Preparing for Dull Times.

Some of our popular county officials are already preparing to pass a dull summer days pleasantly. Various devices have been considered, some of which have been adopted and others rejected. Clerk Samuel B. George has raked up his spare change and invested in a kodak and proposes to spend his days taking snap shots at lost opportunities and Treasurer Shealy has adorned his office with a handsome register and now struts around as proud as a peacock in full plumage. Superintendent of Education Derrick has invested his salary in a large mirror and will pass his time admiring his handsome features.

Auditor Derrick is in a quandary. He is undecided whether to invest in a cuspidor to while his time away trying to see how many times he can fill it with the juice of the weed, or in a double jointed back action jack knife to whittle up stray dry goods boxes.

Sheriff Coughman has concluded that it was not good for man to live alone and has taken unto himself a wife and will spend his summer telling his friends what he knows about domestic life.

Judge Drafts will divide his time between keeping the boys straight and fishing for sardines in the Factory pond.

In this manner will they all spend their summer.
