More Liquor is Being Sold in South Carolina Dispensary Counties Under the New System Than Was Sold Under the Old System.

So far as we can discern from the figures furnished, more liquor is sold in South Carolina, area for area, under the present system than there was under the old dispensary. The new plan has a local option feature under which each county may determine whether the sale shall be allowed or prohibited, and, so far, it appears that nineteen out of the forty-one counties allow the sale, and that for March last, the first month of practical operation of the present system, the sales in those counties aggregated $153,444.66, or at any rate, of some $1,840,000 per annum.

If this rate were to hold up throughout the State it would give a total annual sale of $4,000,000 as against the $3,000,000 of the old dispensary.

In the incomplete condition of the statistics it cannot, as already observed, positively be said that more liquor is sold, but so far as the data at hand go it looks that way. Some of our nearest neighbors over there seem particularly thirsty, the Aiken sales being at the rate of $94,000, and those of Columbia at the rate of $60,000 per annum.

As the new system progresses its development will be watched with interest. Whether temperance or dram-drinking is on the gain and whether public sentiment favors liquor selling for the sake of school revenue or the contrary are questions upon which light must necessarily be afforded, as also upon the proposition of whether governmental saloon keeping, even in the modified form of local dispensaries meets popular approval in the long run.—Augusta Chronicle.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

A Good Remedy.

At the first indication of diphtheria in the throat of a child make the room close; take a tin cup and pour into it an equal quantity of tar and turpentine; then hold the cup over a fire so as to fill the room with the fumes. The patient, in inhaling the fumes, will cough and spit up the membranous matter and the diphtheria will pass off. The fumes of the tar and turpentine lessen the trouble in the throat, and thus afford the relief that has baffled the skill of physicians to give.

Whipped, Tared and Feathered.

A band of "White Caps" in a remote section of Spottsville county, Va., recently tarred and feathered a young married man, who is accused of having betrayed his wife's young sister.

The men of the neighborhood disguised themselves and captured the accused man at night while he was returning to his home from a neighbor's house.

He was stripped to the skin and given a severe lashing with hickory whips and then tarred and feathered. The name of those involved have not been obtained.

Better Than Medicines.

The best doctors of to-day tell you that diet is the main thing. By eating just enough—not too much—of such foods as suit you you can keep yourself in perfect physical health; and even when disease does threaten, it can, as a rule, be kept at arm's length by certain articles of diet. Buttermilk is admirable for digestive disturbances, especially those accompanied by fever. Cider is another excellent remedy for dyspepsia. Persons whom beer makes bilious can usually take cider without any evil effect. Celery is a specific for Rheumatism, and spinach is good for rheumatism and gout. For sleeplessness lettuce is an excellent remedy, while nervous persons should eat potatoes. A stewed onion is excellent for a cold, and also hot lemon water without sugar. The virtues of black-currant jelly is a remedy for sore throat have long been familiar to the careful housewife.

Ain't It So.

In view of the fact that after the mercury thaws and again rises in the thermometer there will be an epidemic of a virulent type of spring fever, we are greatly indebted to the editor of the Fairfax Enterprise for a remedy for this malady—sassafras tea. In making this timely announcement, our friend becomes a public benefactress. She also states that this beverage of our grand-mothers will "bring about a lovely transparency of the skin." The last suggestion we should not have made public for the girls for miles around, armed with hoes and picks, will now march to the woods like Coxe's army and exterminate the sassafras root and branch.—Edgefield Advertiser.

THE CHANGE OF LIFE

Sensible Advice to Women from Mrs. Henry Lee, Mrs. Fred Certia and Mrs. Pinkham.

MRS HENRY LEE

MRS. FRED CERTIA

Owing to modern methods of living not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms.

This is the most critical period of her whole existence and every woman who neglects the care of her health at this time invites disease and pain.

When her system is in a deranged condition or she is predisposed to apoplexy or congestion of any organ, the tendency is at this period likely to become active and with a host of nervous irritations make life a burden. At this time also cancers and tumors are more liable to form and begin their destructive work.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, melancholia, dread of impending evil, palpitation of the heart, irregularities, constipation and dizziness are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period of life when this great change may be expected.

Mrs. Fred Certia, 1014 So. Lafayette Street, So. Bend, Ind., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the ideal medicine for women who are passing through Change of Life. For several months I suffered from hot flashes, extreme nervousness, headache and sleeplessness. I had no appetite and could not sleep. I had made up my mind there was no help for me until I began to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, my bad symptoms ceased, and it brought me safely through the danger period, built up my system and I am in excellent health. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound unsurpassed for women during this trying period of life."

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health, actually thousands of women, you cannot well say without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me." It is your duty to yourself and family to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Henry Lee, 60 Winter Street, New Haven, Conn., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"After suffering untold misery for three years during Change of Life I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I wrote you of my condition, and began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and followed your advice, and to-day I am well and happy. I can now walk anywhere and work as well as anyone, and for years previous I had tried but could not get around without help. I consider your medicine a sovereign balm for suffering women."

Women passing through this critical period should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If there is anything about your case you don't understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice. It is free and has guided thousands to health.

Worry Destroys Health.

By Gertrude Touzells.

Mental strain breaks down the health almost more rapidly and destructively than physical disease. Notice how long it takes a man or woman to recover from an attack of nervous prostration. See what a complete breakdown often follows even a short period of intense mental strain. The reason is this: In the case of physical disease attention is paid at once and remedies applied. On the other hand, mental strain slowly uses up the entire store of vitality until at last, when a breakdown comes, there is no reserve strength upon which to draw. People who worry or are under severe mental strain need something which will preserve their strength. Some extra food to build up the reserve force is necessary. Some nourishment which, without taxing the digestion, will immediately be converted into strength. Stimulants are useless. Something which will permanently build up is necessary. Nothing is so good as Scott's Emulsion. It builds up strength faster than any known food. It has been used by the medical profession for thirty years, because it builds strength rapidly without taxing the digestion. It is concentrated nourishment in easily digested form. It contains no alcohol—no narcotic drugs. Scott's Emulsion slips right into the system, immediately strengthening and building nerves and tissues. It is of wonderful benefit to all who work or worry. It gives nature the material with which to build up perfect health. Begin taking Scott's Emulsion today. It will give you increased nerve force, vigor and vitality.

Good Words for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

People everywhere take pleasure in testifying to the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Edward Phillips of Barclay, Md., writes: "I wish to tell you that I can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My little girl, Catherine, who is two years old, has been taking this remedy whenever she has had a cold since she was two months old. About a month ago I contracted a dreadful cold myself, but I took Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was soon as well as ever." This remedy is for sale by Kaufmann Drug Company.

Apple Meringue.

Fill a small deep dish half full of stewed apples or peaches and pour over an icing of the beaten whites of six eggs and six tablespoonfuls of white sugar. Bake slowly. Can be eaten hot or cold. If the apples are stewed, only leave in the oven long enough to cook and brown the icing nicely.

A Narrow Escape.

G. W. Cloyd, a merchant, of Plunk, Mo., had a narrow escape four years ago, when he ran a jimson bur into his thumb. He says: "The doctor wanted to amputate it but I would not consent. I bought a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and that cured the dangerous wound." 25c. at Kaufmann Drug Co., druggists.
