

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp-Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

The Lexington Dispatch.

Wednesday, January 24, 1906.

Gaston Gleanings.

Now that the rush is somewhat over, and the advertising strain on your columns not so great, I take this opportunity to pen your readers a few items.

The store house of C. S. Goodwin is nearing completion, and already a nice line of new goods adorn the shelves. J. F. Sturkie is boss carpenter.

Our town is again without a physician, Dr. R. K. Smith having moved off. A good opening awaits the right man. Hope some one may see his way clear to locate here in the near future.

An order will go forward in a few days for two dozen mail boxes for the Gaston R. F. D. No. 1.

Our friend, Geo. W. Pound, having resigned his position in the State Dispensary, is home again to the delight of his many friends.

We were glad to greet our efficient Auditor, G. A. Derrick, and the untiring editor of the Dispatch recently.

U. W. Spiers had the misfortune to cut his foot recently while out chopping. At last reports he was some better.

Our town and community was astir recently over the ravings of a mad dog. It bit several dogs, hogs, etc., and was last seen in Pelion.

The new mill rock ordered by Prof. Smith has been placed, and now turns out excellent grit.

Our friend, J. R. Lee, is moving back to his place and will get his mail on the R. F. D.

The health of the happy Felix family is at par.

Watch the Legislature! A bill ought to pass requiring pistol carriers to pay one hundred dollars license fee, the proceeds of which to go to the school funds, commissioned officer. Any one violating the act pay a fine of five hundred dollars, to go to the school fund, or be placed on the chain gang not less than five years. God speed the day when something like this may become a law. Billy Felix.

How to Avoid Pneumonia.

We have never heard of a single instance of a cold resulting in pneumonia when Foley's Honey and Tar has been taken. It not only stops the cough but heals and strengthens the lungs. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered. Dr. C. J. Bishop, of Agnew, Mich., writes: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar in three very severe cases of pneumonia with good results in every case." The Kaufmann Drug Co.

Vardaman Whips Convict.

Jackson, Miss., Jan. 18.—A report having been current for some weeks that Gov. Vardaman had thrashed severely a convict at the governor's mansion some time ago, M. W. Neal-vine Wells, Jr., a member of the legislature penitentiary committee, called on the governor and asked him if the report was true. Gov. Vardaman said that he had whipped the convict who, he says, was shining his shoes and made some impudent remark. The governor said he had kicked the convict and then grabbed a broom and had given him a sound thrashing.

Of interest to the Housewife.

In the February Delicestor the is a much of housewifely interest. Isabel Gordon Curtis' helpful household serial called "The Progress of a Housewife" touches upon the kitchen and its utensils. Delicious recipes for onions and cakes and desserts are supplemented by an interesting and instructive article on "Meat and Its Uses," and the pages of Illustrated Cookery are extremely suggestive. Gardening and house furnishing are other topics of particular interest in the home.

A Jamaican Lady Speaks Highly of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mrs. Michael Hart, wife of the superintendent of Cart service at Kingston, Jamaica, West Indies Islands, says that she has for some years used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, croup and whooping cough and has found it very beneficial. She has implicit confidence in it and would not be without a bottle of it in her house. Sold by Kaufmann Drug Co.

The Gaffney Horror.

Spartanburg, Jan. 16.—It is reported here that the attorneys for the defence in the case of the State vs. George Hasty, who shot and killed Milo Bennett and Abbott Davison at Gaffney, will move for a change of venue on the ground that public sentiment in Gaffney is strong against the defendant, that it will be impossible for him to secure a fair and impartial trial.

Miss Verne Sheridan, who it is alleged was insulted by Hasty, which led to the killing of Bennett and Davison, is in Spartanburg. Miss Sheridan is travelling with the Browns, in the Town Company, which company is playing in Gaffney tonight. Miss Sheridan stopped over in Spartanburg, having been advised not to go to Gaffney, for fear that her appearance in that town might arouse the people to a pitch of excitement and cause them to attempt something rash.

Boylston Gleanings.

It seems that colds, chills and fever are at hard labor in this section.

Mr. Thomas Calk visited the home folks last week.

Mr. Henry Jake Rawl, of Leesville, shook hands with relatives and friends in this section last week.

After blasting several feet through rock, Moses Shuler, colored, the champion well digger, reached water in Mr. W. A. Kaiser's well last week.

Mr. and Mrs. P. I. Rawl took a visit in the sand hills last Saturday evening. Young Batch.

