In Greenville.

Columbia Record, Nov. 20th.

Greenville has but recently voted out the dispensary under the Brice law and the dispensaries have not yet been closed in that county. Nevertheless we find the sheriff declaring that when the dispensaries are closed conditions will be intolerable if the constables are taken away. Already blind tiger dealers are opening up and the highest executive officer of the county declares that he cannot properly handle the situation without the aid of the constables. In this he is supported by the sentiment of taxpayers of all degrees of financial ability, who, it is reported, will gladly submit to the imposition of the extra tax in order to rid themselves of the flood of illicit liquor which they feel sure will sweep over the county.

Sheriff Gilreath says Greenville will be the worst blind tiger ridden county in the State. It may be so in proportion to the population, but there is little doubt that conditions are equally as bad now in other counties as they will be in Greenville, although the officials in them are not so honest and candid as the Greenville sheriff in acknowledging the true situation. Constables have been sent back to Pickens, Oconee and Union, an open admission that an impracticable and inefficient method of restricting the sale and consumption of liquor has been resorted to in Marion as much liquor is being sold as before the dispensaries were abolished, and in other counties where prohibition has been voted mass meetings have been called in the endeavor to arouse public sentiment so that the law will be enforced. If any of these have succeeded in accomplishing the purpose we have not heard of it.

These things show what we have all along contended that prohibition is a fraud. As a restrictive measure it is worthless and cannot be compared as such with the dispensary, with all its faults. In Greenville there are no doubt those to whom the dispensary is intolerable; there are people to whom the sale and consumption of whiskey is intolerable in any and all circumstances, but previous conditions in Greenville evidently are immeasurably preferred by the majority to what they will have to endure under the prohibition regime. The fact is candidly recognized and the people are asking that they be taxed so that the illicit sale of liquor may be restricted at least to the extent it was under the dispensary system. They might have had a continuance of those conditions without costing them a cent extra had they not permitted a small portion of the electors, led on by the will-o'-the-wisp of prohibition or partisan opposition to the dispensary, to foist upon them a system which means the indiscriminate sale of liquor.

The question "After the dispensary, what?" seems to have been very forcibly answered in Greenville. Blind tigers have sprung up everywhere like mushrooms, making conditions twice as difficult to handle even with constables aiding the local authorities. That is the answer in Greenville, and that it is in other counties even though it has not been made in quite so loud a voice.

In Time of Peace.

In the first months of the Russia-Japan war we had a striking example of the necessity for preparation and the early advantage of those who, so to speak, have shingled their roofs in dry weather. The virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our greatest men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared to successfully combat the first cold you take? A cold can be cured much more quickly when treated as soon as it has been contracted and before it has become settled in the system. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for the cure of colds and it should be kept at hand ready for instant use. For sale by the Kaufmann Drug Co.

Items from Boiling Springs.

Mr. Editor, I have been a reader of the Dispatch for a number of years and feel it my duty to send in a few dots from this point for publication, and if I find not the waste basket I will come again.

The public school at Liberty Hill is being taught by Miss Annie Winter, of Columbia. Miss Annie is giving perfect satisfaction to both parents and pupils. She is a graduate of South Carolina college.

Mr. S. J. Miller is doing a rushing turpentine business. He strives to please all who deal with him.

Mr. M. L. Brown, of near Barr, recently returned from a visit to the lower part of Aiken county, and reports a pleasant trip. Go again, Mr. Brown.

Mr. S. P. Miller, of Alabama, formerly of this county, has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Miller. Miss Emma Miller, the beautiful daughter of the latter, accompanied her brother back to Alabama. They speak of going to the Gulf of Mexico before they return home. We hope they will have an enjoyable trip. Miss Emma is known as one of the sweetest singers in this country, and is loved by all who know her. We hope her stay in the West will not be lengthy.

Success to the dear old Dispatch, Fido.

"I Thank the Lord!"

cried Hannah Plant, of Little Rock, Ark., "for the relief I got from Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It cured my fearful running sores, which nothing else would heal, and from which I suffered for five years." It is a marvelous healer for cuts, burns and wounds. Guaranteed at The Kaufmann Drug Co.'s drug store; 25c.

Letter from Tennessee.

It is with great interest that I look for the Dispatch every Friday evening or Saturday morning of each week. It always brings me news from my old native State and the good old county of Lexington.

South Carolina is a grand State—one among the best in the United States so far as climate and soil is concerned, and her people are among the best. I have three States that I am rather partial to: South Carolina, the home of my dear mother and the home of my childhood days; the grand State of Tennessee, the State where I have spent 47 years of my life, and I do think it one among the best States in the Union. The climate and soil of Tennessee are admirably adapted to the raising of nearly every kind of vegetation and particularly of all the leading crops as cotton, cereals and all kinds of fruits profitably; and last, but not least, the great State of Kentucky. My wife is a Kentuckian. The State is famous for fine horses and pretty women.

Rutherford, Tenn., Nov. 15, 1905

Charley Benson, a negro 18 years old, was carried from Camden to the State penitentiary on Monday to save him from lynching for having attempted to assault a respectable white woman. He has confessed his guilt.

L. Reibling, beer dispenser, was convicted on Monday in the circuit court of Spartanburg on the charge of violating the dispensary law in maintaining a nuisance in running a beer privilege house. He will appeal to the Supreme court.

is often as great as woman's, but Thos. S. Austin, Mgr. of the "Republican," of Leavenworth, Ind., was not unreasonable when he refused to allow the doctors to operate on his wife for female trouble. "Instead," he says, "we concluded to try Electric Bitters. My wife was then so sick she could hardly leave the bed, and five (5) physicians had failed to relieve her. After taking Electric Bitters she was perfectly cured and can now perform all her household duties." Guaranteed by The Kaufmann Drug Co., druggist, price 50c.

Williamsburg county voted the dispensary out on Tuesday by 87 majority.

The city of London had an immense "poverty parade" through her streets on Monday. The most conspicuous banners read: "Curse your charity. We want work."

Hugh O. Ryalls and Warner Blackard, students at the South-western Presbyterian University, Jackson, Tenn., fell over a banister while scuffling on Tuesday night and both were killed.

At a meeting of the trustees of the Mutual Life Insurance Company in New York on Wednesday the salary of President McCurdy was reduced from $150,000 to $75,000. It is thought he will be able to live on it. Other salary reductions amounting to $150,000 were made.

Six daughters of Robert Gilliland have been excluded from the white schools of Bonehome county, N. C., on the ground that they have some negro blood in their veins. The family deny this and have carried the case into court at Asheville, to compel the school authorities to receive them.

A new born infant, wrapped in garments of a fashionable woman's wardrobe, was left at a house in a questionable section in Greenville on Monday night. A five dollar bill was found in its clothing, with a promise of more to follow. The police department are uncertain what to do with it.

Croup.

A reliable remedy and one that should always be kept in the house for immediate use is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will prevent the attack if given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears. For sale by the Kaufmann Drug Co.
