Legislature Met Yesterday.

The General Assembly of South Carolina met in annual session yesterday at noon. The senate was organized by the election of W. L. Mauldin of Greenville, president pro tem; M. M. Mann of St. Matthews, clerk; Dr. W. S. Stokes, reading clerk; J. F. Shumpert, reelected sergeant-at-arms; the Rev. A. N. Brunson, chaplain.

In the House.

The Hon. R. S. Whaley, of Charleston, reelected speaker without opposition; Jas. A. Hoyt, clerk; J. E. Smith, reading clerk; the Rev. R. N. Pratt, chaplain.

Both Houses Stand by Tillman.

Both houses unanimously adopted resolutions endorsing Senator Tillman's course in the United States senate and assuring him of their confidence and high esteem.

The Governor's message will be read today.

Abraham Jeffords Pardoned By Gov. Ansel.

Gov. Ansel has granted a pardon to Abraham Jeffords, of this county, who has served twenty years of a life sentence for breaking into the home of Lee Tillman and "stealing therefrom goods and chattels to the value six dollars and twenty-five cents." The articles stolen included a shotgun valued at $2.50, a pair of pants valued at 60 cents, a pair of cuff buttons, value not stated, and a pair of cuffs valued at 25 cents.

The Governor acted upon a letter he received two months ago from the negro written from the State farm at Boykin, stating the crime for which he was convicted, saying he was now 53 years old and wanted so much to die "a citizen." The Governor granted the pardon only after a thorough examination.

Dr. Shuler's Apples.

Dr. J. L. Shuler, of Selwood, presented The Dispatch with several apples last week which were taken from a tree in his orchard. The Doctor states that this was the second crop which this tree had produced within one year. The apples while not so large were delicious in flavor.

Notice! Notice!

I have hulls at $5.00 per ton, also cotton seed meal at $24.50 per ton. You can't buy any cheaper elsewhere.
