Rushton Has Returned.

B. F. Rushton, the young white convict who escaped so mysteriously from the chain-gang about two weeks ago just before a heavy rain and thunderstorm, returned to camp last Thursday to serve out the remainder of his sentence of eight months for forgery, after spending a week with his wife and children near Saluda. Rushton told Capt. Mack upon his return that he was just obliged to see his family and that he made no attempt to go further than his home. He said he cut his shackles with the axe he carried off with him presumably to get wood, and that he wore a suit of clothes belonging to one of the negroes. When he left he was the cook and a "trusty," but is now shoveling dirt along with the other convicts, Capt. Mack being of the opinion that Rushton might want to make another visit to his family soon.

With the return of Rushton, this leaves only two men to escape from the gang under the new management, and both of them were "trusties," having only a few more months to serve.

Merry Fishing Party.

A merry party of our young people left town last Wednesday afternoon bound for Barre's lower mill, there to enjoy a fish-fry. The late afternoon and early evening were spent in fishing, and they followed the "fry" proper. All those who went report a very pleasant trip. Among those of the party we note: Misses Jennie Bass Brown, Rosa Ranch, Ernestine Barre, Pearl Clarke, Mary and Katie Belle Caughman, and Lucy Daniel Wingard; Messrs. Heber Barre, Cyrus L. Shealy, Gus Barre, Frank Wingard, and Wadsworth and William Neeley.

At The Grand.

The Wills Musical Comedy Co., at The Grand theatre in Columbia this week is one of the finest attractions on the road and is making a decided hit with Columbia theatre goers. The program at The Grand for this week surpasses all previous efforts, and the management is being warmly congratulated. You should attend the performances at The Grand this week.

School Trustees.

To the County Supt. of Education. Dear Sir:—I send you, herewith, a copy of the Attorney General's opinion as to the appointment of school trustees. Section 1210 of the code was amended in 1903, 1904, and 1905, and the contradictions in the several amendments could not be harmonized without this ruling.

In consequence of this opinion, there will be no appointment of school trustees this year except in case of vacancies by resignation, death or some other cause.

Yours respectfully,
J. E. Swearingen,
State Supt. of Education.

The Lyric.

The Lyric, the Home of Polite Vaudeville in Columbia, has an excellent program for this week. There is no more popular playhouse in the city and the crowds continue to increase. Large, cool room with electric fans, makes this theatre comfortable the year around. The management of The Lyric is always catering to the best that's going, and the attractions this week are up to the usual high standard of excellency.
