Frank Rikard Met a Tragic Death.

Late Thursday afternoon, Frank Rikard, a young white man residing about one mile south of Edmunds, met a most tragic death. The young lad had worked hard all day and late in the afternoon walked down to the pond, which is located a short distance from the house, to spend some time fishing, taking his shotgun with him. He had not been gone long when his mother's attention was attracted by the report of a gun. She and a younger son hurried to the scene. Upon arrival at the pond they were horrified to find the young man lying flat in the boat gasping for life, with a ghastly wound in the stomach. He expired within a few minutes without making a statement.
It is the presumption that the young man, in getting into the boat, slipped and in falling the hammer of the gun struck the edge of the boat, causing a discharge of the shell.
Frank Rikard was only about 22 years of age, and was the mainstay of a widowed mother, his father having died some time ago.
His remains were laid to rest in the Shealy burying ground on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends.

June Court Near at Hand.

The regular June term of court for this county will convene on the second Monday in June with the Hon. Earnest Gary presiding.
The docket is unusually heavy, there being five murder cases. Owing to the fact, however, that this is a busy season with the farmers, it is likely that some of the murder cases will be continued. There are several prisoners in jail and their cases will have to be disposed of.
Following is a list of the jurors who will serve during the first week:
Heber R Dreher, Willie L Spires, Jas C Dunbar, D Ike Shealy, Robt J Stoumire, Joe W Meetze, Maxey H Lybrand, John J Rish, Jno A Huffman, J O Callum, A Malaohi Smith, J Hamp Hutto, J L Jumper, Danl J Taylor, Julius N Eleazer, Hugh O Bookman, L Wash Rikard, A Madison Hutto, Travis Hill, J Danl Burgess, Walter F Hook, John A Hamiter, Q Y Wingard, Sam O Crim, Wm P Steele, Ryal E North, Jr., Noah W Younginer, Geo U Slice, Wilbur E Fulmer, Bob Hallman, J M Merchant, J W Redmond, Jr., H A Costner, W Frank Rawl, Adam S Haltiwanger, W J Ballentine.

Improving Parsonage.

The carpenters are at work on the Lutheran parsonage on upper Main street. A second story is being added and many other conveniences made. When the job is completed it will add much to the attractiveness of that part of town.

Bridge Contract Awarded.

The County Board of Commissioners on Saturday awarded the contract for the construction of the steel bridge across Saluda at Wyse's Ferry, to the Carolina Engineering Company, of Burlington, N. C., for $11,990. There were five companies represented, all making a bid, but the Carolina Engineering Co., were the lowest bidders, and the only one that came within the amount provided by the last legislature, $12,000. This is the same company who secured the contract before and the fact that they have a considerable part of the material already on the ground, enabled them to underbid their competitors, it is said. At any rate, by the holding up of the work last year, the county has been saved something over $8,000 on the contract, the amount of the former contract being $18,500.
It is understood that work will commence on the bridge at an early date, and will be rapidly pushed to completion.

F. C. I. Closed Last Night.

The commencement exercises of the Palmetto Collegiate Institute, which began on Sunday morning with a strong sermon by Rev. J. H. Harnes, president of Newberry College, came to a successful conclusion last night with the essays of the twelve young graduates and the literary address by Dr. S. C. Mitchell, president of the University of South Carolina. This was Dr. Mitchell's first visit to Lexington, but he captured the hearts of those who heard his masterful address last evening. At the conclusion of the address, diplomas were awarded to the twelve graduates, as follows: Misses May Amick, Annie Louise Taylor, Nive Counts, Minnie Hendrix, James Rufus Clarke, Blanche Shull, and Messrs. Wilbur Caughman, Grover Corley, Quincy Hendrix, Leland Hartley, B. Wilbur Hendrix and Freddie Barrett. This came to a close the most successful term of the Palmetto Collegiate Institute, both in point of attendance and the amount of work accomplished.
