

A Kentucky Heroine.

She Got Her Hero Out of the Army and Married Him.
Macon Telegraph.

A recent Washington dispatch contains the brief outline of one of the prettiest love stories of real life that has come to our notice in some time. The two principals are young Kentuckians of good family. The man wanted to be a soldier, and as he failed to get a commission, he enlisted anyhow, hoping to rise from the ranks. But there was not much fighting and little chance for distinction, and after a fair trial of the dull routine as a common soldier in barracks, he saw that he had made a mistake and decided to come home, choose a more attractive and profitable career, and marry the girl he loved.

But owing to the difficulty of inducing young men to go to the Philippines and the increasing number of desertions from the army, his application for discharge was refused as is the almost invariable rule for the reasons stated. Here the girl in the case made herself felt. She boldly announced her determination to go to the Philippines, marry her soldier and share with him the hardships of his life there. Being of age and a girl of her word, this caused consternation among the members of her family. The rest of the story is thus told:

"Her father, in a panic, wrote to Senator McCreary, stating the case, assuring the Senator that he could not control his daughter and saying that the rash determination must be thwarted at any cost. The senator posted to the war department as soon as he got the letter, and laid the matter before Secretary Root. The secretary deliberated for a while and called in Gen. Young and they read the letter together.

"We're not granting discharges," said the secretary, slowly, "but this seems to be a case where we can't help it."

"And it is a case of such urgency that it demands the use of the cable instead of the mails," said Gen. Young. "This young woman seems very determined. She might not wait."

"Whereupon the cablegram was sent, and at the same time Senator McCreary telegraphed his friend in Kentucky that the daughter need not go."

A girl who is ready to leave luxuries behind and go to the Philippines to share the lot of a common soldier is a girl really in love—than which there is nothing sweeter in all this world of selfishness and greed. There is so much marrying for money, position and fear of hardships, that the story of this Kentucky heroine is inspiring. We hope her released soldier is worthy of her and that they will soon achieve their heart's desire and be "happy ever after."

Saved From Terrible Death.

The family of Mrs. M. L. Bobbitt, of Bargerton, Tenn., saw her dying and were powerless to save her. The most skillful physicians and every remedy used, but failed, while consumption was slowly but surely taking her life. In this terrible hour Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption turned despair into joy. The first bottle brought immediate relief and its continued use completely cured her. It's the most certain cure in the world for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed. Bottles 50c and $1.00 Trial Bottles Free at The Kaufmann Drug Co.

A Special Session Over a Bug.

A little bug almost too small for individual notice is taking up the time of several great states, and has even caused the Louisiana legislature to be called into a special session, says the Baltimore Sun. This little boll weevil seems a very small matter to the people of the country at large, but to cotton growers its coming is fraught with prodigious evil.

For years it has been the boast of Texas that she could raise cotton enough to supply the world, and she did appear to be satisfied with raising about a third of all the American staple. But this little weevil crawled across the border from Mexico and has swept the cotton fields like a pestilence. Each year the domain of the weevil is spreading, and its kind is multiplying by billions. No effective means has yet been found to check the spread of the pest and the entire cotton belt is alarmed.

The Louisiana special commission has recommended to the legislature that a non-cotton growing belt be created between that State and Texas, by which it is expected to starve out the weevil and stay its further progress northward.

Already the loss by this insect is probably $25,000,000 and experts of the National and State governments are doing everything in their power to devise some means to check this Texas terror.

Congratulations.

Mr. John H. Cullion, Editor of the Garland, Texas, News, has written a letter of congratulations to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as follows: "Sixteen years ago when our first child was a baby he was subject to croupy spells and we would be very uneasy about him. We began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in 1887, and finding it such a reliable remedy for colds and croup, we have never been without it in the house since that time. We have five children and have given it to all of them with good results. One good feature of this remedy is that it is not disagreeable to take and our babies really like it. Another is that it is not dangerous, and there is no risk from giving an overdose. I congratulate you upon the success of your remedy." For sale by The Kaufmann Drug Co.

She's a Bird.

Albany (Ga.) Herald.

Mrs. S. William Robbin, of Louisville, Ky., was recently married to David Buzzard. It is her fourth matrimonial venture. She was a Miss Martin, of one of the best known Bourbon county families. She first married Robert Crow. He died and she married John Sparrow six months afterwards. She and Mr. Sparrow did not agree and a divorce followed. Mrs. Sparrow became Mrs. William Robbin, but again a divorce was found advisable. After a year of lonely life Mrs. Robbin has become Mrs. David Buzzard. She has two Crows, one Sparrow, one Robbin and a Buzzard at her home. Mrs. Buzzard is a bird, if there is anything in a name.

