Died Friday.

Mrs. Mack, nee Miss Rucker, died at the home of her husband, Dr. Mack, in Leesville last Friday after an illness of typhoid fever. Although residing in that town but a short while her gentle disposition and Christian virtues attracted the people to her and won their love. Her remains were taken to her girlhood home for interment and they now rest beside those of her kindred.

Mimnaugh's Sale.

If you have not visited the closing out sale at Mimnaugh's in Columbia, you had better do so at once, as the time is fast approaching when this sale will be brought to a close and the opportunity to get bargains in all kinds of dry goods, notions, millinery, shoes, etc., will be passed. Perhaps never again in years will see such an opportunity be given to buy fresh, fashionable goods so cheaply as is now presented. Remember that these goods must go no matter what the sacrifice and if you want big values for your money go there.

A Fishing Trip.

Feeling the need of a little rest and recreation after a year of hard labor with its cares and anxieties, we determined to take our usual annual vacation and spend a week in our loved pastime—fishing.

Early on Tuesday morning last, we in company with D. E. Ballentine, J. J. Swartz, John S. Derrick, Henry Koon, better known as "The King Fisherman on Factory Hill" and A. M. Harman, with Coot Mims as chief cook and bottle washer, lit out from Lexington for the pond of Mr. Brit Hutto, on First creek, a distance of about thirteen miles. This is the old "Home Place" of the earlier Geigers and who were noted for their refinement, culture and hospitality in their day.

On the way we were joined by Mr. Samuel Shumpert, whom a more jovial and clever man never lived.

Immediately after arriving at our fishing grounds, we unpacked and began to set the snares for the capture of the finny tribe but had not gone far before the rain began to fall and we had to suspend operations. Sad to relate the rain continued, the pond became muddy and the week's sport was ruined, so that there was nothing left for us to do but to pull up stakes, fold our tents and return home after staying out one night. The catch was small but enough with some to spare, for breakfast.

"Old Brit" welcomed us with a generous hospitality and did all within his power to make our stay with him full of pleasure. He is a soldier of the Lost Cause and made a good one. His reminiscences of those stirring times are full of interest and he is a pleasant and entertaining narrator.

The crops in that section that we saw looked fine. They have had nice and favorable seasons and the outlook is indeed encouraging. Some wheat has been harvested and the people now eat their own bread.

We were glad to notice that in the Emanuel church community a great deal of attention was being given to truck farming. We noticed large fields of potatoes, beans, onions and other garden truck some of which was ready for the market. Our people have learned the advantage of diversified farming and have turned this experience into practical benefit. We hope that other sections will follow the example of those people and plant truck.

Bitten by a Snake.

Mr. Tommie Leaphart was in town Saturday carrying a very bad looking hand in a sling caused from the bite of a highland moccasin which he received on the Wednesday evening before, while shucking corn at his place. The snake had coiled itself among the corn in the crib and as Mr. Leaphart reached for the corn the snake struck him inflicting a very painful and dangerous wound. It is terribly swollen yet and is but of little use to him. Everything was done for him by his family and the doctor that could be done and it is probable to the promptness in the application of the remedies that he owes his life. This should be a warning to farmers who feed late to look well before grabbing the corn in their cribs.

New R. F. D. Route.

We are informed by Congressman Lever that a Rural Free delivery route from Swansea has been ordered by the post office department and will go into effect Friday, July 1st, with one carrier. This route has been repeatedly turned down by the department, but Congressman Lever was not discouraged but kept hammering away at it until success crowned his efforts. The establishment of this route means good service to many people.
