John Temple Graves

Will lecture in Leesville College, June 3rd at 8:30 p. m., under the auspices of the association of graduates. He is considered the greatest orator of the South. Admission, reserved seats, 75 cents.

Summer Concerts.

It is a conceded fact that Lexington has some as fine musical talent as can be found in the State, both as regards voice and execution and we can see no reason why they cannot get together and give weekly entertainments, charging a nominal admission, in Roof's Hall. It will help to while away the dull summer evenings and give pleasure and enjoyment to our people.

Smallpox Stamped Out.

Virtually the smallpox has died out here. Nearly all the patients have been released from quarantine and no new cases have developed, premises have been thoroughly fumigated and articles handled by patients have been burned. There is now but little, if any danger of other case breaking out.

Business Increasing.

Now since the smallpox scare has died out business has returned to its natural channel and everything is moving along in apple pie order. People are coming and going as usual and the reappearance of the jolly drummer reminds us of a selection from a classical verse: "Hark! hark! the dogs do bark; The drummers are coming to town, Some with rags and some with jags And some with velvet gowns."

A Young Lady Dead.

After a long and unequalled struggle with that grim monster death, the sweet spirit of Miss Sallie Wingard, of Iene, took its flight to the city of many mansions eternal in the heavens, at the home of her brother in Winnsboro, where she had gone for medical treatment, on Friday, May 26th, 1905. She was a sufferer from cancer and a short while before leaving for Winnsboro she underwent a surgical operation but the disease had undermined her constitution to such an extent that she obtained only temporary relief. Her remains were carried to Irene and interred in the cemetery there.

At Rest.

The news of the death of Capt. J. Pickens Jones was received here with deep sorrow by his numerous friends last Sunday. Mr. Jones was one of the most prominent and influential citizens of the county and took an active part in all things that tended to improve his county and elevate his fellow man. He was an Israelite indeed in whom there was no guile. His Christian experience was bright and his public and private life was pure and unselfish. He served as County Commissioner and displayed much ability in the management of the affairs of the county in all the departments. He was a gallant Confederate soldier. Batesburg, his home, as well as the entire county mourns his loss.

An Election Protested.

A municipal election was held in Brookland last Saturday in which there were two sets of tickets. One headed by G. B. McCombs and the other by J. S. Gunnell. The managers return shows that 151 votes were cast of which number Gunnell received 73 and McComb 77. The Gunnell faction claim that fraud was practiced and have filed a protest and council has set Friday for the hearing. In the meantime policeman Mitchell, J. Armstrong and M. L. Fox have been arrested and are now in jail charged with violating the election law. A warrant has also been issued for McComb, but has not been served because he cannot be found.

An Interesting Address.

Batesburg Advocate. Hon. F. H. Hyatt, of Columbia, has been secured to make an address to the planters of Saluda, Lexington and Aiken counties at the Batesburg, S. C. Opera House, Saturday afternoon, at one o'clock, June 10th. His subjects will be Good Roads, Immigration, Cotton, and Education of the Masses. Mr. Hyatt has made extensive study of these subjects and is a very enthusiastic promoter of the public good. He is a practical and a very successful farmer and a first rate speaker. He owns a beautiful suburban home near Columbia and operates an experimental and up to date stock and general farm. The large amount of practical information which he has accumulated on his favorite subjects cannot fail to instruct and interest the trucker, the planter as well as the business men. It is the desire of the business men of Batesburg that Mr. Hyatt have as large an audience as possible and will be glad to have every section strongly represented.

Fire.

The house of Mr. Henry Honts, residing on Augusta road, three miles north west of Gilbert, was burned Monday about midnight. The loss was almost entire. When Mr. Honts was awakened by the roaring of the flames, the house was all ablaze. Mr. Honts received some painful burns trying to save his effects.

To Nominate Trustees.

The patrons and qualified electors of the various school districts of Lexington county, may, if they so desire, meet at their respective school building on June 17th, 1905, at three o'clock p. m., for the purpose of nominating, either by election or by petition, three good and efficient men for public school trustees of their respective district.

In nominating trustees you should have in view the success of your schools. If you have a good board you will have a good school. Not all men are qualified for the office of school trustees. Study the matter well before you act. The County Board of Education reserves the rights granted it by law in this matter. We have the interest of the children at heart, and desire efficient trustees to run the schools. J. E. Rawl Kyzer, Clerk County Board of Education. May 20, 1905.

County Summer School.

The County Board of Education, in session May 20th, 1905, by the request of the State Superintendent of Education, O. B. Martin, considered the matter of our County Summer School for teachers with the following result, said school to open August 2nd and close August 29th, 1905, with Professors J. C. Allen and J. R. T. Major as co-principals, and Miss Elizabeth Dominick, assistant.

In connection with the usual branches taught Miss Dominick will be expected to teach free hand drawing and primary methods.

It is earnestly desired that all the teachers of our county attend this school for the better equipment of themselves for school work. It doesn't matter if you have a "diploma" or not, you are expected to prepare yourself for the profession of teaching. It will "pay" you. Further announcements will be made later. J. E. Rawl Kyzer, Clerk Co. Bd. Ed., Lex. Co.