Cured After Suffering 10 Years.

B. F. Hare, Supt. Miami Cycle & Mfg. Co., Middletown, O., suffered for ten years with dyspepsia. He spent hundreds of dollars for medicine and with doctors without receiving any permanent benefit. He says "One night while feeling exceptionally bad I was about to throw down the evening paper when I saw an item in the paper regarding the merits of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I concluded to try it and while I had no faith in it I felt better after the second dose. After using two bottles I am stronger and better than I have been in years, and I recommend Kodol Dyspepsia Cure to my friends and acquaintances suffering from stomach trouble." Sold by all druggists.

We Want People Who Smile.

The face that wears a smile is everywhere welcome: the smiling, cheery guest is a joy forever; with out common sense, our tact and our kind courtesy to guide us, and with the corners of our mouths turned upward, we may at any time and all times be a benediction to our friends.

Cured Lumbago.

A. B. Canman, Chicago, writes March 4, 1903: "Having been troubled with Lumbago at different times and tried one physician after another; then different ointments and liniments, gave it up altogether. So I tried once more, and got a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment, which gave me almost instant relief. I can cheerfully recommend it, and will add my name to your list of former sufferers." 25c, 50c and $1.00 Sold by The Kaufmann Drug Co.

Mr. Fox's Toilet.

Reader Magazine.

On one trip through the Kentucky mountains performed by John Fox, Jr., in pursuit of "local color" he stopped overnight at a cabin, where he slept up next to the clapboards and went down a ladder to breakfast. He washed his face in a creek below the house and dried it on a siding of coffee sack hung against the logs for family use and combed his hair with his own comb before a piece of broken glass stuck between the chinking and daubing.

As he was making his toilet he was closely observed by the small boy of the family, who was clothed in a pair of cottonadé pants hitched to a hickory shirt, with one "gallus" fastened by a nail. Shoes and hat were lacking, and his hair hadn't been combed for six weeks. He watched the visitor so closely that Mr. Fox thought he was making an excellent impression on the young barbarian. As he put on the last touch the boy, unable to contain himself longer, broke in.

"Say, mister," he inquired, "ain't you a good deal of trouble to yourself?"

Of Waverly, Texas, writes, "Of a morning, when first arising. I often find a troublesome collection of phlegm, which produces a cough and is very hard to dislodge; but a small quantity of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will at once dislodge it, and the trouble is over. I know of no medicine that is equal to it, and it is so pleasant to take. I can most cordially recommend it to all persons needing a medicine for throat or lung trouble." 25c, 50c and $1.00 Sold by The Kaufmann Drug Co.

Is a Candidate.

Col. Wm. Elliott, late member of Congress and candidate for the Senate in 1902 is a candidate for appointment by the president as district judge of the proposed new district in South Carolina.

Oranges and Lemons.

The department of agriculture announces that commercial estimates indicate that if favorable weather prevails during the next few months the orange crops now coming on the market will be the largest ever produced in the United States. A conservative estimate of the Florida crop places it at about 1,600,000 boxes, while if present promises are fulfilled there will be shipped from the orange groves of California to eastern markets between ten million and eleven million boxes or (including about three thousand cars of lemons) from 25,000 to 30,000 car loads.

Domestic Troubles.

It is exceptional to find a family where there are no domestic ruptures occasionally, but these can be lessened by having Dr. King's New Life Pills around. Much trouble they save by their great work in Stomach and Liver troubles. 25c. at The Kaufmann Drug Co.

Selects the Best.

Senator Tillman recently told of a criminal case in South Carolina in which the accused was acquitted because of the proving of an alibi, set forth in masterly fashion by the learned counsel.

At the conclusion of the trial the lawyer in question was soon surrounded by friends eager to congratulate him upon his able defense. Among these was the judge who presided at the trial. Said he to the counsel:

"Mr. Blank, that was an excellent alibi."

"I think so, too," responded the lawyer. "Of the four that were offered me it was easily the best."—New York Sun.

DO YOU GET UP

WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century, discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.

Dragging Pains
2825 Keeley St., CHICAGO, ILL., Oct., 2, 1902.
I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groins. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.
Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.
