Greatest Flirt in the World.

The American girl is a flirt, the French woman a flirt, but their ways and charms are uninteresting when contrasted with those of the Magyar girl, who is the greatest flirt in the world. This is natural, "for in Hungary, song and laughter, dance and music are so exuberant, women are so lovable and love-making so spontaneous, that wooing and wedding offer themselves as alluring themes," says the Chicago Tribune. Naturally bright and vivacious, these clever girls find philosophy and the exact sciences a bore, but poetry, music and song, with their wild emotions and alluring fancies, appeal to their girlish hearts.

Their own peculiar beauty is in keeping with the form, color and rhythm they love. What strikes one is the extreme freshness, delicacy and purity of their coloring. Their wavy hair, as among all women of this Hungarian race, is superb and their large, deep eyes are shaded with long lashes, suggesting reverie and feeling that craves for admiration and love.

Satisfied with the strong physique, manly bearing and frank way of their men, they are content to find their suitors at home. The Magyar men are as anxious to woo them as they are to be wooed. There is something so winning in their coquettish glances and fascinating smiles; the men are so manly, debonair and easy, it is hard for either sex to resist.

With them love and courtship mean so much it must be given all its color, and a wooing is often, therefore, a long doing. They have endless opportunities of meeting each other—visiting the markets, working in the fields and passing each other while out for a stroll. The youths feel that the scarda, or inn, is the best place to see the girls they would admire. The scarda is a club where on Sundays and holidays old and young come to dance and make merry. Music of the gayest sort is heard, the picturesque costumes of both men and girls give additional life to the scene.

The czardas, their favorite dance, gives them plenty of opportunity to reveal their gayety, ease and grace. It is really a pantomime and describes the course of true love. The music and dancing are at first slow; the couples walk up and down in a stately manner. Then feigning to have made each other's acquaintance and fallen victims to their tender feelings, the music grows lively and the courtship begins in earnest. The lover approaches his fair maiden, and she coyly responds, and they spin around together for a few minutes, when, as if she were allowing him too many privileges, the maiden retires pouting, whereupon he again approaches. This time she turns her back on him in a most flirtatious way and they dance off in contrary directions.

Startling but True.

People the world over were horrified on learning of the burning of a Chicago theater in which nearly six hundred people lost their lives, yet more than five times this number or over 3,000 people died from pneumonia in Chicago during the same year, with scarcely a passing notice. Every one of these cases of pneumonia resulted from a cold and could have been prevented by the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. A great many who had every reason to fear pneumonia have warded it off by the prompt use of this remedy. The following is an instance of this sort: "Too much cannot be said in favor of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and especially for colds and influenza. I know that it cured my daughter, Laura, of a severe cold and I believe saved her life when she was threatened with pneumonia." W. D. Wilcox, Logan, N. Y. Sold by The Kaufmann Drug Co.

Standard Oil Trust.

Washington, D. C., February 16—The President has ordered a most rigid examination of the methods of the Standard Oil trust by the department of commerce and labor. He took this action today after a conference with Representative Campbell of Kansas, who introduced an investigation resolution which passed yesterday. The investigation will include far reaching possibilities, the showing up of discriminations, black lists, boycotts, etc. and may result in criminal prosecutions against some big men connected with the Standard.

In a wreck of the fast freight on the Southern at Easley last week brakeman Gilbert, of Atlanta, and Fireman Rice, colored, of Spencer, N. C., were killed.

Murray's Horehound, Mullein and Tar will cure your cough. Large bottle for 25c.

Gov. Heyward has pardoned Geo. Hern, of Marion, who had been convicted of assault and battery.

A FACT ABOUT THE "BLUES"

What is known as the "Blues" is seldom occasioned by actual existing external conditions, but in the great majority of cases by a disordered LIVER.

THIS IS A FACT which may be demonstrated by trying a course of

Tutt's Pills

They control and regulate the LIVER. They bring hope and buoyancy to the mind. They bring health and elasticity to the body.

TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE.

To Spread the Boll Weevil.

Washington, Feb. 16—The effort of a Texan to scatter the boll weevil throughout the entire cotton section of the South in order to effect the next crop prompted the house committee on agriculture to report favorably a bill by Mr. Lovering, of Massachusetts, to prohibit the interstate transportation of insect pests, and the use of the United States mail for that purpose.

Some time ago a prominent cotton firm in New York received a letter from a man in Dallas offering to undertake the spread of the pest for the purpose of effecting the cotton crop in sections outside the present boll weevil area.

This letter was turned over to the department of agriculture and Secretary Wilson put some of the department detectives on the track of the writer. He was found to be a man of some prominence in Dallas.

A Father's Protection.

Father, it is as essential for you to provide a safeguard against that night-fiend to your children, croup, as to their hunger. Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum and Mullein will cure cough, croup and colds. At druggists, 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Good Roads.

In glancing over the supply act, as published in last Sunday's State, we notice that the following counties have made special levies for roads and bridges, as follows: Aiken, 16 of one mill for clay and sand roads; Cherokee, 1/2 mill for bridge; Florence, road tax, 1 mill; Greenville, convicts and roads, 1/2 of one mill; Greenwood, roads, 1 mill; Kershaw, roads, 2 mills; Laurens, road purpose, 1 mill; Oconee, bridges and ferries, 1 mill; Spartanburg, permanent road improvement, 1 mill; Union, roads, 1 mill. Then we now turn to Lexington and find nothing.

New Federal Judge Bill.

Washington, Feb. 15.—South Carolinians who are interested in the creation of a new District Judge now have hopes of obtaining favorable legislation during the present session. The Johnson bill, which was objected to last week, was put through the house yesterday by Representative Finley, just as the house was about to adjourn. In the absence of Mr. Johnson Mr. Finley was recognized by Speaker Cannon and the bill was passed. Representative Mann, who objected to the bill last week, reluctantly withdrew further objection, and Speaker Cannon, who was friendly to the measure, declared the bill passed, and in the next breath adjourned the house. The other members of the delegation did not know the bill had passed until they learned of it today.

Senator Latimer is confident he can pass the bill through the senate: the only question is whether the senate will insist upon amending the bill to substitute Greenwood for Spartanburg as one of the places for holding court.

To Cure a Cut, Sore or Wound apply Ramon's Nerve & Bone Oil promptly. It is antiseptic—stops the pain and causes healing by first intention. Send money back if not satisfied. For sale at the Bazaar.

Protect Your Cotton.

The wanton neglect of cotton after it is ginned is simply astonishing. There has never been a reason why every bale of cotton should not be housed and protected from rain, snow and wind. Cotton should be protected, for it is sure to "blue" if it is not well covered, and then the buyer will take advantage of that condition—and no one can blame him. If your cotton is worth anything at all it is worth housing. The farmer who wants to get the benefit of good prices when they do come must see that his cotton is not damaged.

Columbia college has signed a contract with Eddie B. Cochems, the former University of Wisconsin star, to coach the football team next fall.

Dr. E. E. Jackson, a well known druggist, was stricken with paralysis at his home in Columbia on Wednesday night, and died Thursday. Dr. Jackson was well known to the people of Lexington among whom he had many warm friends.
