

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs.

This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp-Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Sam Jones in Charlotte.

There is only one Sam Jones. That's enough at one time. He spoke at the Charlotte Chautauqua and he was the favorite. The Observer reporter made a snap shot at his humor and oddities. The earnest and pathetic paragraphs were left out. We give the following from the Observer. He began in this way:

"We will now," he said, "have a selection from my wife's first husband. I am like Pat. I hope I'll never live to see my wife married again."

He told the story of a devil who married a woman and lived with her 20 years, they working together and accumulating property. Then she dies, and before 12 months that devil begins to notice. He gets him a rubber tired buggy and fine horse, and rides that woman all about. Pretty soon the old house is rolled back and a new house built, and then there's a wedding. There are two servants, where there wasn't any before. Sam said that if they ever heard of his doing that way they might break his neck. Continuing: "I always did think a woman ought to make her children respect her first husband. Of course I don't care what she does with the other devil."

"I am going to talk tonight on 'Comin' Some.' I never tried it before, but I thought I'd try it here. This audience will do to practice on. That's why I like to come to Charlotte; it don't strain me to talk to you or listen to you. I always go away from here perfectly rested."

He discussed the chautauqua movement, saying that the name means a sack tied in the middle. He repeated the definition several times. "I just say this for your information," he explained, with fine irrelevancy. "The chautauqua is a compromise between the old Methodist camp meeting and the county fair. There ain't enough religion left for a camp meeting, and the people are tired of the old cow and the punkin." Apropos of the scarcity of religion he said that the preachers are not to blame; they do the best they can with the material they have to work on. "You feed your preacher on wheat straw the year round and tap him up, and expect him to make it in 2:10. Our good brother last night gave you some straight goods about the cigarettes. He didn't talk about them as I would, but he showed he would if he could." A mother once asked Sam what to do about her son's smoking cigarettes. "How old is he?" Sam inquired. "Six," she said. "Take him out in the back yard and wring his neck," Sam commanded.

"There ain't a church in this town that hasn't got them lousy devils, the members of that club, in it. I wouldn't let my carriage driver drive up to that club, and he's a nigger, and a full blooded nigger. I'd rather have my son in the penitentiary than in that club. And you claiming to be the chillun of God and on your way home?"

"But I don't want to make you club fellers mad, for I ain't going to fight you. I'm about you like the feller who started off to commit suicide and a mad bull made at him and he ran from the mad bull. A looker on asked him, 'Why did you run from the bull, if you wanted to die?'" "But," he says, "I reckon I've got my choice as to how I'm going to die?"

He said he would talk straight at them, if they rode him out of town on a rail, and if they did so, he would say to them, "Gentlemen, I'd as soon walk but for the honor of the thing." He has been criticised for preaching out of the bible. "But you fellers are out of the bible yourselves, and I must go out of it to hit you fellers."

If anybody is not satisfied with Sam he will reply as the negro Baptist preacher did to the Methodist niggers, who were looking on at his baptizing. He said, "Breddern, 'mersion is de only bible way to baptize." "How does you know dat?" said the Methodist niggers. "Dat ain't none er yo' business," retorted the preacher.

"He touches on politics," saying that "Roosevelt is the best, truest, bravest President this county has had from Washington down, and Iv'e been around some, too. I've been around more than you and all your people, back to Adam." But Roosevelt nor any other candidate for the presidency, except the prohibitionist will fight liquor. "But I'll fight that whiskey gang, I'll hit 'em as long as Iv'e got arms, kick 'em as long as I've got feet, bite 'em as long as Iv'e got teeth, and then gum 'em!"

"Nobody can ride me. When a man puts his foot in my stirrup, next thing he knows, after the dust settles, I will be standin' at the trough, eatin' with one of his galluses around my hind leg."

He was about to get through now. He confided that he had spoken longer than usual. It rested him, you know, to speak to such a simple crowd. He said the lousy club devils would go from the house, hanging their heads and saying, "I'm a fool. I set there and laughed at that rascal. Do you know why I made you laugh? For the same reason that the fellow gave the sick dog chloroform; so he could keep him still while he took his medicine."

Sam said he was anxious to take well in Charlotte. He pointedly asked Captain Franklin if he was taking well. "If New York and Boston and Chicago set down on me its all right; but if Charlotte sets down on a feller, he's gone! I want to tell you the Declaration of Independence was first writ out right here. You'll hear that every time you come here, but you won't hear it anywhere else."

He paid an extensive tribute to himself, saying that he has preached more sermons and to more people than any man, dead or alive, in the world's history. All the preachers here, he said will admit that the devil is in this town, but no two of them can agree as to how to git him out. The Methodist preacher will say, "Let's ride him out on a rail." The Presbyterian: "Brethren, let's do all things with decency and in order;" the Baptists: "Let's take him to the river and drown him;" and the Episcopalians: "Gentlemen, if you run the devil out of this town my members will be so lonesome I can't do a thing."

He happened to think of the pug dog woman.

"When the Lord gives a man a good wife and 15 or 20 chillun, he blesses that man; but when the devil gives a man a woman and a poodle dog, he just throws off on him. I don't like the poodle dog woman nohow. No woman who kisses a poodle dog can kiss Sam Jones. I'm not much on kissin' women nohow. If I had a poodle dog woman for a wife and she took that poodle dog out driving and wouldn't take me, I would go back home and ask about my wife, and say, 'Where is it?'" He made a fine pass at the Mormons, and erupted some eloquent "partin' words."

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular free.

Cartee is the young white man who was arrested and bound over some time ago on the complaint of Mr. J. W. Johnson under a charge of assault of a high and aggravated nature. His bond was fixed at $400. The bond was furnished and the case was to come up at next term of court. After a consultation of the attorneys it was decided to settle the matter outside the court.

The latest estimate gives the total dead at about 10,000.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 15.—Owing to the failure to agree on the wage scale a general strike of all shop employes on the Wabash Railroad system has been ordered beginning Monday, and affecting 1,600 skilled mechanics, including machinists, boiler makers and blacksmiths. Australia exports 24,000,000 rabbit skins a year. To kill this great number costs about $325,000.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold

A. J. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed to only aggravate my case. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package, and it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." The Kaufmann Drug Co.
