Winthrop Examinations.

The following are the names of the young ladies who stood the examination for the Winthrop scholarship, held in the court house in this place on Friday, July 7th, with their post office address: Misses Ethel Eleazer, Spring Hill; Ellie Jacobs, Peak; Lula C. Eleazer, Irmc; Katherine Dreher, Selwood; Marguerite Dreher, Irmo; Lizzie L. Rawls, Seivern; Isabelle F. Lyles, Lexington; Anna Smoak, Lexington; Eula Epling, Pine Ridge; Nettie Fulmer, Fairbank; Clare Barnett, Chapin. The examination papers have been forwarded to President Johnson.

Alliance Meeting.

Lexington County Alliance will meet with Summerville Alliance on the 14th day of July, it being the second Friday.

James B. Addy, President. D. E. Efrd, Secretary pro tempore.

Electric Lights.

It is possible that the town of Lexington will be lit up by electricity for both public and private use. Arrangements looking to this end are being made. City Electrician Tally Hearth, of Columbia, and Bill Caughman were in town yesterday looking over the prospects, and for increasing the capacity of the electric plant at the mill.

Taylor's Cue.

Don't forget to go to A. Taylor's cue at his place, (the Fowles' Old Pond), on July 22nd. There will be sack races for the boys, foot races for the older people, and special arrangements will be made for the entertainment of ladies and children. A small prize will be given to the successful competitors in the races. Several speakers will be present to discuss the new county scheme.

Obituary.

John Q. Seastrunk son of Mr. Samuel T. and Mrs. A. Seastrunk, was born Sept. 13, 1888 and died July 6, 1905.

In his suffering and death he manifested the beautiful Christian spirit of patience and resignation. In his last hours he committed his spirit to God in a trustfulness and courage born of the Holy Spirit. The sermon was based on Ps. 139:17, and was preached by Rev. J. G. Graichen. The interment took place in the cemetery at Saxa Gotha. The bereaved family have the profound sympathy of the entire community.

A Popular Young Lady.

Miss Jennette Derrick, a charming and lovely daughter of the Dutch Fork, has returned to her home at Ballentine after a pleasant visit to relatives in town. She was accompanied by Miss Emma Koon, of this place. There are many disconsolate hearts in town by reason of her departure.

Dots from Pelion.

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

The barbecue here on Saturday, the 8th, was a success. Something like 500 to 600 people being present. Everything was quiet, no drinking nor quarreling at all. Mr. J. J. Shealy was certainly prepared to feed. The dinner was prepared nicely and Mr. Editor, they made no speech at all on the new county question. In the afternoon they played a game of base ball. All seemed to enjoy themselves fine.

Last week Mr. J. C. Godard, of this place, had a death in his family. He lost one of his twin boys.

Mrs. J. H. Laird is now in Dr. Knowlton's infirmary at Columbia. He performed a painful operation on her Saturday in the afternoon. At this writing she is very sick yet.

Miss Cora Rish is spending sometime at Pelion with her mother.

Miss Clara and Lula Wise is spending sometime with relatives at Pelior: Mr. W. M. Yonce from Florida is at home for a week. Also Mr. M. C. Laird from Florida is at his home. Miss Julia Shealy, after spending sometime with relatives, has returned to her home in New Brookland.

The Rev. J. F. McGill delivered a fine sermon to the folks here last night and afterwards a short talk was made by the pastor, Rev. L. S. Shealy. One of the Boys.

July 10, 1905.

Along the Sandy Road.

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

It has been sometime since you have heard from me as I have been eating ten different varieties of fruit and growing so fat that old — can scarcely pull me and the mail, so I will have to write between boxes.

I receive cake, peaches, apples, plums, grapes, melons and a nice badge. I will have to write for Uncle Sam's boys in this section as it seems that the carrier of the Gaston R. F. D. thinks he is wearing the belt. If he is we are eating the fruits and the melons, the cakes and the ice cream.

The crops are looking pretty good considering the drought.

Star Route.

Death.

Mr. John Q. Seastrunk, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Seastrunk, died at the residence of his parents on Depot street in this place last Thursday. He suffered with the "White Plague"—consumption. He was a young man of many estimable traits of character which gave bright promise of a glorious fruition had he lived to manhood, but unfeeling death cut his career short and his hopes for his earthly success and the fond expectations of an indulgent father and a loving mother are buried with him in the "beautiful city of the dead" at Irene.

Teachers in Tennessee.

Among the Palmetto teachers attending the summer school at Knoxville, Tenn., we notice the names of the following from Lexington county: A. P. Sites, of Spring Hill; Thoma B. Crouch and W. M. Oxner, of Leesville and J. E. Shealy, of White Rock. The later named is the President of the South Carolina contingent.

Notice.

ALL REAL ESTATE OWNERS AND tenants in the town of Lexington are hereby notified and required to immediately disinfect their sinks, privies and premises, prior to inspection by the Health Officer. Lime should be freely used and all filth and other disease breeding matter removed and destroyed. By order:

BOARD OF HEALTH, Town of Lexington, S. C.
