Ginning Statistics for 1903.

Circulars have been received in this county from the United States census office outlining the plan to be adopted during the current year for collecting cotton ginning statistics, a work which is, in this county, in charge of Hon. D F Efrid.

The census office is already perfecting plans for more frequent reports in connection with the crop of 1903. Its first report on that crop will cover all the cotton ginned, of the year's growth, up to and including September 1. This portion of each year's crop is now assigned, in the commercial estimates, to the production of the previous year by reason of the fact that the commercial cotton year ends September 1.

The second census report of the crop of 1903 will include all cotton ginned up to and including October 18 of this year. This is the date of the first report on the crop of 1902, and thus an exact comparison of the quantity ginned on that date in the two seasons will be achieved. The third report will cover the cotton ginned up to and including November 19 and will be, like the first, an additional report and will cover a period in the harvesting season of the utmost importance to the growers and manufacturers of cotton. The fourth report will parallel the present report, and represent the cotton ginned to December 13. The fifth report will be the final report and cover the close of season.

It will be seen that this plan contemplates practically a monthly report during the cotton ginning season of 1903. It is believed by the census office that this is frequent enough to meet all commercial requirements, but if, after an actual test, it shall be found that still more frequent reports are desirable the census office will be prepared to make them for the crop of 1904.

A Mississippi girl describes her first visit to a city in the following rapod: "Oh, I had such a perfectly beautiful time! Everything was so converted, you know. We stopped to a house where we rode in a refrigerator and our rooms were illustrated with election lights. There was no stove in the room, but one of those legislators in the floor, and the heat poured through it. It did not have any appetite and could not have anything I could realize. Honestly when I got home I was almost an individual.

Remedy for Lock Jaw.

"A Mother" sends the following to the Charleston Evening Post as a sure remedy for lock jaw: "Let any one who has an attack of lock jaw take a small quantity of spirits of turpentine; warm it and pour it into the wound—no matter what the wound is, or what its nature—and relief will follow in less than one minute." It would do no harm to try this remedy at least.
