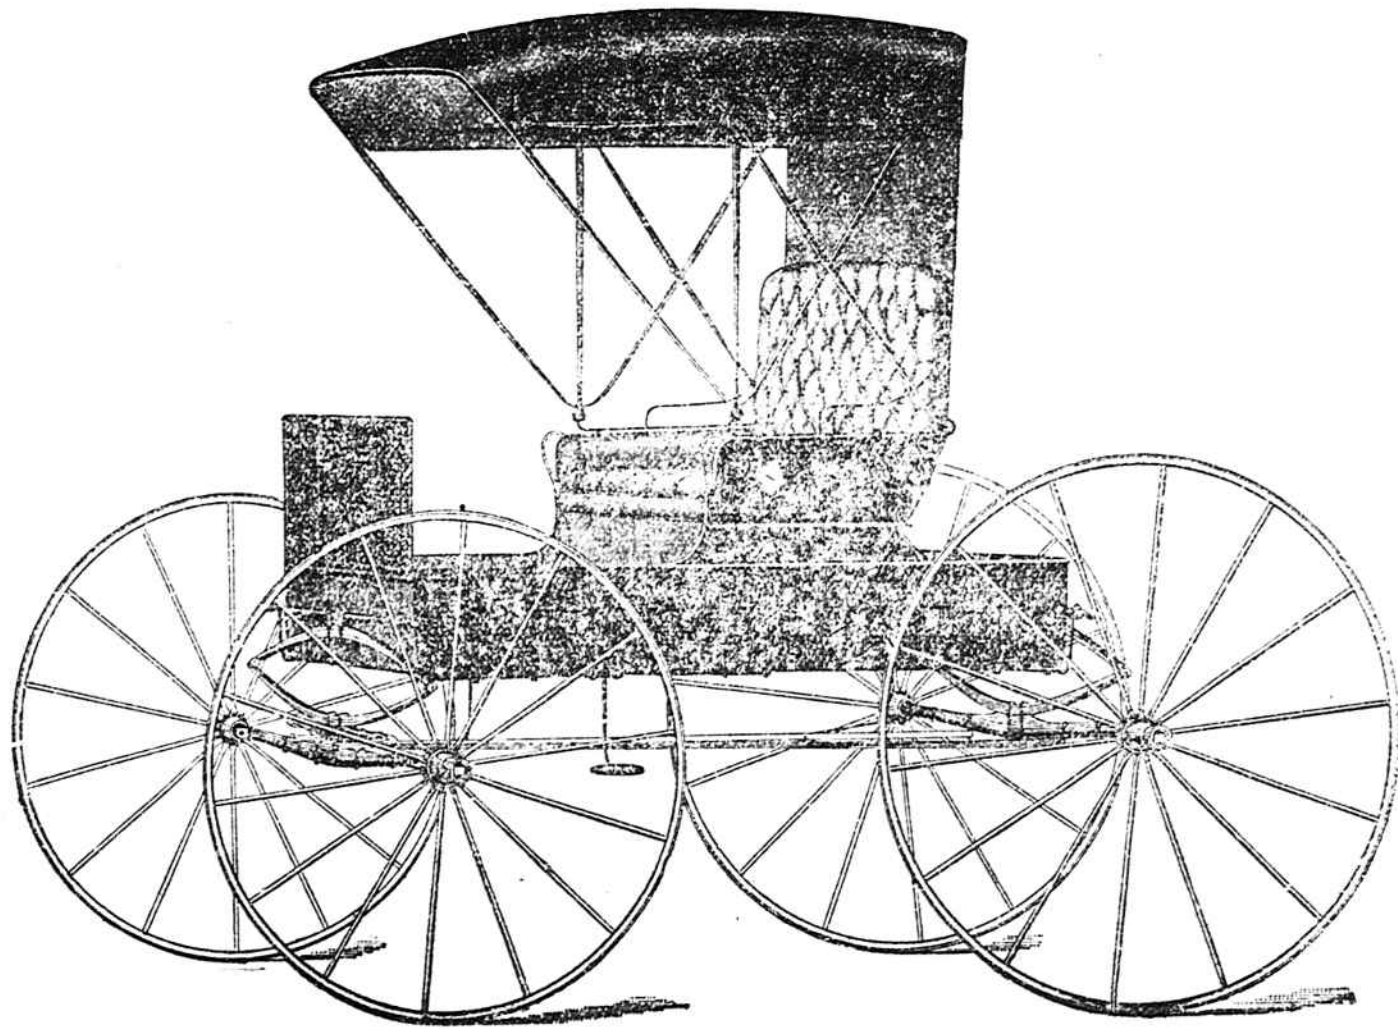

All the good people in the world are not dead yet. How many nice peaches, plums, apples and water-melons, Klondike does get out of the U. S. boxes. The water-melons however are put down by the box, some times they are not off the vine, but then I know they must have been intended for me they are so close the road.

The Hall Bro's. mill here is running night and day. The boys will do you right so bring on your wheat Well I guess C. D. Barr will want somebody to die now, as he has his coffin factory about done.

Tell Sharpe and Lever when they enter their desired heaven to remember. Klondike.

Let our lady friends read this expression of appreciation from Mrs. Lula Frady, of Uree, N. C: "I am void of words to adequately express my appreciation of Ramon's Liver Pills and Tonic Pellets. I was a great suffer when I began the use of this Treatment. They have completely changed my life from one of suffering to healthful enjoyment." Only 25c.
