Death of Mr. C. S. Bradford.

On last Friday morning about 11 o'clock, Mr. C. S. Bradford died very suddenly while directing some work in St. Stephen's cemetery. Death was instantaneous, due to an attack of the heart.

Mr. Bradford was one of the best known and most highly beloved men in Lexington. Coming here several years ago from Augusta, he assumed the position of associate editor of The Dispatch, a position he filled with satisfaction and ability. He was also postmaster here for about six years. He was instrumental in the establishment of the Palmetto Collegiate Institute and was active in all that pertained to the betterment of the town.

His wife, who was a most estimable woman, died a few years ago, and the family moved to Portsmouth, Va., where they resided for about a year when they returned to Lexington.

Mr. Bradford will be missed by everybody. He was always ready and willing to lend aid to those in distress and his whole life was spent in doing good.

He was about 67 years old, and is survived by four daughters and two sons, as follows: Mrs. Ella Edwards, of New York; Miss Helen Bradford, secretary of the agricultural department of Clemson college; Mrs. P. T. Brodie and Miss Mae Bradford, of Lexington; Mr. Jule Bradford, of New York, and Mr. Hal Bradford, of Tampa, Fla.
His remains were laid to rest in St. Stephen's cemetery on Saturday afternoon, with last sad rites by the Rev. K. G. Finlay, of Columbia, and Rev. T. S. Brown, of Lexington.

Prof. Arthur F. Harman.

Prof. Arthur F. Harman, son of Col. and Mrs. M. D. Harman of Lexington, has recently been elected president of the Alabama Educational Association, which is a compliment to his ability as a teacher. Prof. Harman has forged his way to the front by hard study and persistent effort and the honor is worthily bestowed. His many friends have watched his career with interest and pleasure.

Clint Rhoden Killed

By W. B. Glenn.

Clint Rhoden was shot and instantly killed on the streets of Batesburg last Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock, City Electrician Wm. B. Glenn, three shots from a 35 calibre revolver having taken effect in the body, either of which would have produced instant death.

Mr. Glenn gave up to the authorities at Batesburg and came direct to Lexington, where he remained in jail until last night, when he was released on bond in the sum of $5,000.

Just what the trouble arose over is hard to learn, but it is generally understood that bad feeling had existed between the two for several weeks. It is also stated that Rhoden had made threats against the life of Mr. Glenn and that he was in the act of pulling a pistol, when Glenn fired. Glenn is carrying a black eye, as a result of a severe blow from Rhoden.

Mr. Glenn has been employed as city electrician by the town of Batesburg for several years, in fact, ever since Batesburg has had an electric light plant, and is held in highest esteem by everyone. A harder working man than "Bill" Glenn is not to be found anywhere and he is as honest as the days are long. He has employed Messrs. Eard & Dreher, Hon. W. H. Sharpe and Col. E. F. Strother, of Batesburg, to defend him.

Both parties had many friends, and the terrible tragedy is regretted by everyone.

Mrs. Rebekah Harman

Undergoes Operation.

Mrs. Rebekah Harman is in the Columbia hospital, where she was carried on Friday afternoon for treatment. An operation was performed by Drs. Owens & Derrick for obstruction of the bowels, and at last reports, she was getting along nicely. Her many friends wish for her a permanent recovery.

Captured in Florida.

Sheriff P. H. Corley captured Henry Planter, a negro, who escaped from the county chaingang during February last year, at Sanford, Fla., on Thursday. Planter, it will be recalled, was a "trusty," and was permitted the usual privileges around the camp. One night, while the gang was located near the poor house, Planter made his escape just before a very heavy rain, which made it a physical impossibility for the authorities to run him down, or to even have an idea as to which course he took.

Sheriff Corley at once got busy, and it was not long before he was on the trail of his man. The first evidence of Planter's whereabouts was found in North Carolina, but as that State had just voted prohibition Planter decided that he would hunt a damper climate and made his way to the "Land of Flowers," where he would have no difficulty in satisfying his appetite, and where all negroes want to go. But this proved a wrong step for Planter, for Sheriff Corley was soon on his trail and now, instead of enjoying the "blessings of a trusty," he is doing stunts under Capt. Mack on the Augusta road with a pick and shovel, and wearing the ball and chain. This he will continue to do for sixteen months, unless he succeeds in making another escape, and this is not likely.

Three Murdered in One Night

Laura's, March 27.—In the vicinity of Parks Station, three miles east of the city, last night Toney Anderson was shot dead in the cabin home of Ida McCoy Nelson, the negroess herself mortally wounded, dying a few hours later, and Alex Ray, living a mile distant, was called to his door and shot through the heart, expiring almost instantly.

About an hour after the double crime at Ida Nelson's, Alex Ray was aroused by some one in the yard who wished to see him on business. Ray came to the door and his callers asked if he could change a dollar. Ray replied that he probably could, and upon getting his pocketbook returned to the door when he was felled to the floor with a ghastly gunshot wound in the chest. He never spoke. His wife heard the talking before the shot was fired, but did not recognize any of the visitors' voices.