The reason Dr. Dade's Little Liver Pills give perfect satisfaction is due to their tonic effect on the liver. They never gripe. "Sold by Kaufmann Drug Co.

FEAST OF THE WHALE

AN ESKIMO BANQUET THAT MAY LAST A WHOLE DAY.

Incident of the Social Life Among the Natives of Arctic Alaska After the Hunting Season Is Over—The Return of the Fleet to Shore.

Writing of the industrial and social methods and customs of the Eskimos of arctic Alaska, Edward A. McIlhenny, in the Century, says:

The principal occupation of these Eskimos (of arctic Alaska) during the spring is the hunting of the bow head whale in the leads, or open water, and among the floe-ice of the Arctic ocean. The taking of a whale is always a time of great rejoicing with these people, for it means not only an abundance of food and fuel, but a large amount of valuable trading material.

After the whaling season is over the boats which have been used in the chase are gathered on the leads between the pack and shore ice, which is often some miles from shore, at the foot of some road that has been cut through the rough ice from the land to the water. The most successful boat's crew, with their umiak (a whaling boat covered with skins), takes the lead, followed by the other boats in the order of their success. The harpoons, floats, paddles and everything pertaining to the chase of the whale are placed in their respective positions. The umiak is then placed on a flat ivory runner sled and lashed firmly in place. The owner, who is called omelic (headman), stands on the ice at the right hand side of the bow; the boat steerer stands at the stern and the paddlers stand at their respective places along the sides of the boat. When all is ready the omelic gives the word to go forward, and each of the crew slips over his shoulder a broad breast strap of sealskin, which is attached to a short line made fast to the thwart of the boat. When all is ready the boat is pulled forward a few lengths and the next boat in order goes through the same form, moving on in its turn, until all the umiaks are strung out in a long line on the grounded ice ready for their return to land.

At a signal from the head boat all move forward, chanting weird songs of the goodness and power of the whale, for one of the superstitions of these people is that whenever working on any object to be used in whaling or doing anything connected with whaling they must constantly extol the merits of this great animal.

Long before the boats reach shore the entire population left in the village—men, women, children and dogs—congregate on the beach to welcome the home comers. When the first boat nears land it is brought to a halt a few feet from the shore line, and its tall-man, which is always carried in a little pouch in the bow and may be a wolf's head, the head of a raven, iron pyrites or any odd thing, is lifted out by the omelic and held in his right hand toward the shore, where stands the chief medicine man of the tribe, who pours over it a little fresh water to refresh it and thank it for the benefits given. If the boat has secured a whale, or, if the boat has not been lucky, to appease any slight that may have been put upon the tall-man, in the hope that it will give them better luck in the future.

After reaching shore a day or possibly two may be given for preparation, and then the great feast begins. Each successful boat owner, beginning with the one whose boat secured the most whales, gives a feast, to which he invites all the members of the tribe and any other people who may be in the village. First a wind break of umiaks, sails or skins is built to act as a shelter against the chilly blasts of the polar winds. It is placed in the form of a large circle if enough material can be secured, in the center of which a walrus hide is placed on the ground, and to its four corners are tied long ropes, which are passed over tripods placed about twenty-five feet from the skin. The ends of the ropes are then drawn tight and made fast with stout stakes driven into the ground, thus raising the skin about four feet. The skin thus becomes a platform some eight or ten feet square, which serves as a sort of movable stage on which the young women dance.

The feast usually begins at the time when the sun reaches a due western point, about 6 o'clock in the afternoon, for during the eighty days of summer at Otkavie the sun never sets, and, being without timepieces, the Eskimos mark their time by the position of the sun while it is visible and by the moon and stars when the sun has gone for the long arctic night. These feasts sometimes last twenty-four hours.

Bigger Yields

A given number of acres fertilized with Farmers' Bone produce a greater yield of cotton, than the same acreage with ordinary fertilizer. Farmers' Bone does more than that. It makes it possible to reduce the acreage and increase the yield. Try it this year. The man who uses has twenty-one years of fertilizer experience back of him. Over 13,000 carloads of Royster fertilizers were used on the crops of 1905. This volume of business stamps Farmers' Bone the best.

FARMERS' BONE

Held up on Street.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 18.—Street Car Conductor Richardson was held up tonight at Hardin and Pendleton streets while off duty on his way home and robbed of $150 in small change and his watch and revolver. There is no clue to the identity of the highwayman, who is evidently the same that has been committing these sort of crimes for several months. The police are confused. The man used a revolver, but did not wear a mask.
