It is not an infrequent thing for a newspaper man to be called upon to devote its local columns to boosting of some enterprise, both private and public, and when the event has come off the editor is not even remembered with even that cheapest of all recompenses, a complimentary ticket. People who would not dare to go to the groceryman or butcher and ask the gift of a sack of flour or a roast of beef, without compunction, ask whole columns of the editor, when this is his stock in trade just as the flour to the grocer.

Quite a sad accident occurred at Cashville on Wednesday afternoon about three o'clock, in which three of J. P. Roach's little girls were blown up; one killed and two seriously injured. Last Fall Mr. Roach was riding the mail between Cashville and Woodruff. On one of his trips he found a railroad torpedo lying in the road. Not knowing what it was he picked it up and carried it home, where it has been lying around the yard for over a year now. His little girls, while playing in the yard Wednesday afternoon, picked it up and determined to open it. They placed it upon a rock and began beating it with another rock when it exploded with the above result.

The Law Against Trespassers.

We clip the following from the Yorkville Enquirer, for the information of The Dispatch readers as we have had many to ask us regarding the requirements of the law. The following covers the point just about like we have always explained it.

There has been a great deal of interest in the law as to trespass and several people have applied to the Enquirer for information on the subject. They especially desired to know what was necessary to be done in order to properly post their lands against irresponsible hunters and others. For the convenience of the public generally, we herewith reproduce the full text of the law in regard to the matter, as approved February 2, 1898. It reads as follows:

"Every entry upon the lands of another, after notice from the owner or tenant prohibiting the same, shall be a misdemeanor, and to be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars or imprisonment with hard labor on the public works of the county not exceeding thirty days. Provided, That wherever any owner or tenant of any lands shall post a notice in four conspicuous places on the borders of any lands, prohibiting entry thereon, and shall publish once a week for four successive weeks, such notice in any newspaper circulating in the country where such lands are situated, a proof of the posting and of publishing such notice prior to the entry, shall be deemed and taken as notice conclusive against the person making entry as aforesaid for hunting and fishing.

Under the law as it stood before it was amended as above, the landowner or tenant was unable to prosecute a trespasser unless he could prove that he had previously given the trespasser personal warning. As the law now stands, the prescribed publication is of itself sufficient notice. The trespasser cannot claim that he did not know, for the law makes it his business to know.

And to keep up with all these things it is incumbent upon you to subscribe for The Dispatch. It may save you the price of fifty years subscription, and all it costs is One Dollar a year.

Better than a Plaster.

Sold Her Child For $5.

Passaic, N. J., Dec. 11.—By means of an advertisement inserted in a Passaic newspaper, Mrs. Fannie Urhouse of this city has succeeded in selling her three weeks-old son. Mrs. Urhouse's husband was killed in the recent strike in Pennsylvania. She was able to take care of herself by working for $2 a week until the child came. Friends advised her to get some one to adopt it.

The advertisement was inserted but for three days no response came. Mrs. Urhouse became discouraged and threatened to kill herself and child. This morning, however, Mrs. John Urban offered to pay $5 for the child. The offer was accepted and the child was taken to its new home.

Boston Draws the Line.

Boston, Dec. 10.—It has just been proposed in Boston in all seriousness to establish a separate public school for negro children.

Strange as it may seem, this project started with the negroes themselves, and it has met with much favor by the whites who have children attending the public schools.

The rapid increase in the negro population has resulted in two large negro colonies, one in the west end and the other in the south end. The negroes desire separate schools because in the colored districts many white children attend schools where negro children are pupils. The negro children say they are treated as inferiors by the white children, hence the desire of the parents of the negroes to have schools where their children shall have no social or racial superiors. The reasons why the white parents want separate schools are obvious.

BLACK-DRAUGHT STOCK AND POULTRY MEDICINE

I have had occasion to use your Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine and am pleased to say that I never used anything for stock that gave half as good satisfaction. I heartily recommend it to all owners of stock.

J. B. BELSHER, St. Louis, Mo.

Sick stock or poultry should not eat cheap stock food any more than sick persons should expect to be cared by food. When your stock and poultry are sick give them medicine. Don't stuff them with worthless stock foods. Unload the bowels and stir up the torpid liver and the animal will be cured, if it be possible to cure it. Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine unloads the bowels and stirs up the torpid liver. It cures every malady of stock if taken in time. Secure a 25-cent can of Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine and it will pay for itself ten times over. Horses work better. Cows give more milk. Hogs gain flesh. And hens lay more eggs. It solves the problem of making as much blood, flesh and energy as possible out of the smallest amount of food consumed. Buy a can from your dealer.
