Up With His Work.

It gives us great pleasure to announce that our very efficient and competent Auditor, G. A. Derrick, is well up with the work of his office. He has completed his abstract with the exception of the railroad and insurance assessments, which he is waiting to receive from Mr. Jones, the Comptroller General. Mr. Derrick has made a good officer and his work has given general satisfaction to all parties interested.

The Chasingang.

The chasingang is building a bridge across Fourteen Mile creek at the Cherokee Ford on the Dreher's Ferry and Columbia road. This bridge has been a want long felt as in time of high water this ford was dangerous to cross, if not impassable. The gang will be at Hilton next Monday and work the Spring Hill and Iewiedale road, and from thence it will work other roads in the Fork. The gang is small in point of numbers but it is doing excellent work. If slow.

Dwelling Burned.

To the Editor of the Dispatch:
The dwelling of Mr. William M. Saylor, in the Sandy Run section, was destroyed by fire Monday, June 15th by what is supposed to have been an incendiary fire. His loss was very heavy and consisted of two fine gold watches, a fine sewing machine, a lot of clothing, household and kitchen furniture and numerous other articles.

Please let the readers of the Dispatch see these lines as Mr. Saylor need the sympathies of the people.

Electric Lights.

Messrs. Talley Hearth, City Electrician of Columbia, and Luther Garron, an expert electrician of the same city, were in town recently. The probable outcome of their visit will be the establishment of an electric plant for the purpose of lighting the streets, offices, workshops, dwellings and furnishing power for manufacturing plants. There is abundant room for such an enterprise.

Odd Fellows Lecture.

Rev. John A. Bright, of Topeka, Kansas, Past Grand Master of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of that State, delivered a very interesting, instructive and humorous lecture before Ballentine Lodge and the public generally in Roof's Hall last Saturday evening. The virtues of the order were clearly explained by the distinguished lectures and the beauties of Odd Fellowship extolled. He urged the members to practice in their daily lives the principles of the order. The audience was highly delighted with the lecture and the interest in Odd Fellowship greatly strengthened by the lecture. He made an address before St. Stephen's Sunday school Sunday morning.

Another Veteran Gone.

Mr. A. J. Lorick died last Thursday about midday after a brief illness with a complication of stomach troubles, in the 66th year of his age, at his home on the Lorick ferry road. His remains were laid away to rest in the family burying ground on Friday. Mr. Lorick was a well-to-do farmer and mill man, and was the owner of a valuable landed estate. He was progressive and enterprising, a useful citizen and a good neighbor. He was a Confederate soldier, serving in the Fifth cavalry, Captain Caughman's company, and served with distinguished gallantry and bravery. Of his immediate family there survives him a wife and three daughters all three of whom are married, besides numerous relatives and friends. The sympathies of the community are with the stricken ones.

A President Resigns.

Professor Julius D. Dreher has resigned the Presidency of Roanoke College with which institution he has been connected for thirty years, twenty-five years of which as its president. During his incumbency the College has enjoyed an era of remarkable prosperity and he has succeeded in raising its standard and elevating it to the front ranks of the leading institutions of the land. Professor Dreher is one of the best known educators in the South, and his record has been marked as a brilliant success. The Board of Trustees has accepted the resignation and elected Dr. James A. Morehead, President of the Seminary of the United Synod of the Lutheran church of the South, at Mount Pleasant, this State, but no answer has yet been received from him.

The bodies of persons supposed to have been drowned in the Pacolet flood, are being found along the river banks, some distance below the scene of the awful disaster. In some instances the bodies were in such a state of decomposition that they could not be identified and were buried at once in hastily made graves.

"The Fountain" corner of Main and Richland streets, is winning quite a reputation on account of the cheapness and excellency of its goods. Mr. Bates, its manager, is a well known young business man, and knowing how to purchase goods to the best advantage, and sell them so as to benefit his customers, he is building up an extensive trade. If you want to be in the swim for bargains, give him a call.
