Money Plentiful. Money is plentiful now, so the banks say, and there will be no more cry of "no money" throughout the country for the next few months. The farmers are putting their cotton on the market, at least a portion of it and this accounts for the general increase all over the country.

Notice to Contractors! There will be let to the lowest bidder at the Fair Grounds at 11 o'clock, on Saturday, the 21st, covering 30 stables and the poultry house, with corrugated iron roofing, the chairman reserving the right to reject any and all bids. W. Q. M. BERLEY, Chairman.

Lexington Wins. The Lexington second nine defeated the Irene ball team at that place Saturday afternoon by a score of 8 to 7. They will play again at Irene Saturday afternoon. Batteries: Lexington, Wingard, Miller and Wingard; Irene, Smith, Kyzer and Roof.

Two Large Rattlesnakes Killed. Mr. John M. Jumper, who lives about seven miles east of Swansea, killed two of the largest rattlesnakes, near his home, I have ever seen. One had nine rattles and the other fifteen. Each measured about five feet in length. T. L. W. Swansea, S. C., Sept. 8, 1907.

Ginnery Now Running. The Lexington ginnery is now running on full time. The farmers are bringing their cotton in and it taxes the full capacity of the machinery, which is up-to-date in every particular. The ginnery turns out a bale about every twenty minutes, or three bales an hour. This is filling a long felt want here, and the proper thing for our citizens to do now is to establish a cotton seed oil mill. There is plenty of local capital to start the enterprise without outside aid. However, it would not take long to get others interested, for there is nothing that pays a larger dividend to stockholders than a well-managed plant of this kind. At no distant day we expect to see the proper consideration of our citizens. Nothing helps to build a town like enterprises.

Death of Miss Shull. Miss Amanda Shull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Shull, died at the home of her parents about four miles from Lexington, yesterday, at 12 o'clock, after a brief illness of typhoid fever. She will be buried today at 2 p. m., at the old Adam Shull burying ground.

Miss Shull was an extremely bright and attractive young woman and her death has cast a gloom over the entire community in which she lived. Another daughter, Miss Barbara, is quite sick with the same fever, which makes the situation peculiarly sad. Mr. and Mrs. Shull have the sympathy of their many friends in this trying hour of bereavement.

Al. G. Fields' Minstrels. The famous Al. G. Fields' Minstrels will appear at the Columbia Theatre on the night of the 18th. This show is one of the best in the United States and embraces all the pleasing features of a fine entertainment.

Lovers of good music and song, and minstrelsy of a high character, will have an opportunity on the above date to laugh and grow fat. The performance will satisfy the most fanciful theatre goers, as the Fields aggregation never fails to draw a large audience. Numbers of Lexingtonians will no doubt embrace this opportunity next Wednesday night.

The Fields company will be one of the first of a series of entertainments, which Manager Brown has secured for the coming theatrical season. Mr. Brown, who has just returned from New York, knows what the people of Columbia want along this line, consequently he has only booked high-class companies.

N. A. Young. The firm of N. A. Young, Columbia, has a full line of new fall goods ready for your inspection, as will be seen by reference to the advertising columns of this issue. This firm is too favorably known to the people of this county to need any commendation from us. All we ask is that you give N. A. Young a call while in Columbia.

Rev. Cronk Coming. Rev. B. W. Cronk, of Pembroke, Va., has accepted the call of the Lexington pastorate and will arrive here about October 15th, to take charge of the work. Rev. Cronk is well known throughout the country, having had charge of the Lutheran Orphanage at one time. All will welcome Rev. Cronk and family to Lexington.
