Consumption

The only kind of consumption to fear is "neglected consumption."

People are learning that consumption is a curable disease. It is neglected consumption that is so often incurable.

At the faintest suspicion of consumption get a bottle of Scott's Emulsion and begin regular doses.

The use of Scott's Emulsion at once, has, in thousands of cases, turned the balance in favor of health.

Neglected consumption does not exist where Scott's Emulsion is.

Prompt use of Scott's Emulsion checks the disease while it can be checked.

A Girl's Crime.

Alleged to Have Thrown Her New Born Baby in Rocky Branch.

The Columbia State, March 6th.

Two small boys while playing yesterday morning about 7 o'clock, near Rocky branch, a small stream which runs in the southern part of the city, just outside the corporate limits, made a gruesome discovery. The body of a male infant was seen lying in the shallows near one of the banks.

The coroner and the officers of the law were summoned and went at once to the scene. A thorough investigation was made and Lou Spradley, a young woman of about 21 years of age, was closely questioned. The girl told several versions of the affair. She had become the mother of a child on Friday night, it is alleged, and it was said yesterday that she had confessed that it was her infant which was found in the branch.

She was taken to the county jail and made as comfortable as possible on account of her peculiar condition. Her father also told several different stories and was placed in the jail. The infant's body was taken to Connelly's undertaking establishment, and an autopsy by Drs. Fishburne and Coward revealed the fact that it was not still born.

Jimmie McMeehan, a young man whom the woman mentioned in connection with the alleged crime, is held at the jail until the matter is fully investigated.
