

Death of Mrs. Edgar Blake.

"Aunt Carrie is dead," was the crushing announcement of little Bennie Yon to his mother, on the morning of the 28th instant, as he handed her a telegram in the presence of the writer, who had just been speaking to her about her sister's illness.

The deceased, an amiable daughter of the late Col. A. Mims of this place, had been sick for sometime at her home in Greenwood, S. C., where she lived since her marriage to Mr. Edgar Blake of that city.

The few years of her lovely maidenhood and womanhood spent among us made an impress that time cannot efface. All who knew her, know her but to love her. Gentle words and smiles of kindness she had for all. She was a devoted member of the M. E. Church, South, and her Christian character was exemplary. The writer remembers well with what modest zeal and devotion she conducted the Sunday school of her church here, when no male member could be secured this important work to perform.

When Mr. Blake wooed and won her heart, married her and took her to his home in Greenwood, how we missed her. But we knew that her benign influence was taken elsewhere to cheer and bless other hearts, where she doubtless proved a veritable halo of light and joy to the husband of her love and the many new made friends.

Death to her was a benediction, a mere transition, a deliverance from pain, a farewell to things of time, an entrance into blissful rest with her Savior.

Mother, husband, brothers, sisters, friends, by faith look up and behold her "beautiful beckoning hands."

Amicus.

Lewisdale, S. C., Sept. 29, 1902.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Politics Is Surprising.

Politics make strange enemies as well as strange bed fellows. Who would have imagined, a few years ago, that in this year of grace 1902, Capt. John G. Caspers would be engaged in a political controversy with Edmund Deas over the leadership of that malodorous organization of political grafters and place-hunters known as the Republican party of South Carolina? It is a surprising and unedifying spectacle.

A Constitutional Amendment.

It will be interesting to note that there will be one constitutional amendment to be voted upon at the next general election. In a word it is a proposition by which certain townships, which have issued township railroad bonds for railroads that have not been built, want to get out of the bonded indebtedness. The bonds were issued and got out of the hands of the authorities, but the railroads were not built, or have been abandoned. Now eight townships ask to have a constitutional amendment passed, so that the corporate existence of the same is to be destroyed and all of the corporate agents are removed. In a word the townships are to be wiped out of existence so as to get out of the railroad bonded indebtedness. It appears to be an excessively dangerous method of getting out of a debt. The people in the townships no doubt have just reason to complain, as they did not get the roads, but on the other hand they seem to be bringing on themselves no end of trouble and are resorting to a remedy which it is thought by many will not hold in the courts.

Women and Jewels.

Jewels, candy, flowers, man—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often ruined in the strenuous efforts to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Boschee's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is a certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. You can get this reliable remedy at Kaufmann's drug store. Get Green's Special Almanac. 51-32

How a Man Drowns.

Few popular fallacies are of such wide extent as the belief that a person must rise to the surface three times, no more and no less, before he can possibly drown. There is little ground for this supposition, although it has been almost universally believed in for generations. The truth is that a drowning person may sink the first time never to rise again, or he may, as he indeed does in the majority of cases, rise three times before he sinks forever. It all depends upon the quantity of water that he swallows when he sinks and the size of his lungs. The human body in life naturally floats while the lungs are inflated. As long as one keeps his head above the surface of the water he can float, face up, without having to move hand or foot. But as soon as he sinks he gulps and imbibes a quantity of water. If, after he has swallowed water, he has any air left in his lungs, he will undoubtedly rise again, and will continue to sink and rise alternately until all the air is expelled from his lungs, when he will drown.

Do Good—Its Pays.

A Chicago man has observed that "Good deeds are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose by it." Most men appreciate a kind word and encouragement more than substantial help. There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: "My good friend, cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medicine. It always cures. I know it for it has helped me out many a time." Sold by J. E. Kaufmann.

Rioting in Pennsylvania.

Wilkesbarre, Oct. 2.—Rioting prevailed at Plymouth all night. A crowd gathered at the North American washery and an appeal was made to the Sheriff. Deputies were sent to the scene, but were held up and kept out of the washery by the mob, which surrounded it. The rioters attacked and beat two employees.

Natural Anxiety.

Mothers regard approaching winter with uneasiness, children take cold so easily. No disease costs more little lives than croup. It's attack is so sudden that the sufferer is often beyond human aid before the doctor arrives. Such cases yield readily to One Minute Cough Cure. Liquifies the mucus, allays inflammation, removes danger. Absolutely safe. Acts immediately. Cures coughs, colds, grip, bronchitis, all throat and lung trouble. F. S. McMabon, Hampton, Ga.: "A bad cold rendered me voiceless just before an oratorical contest. I intended to withdraw but took One Minute Cough Cure. It restored my voice in time to win the medal." J. E. Kaufmann.

Eugene Field's

Views on Ambition and Dyspepsia.

"Dyspepsia," wrote Eugene Field, "often incapacitates a man for endeavor and sometimes extinguishes the fire of ambition." Though great despite his complaint Field suffered from indigestion all his life. A weak, tired stomach can't digest your food. It needs rest. You can only rest it by the use of a preparation like Kodol, which relieves it of work by digesting your food. Rest soon restores it to its normal tone.
