Lexington Corn Show.

The Lexington County Corn Growers association will meet on Nov. 30th, instead of Nov. 23, as was first announced. On the same date the Lexington County Corn Show will be held, and the awarding of the various cash prizes will be made.
Both of these will be full of interest and it is hoped that every farmer in the county as well as all others interested in the growing of corn will be in attendance.

Wilse W. Martin.

Wilse W. Martin, dealer in harness, saddles and farm gear, carries the best line in Columbia, and his prices are very reasonable. His repair department is well equipped and nothing but firstclass work is turned out. He can repair any piece of harness while you wait.

Lexington people will find Mr. Martin a mighty fine gentleman to deal with.

Building Bridge.

The Carolina Engineering Co., of Burlington, N. C., the successful bidders for the construction of the new steel bridge for the county across the Saluda at Wyse's Ferry, have begun the work and the bridge will be completed as soon as possible.
This should eliminate the idea gone broadcast over the county to the effect that this bridge would never be built.

Ramon's English Cough Syrup, one of the best medicines for a cold and cough, at Harman's Bazaar.

On The Rounds.

We began our annual trip over the county with County Treasurer E. L. Wingard on last Tuesday, our first point being Irmo. Here we were comfortably cared for in the hospitable home of Mr. John W. Hook, in whom there is no better host in the county. The people turned out about as usual and the treasurer's collections were fairly good. Irmo is growing, and her merchants are enjoying a good fall trade. The people in the vicinity of Irmo are enjoying a season of prosperity, the crops having been fairly good. This town has been "cut out" of the proposed territory to be annexed to Richland.

Our next point was Ballentine, where a good crowd met us, and the collections were good. Tuesday night we spent at White Rock in the very comfortable home of our true and tried friend, D. A. Richardson. We regretted very much to find Mr. Richardson very much indisposed. He has been confined to his bed for several days as the result of a fall.

A small crowd met us here, and the afternoon was spent at Hilton. We dined with Mrs. R. B. Hiller, and enjoyed her excellent dinner to the fullest extent. There is no better cook in the Dutch Fork than Mrs. Hiller, and she knows how to entertain her guests. A small number of taxpayers met us at Hilton.

All of Thursday was spent at Chapin, and the treasurer was kept busy from the time he opened his books in the morning until he closed late in the afternoon. This is one of the best towns in the Fork, and a great deal of business is transacted here. The town is growing rapidly, many buildings being now under course of erection. Since our last visit to Chapin a handsome and commodious school building has been built. This is without doubt one of the best school buildings in the county. Prof. Kibler, of Newberry, is principal, and under his leadership the school is doing most excellent work. The Bank of Chapin, J. S. Wessinger president and J. F. Honeycutt, cashier, is in a most flourishing condition. While at Chapin we were the guests of Mr. P. M. Frick, at the hotel, where you always get something good to eat and where the beds are tidy and comfortable.

Friday morning we were at Peak. This was our last point in the Fork, and the attendance here was quite up to usual number. The town is holding its own and the people, as a rule, are happy and contented. Leaving Peak in the afternoon we came to Columbia by rail, spent the night and reached home early Saturday morning.

We found the people in good shape, most of the farmers having raised good crops of corn, cotton and grain. The most of the cotton crop has been gathered and sold, the price being satisfactory to the average farmer. The collections with the merchants have been exceedingly good, and they, of course, are in the best of spirits.

The amount of taxes collected by the treasurer was not quite as much as he collected in the Fork last year. The editor, likewise, fell short, while the people seemingly were in better circumstances to pay than last year. It is a hard proposition to get people to understand that what there are so many careless subscribers it makes it the harder for the printers when they do not pay up promptly. In fact it would be far better and more satisfactory if they would learn to pay in advance. All would feel better.

This week we begin at Steadman, on Tuesday and wind up at Gilbert on Friday. We hope that our readers especially those subscribers who are in arrears, will meet us promptly with their dues. We don't want to cut any of our subscribers off, but we need the money to meet binding obligations.

Terms of sale: cash, balance in one and two years, with interest from day of sale at rate of 7 per cent. per annum, and a mortgage of the premises sold. Purchaser to pay for papers.
Mrs. F. C. Conley.

Common Pleas Court.

The court of common pleas opened on last Wednesday with Judge Gage presiding. The first case called for trial was that of Frank Holmes, a Columbia negro, against the Southern Railway Company. This was a damage suit for $2,000, for personal injuries alleged to have been received while the plaintiff was walking on one of the Southern's tracks in the city of Columbia on the night of May 11, 1908. The plaintiff received injuries to the extent that one of his legs had to be amputated. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant, Graham & Sturkie for plaintiff; Col. George Johnstone for the defendant.

The second case, entitled Ellisor against Stadenmire, involving the ownership of a certain tract of land in the town of Peak, resulted in a verdict for the defendant, Graham & Sturkie for plaintiff; Eird & Dreher for defendant.

A verdict for the defendant was also rendered in the case of Walker, Ravenal & Co., of Columbia, insurance agents, against Reynolds & Craft, of Swansea. The plaintiff sought to recover $210, the amount alleged to have been due the plaintiffs on an insurance policy. Wm M. Shand, of Columbia, for plaintiffs; Eird & Dreher for defendants.

It took the jury just six minutes to find a verdict for the defendant in the case of Thos. L. Martin, of Swansea, against the Home Bank of Lexington. This was an action for $10,000 damages for the alleged refusal of the bank to pay certain checks issued by the plaintiff. DePass & DePass, of Columbia, for plaintiff; Hon. W. H. Sharpe and Graham & Sturkie for the defendant.

The first case called for trial this week was a damage suit for $10,000, brought by Mrs. G. C. Arledge, of New Brookland against the Lion Furniture Co., of Columbia, for the alleged unlawful seizure of goods bought by the plaintiff from the defendant. The jury found for the plaintiff in the sum of $350. Graham & Sturkie and B. B. Evans, for plaintiff; Eird & Dreher and George R. Rembert for the defendant.

J. P. Lucas was awarded a verdict of $300 in a fire damage suit against the Southern Railway. He sued for $396. Graham & Sturkie and A. D. Martin for plaintiff; Col. George Johnstone for defendant.

Mr. B. K. Wessinger, of the Fork, is now with the Cobb 5c and 10c store, Columbia where he will be pleased to have his friends call and see him.

Special Term Jurors.

The following gentlemen have been drawn to serve during the special term of court, beginning Nov. 23, to try the men now in jail charged with murder and highway robbery in connection with the killing of Paul A. Williams, the Columbia freight clerk, on the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus train on the night of October 2:

John Black Convicted.

In the general sessions court of Chester county last week, John Black, one of the old members of the State Dispensary Board, charged with conspiracy and accepting rebates from liquor houses, was convicted and sentenced to serve a term of five years in the State Prison.
Another member of the old board, Lee Solomon, a liquor drummer, who where tried at the same time, were found not guilty. Attorney General Lyon has announced his intentions of pushing the other cases as rapidly as possible.

ARE WE JUSTIFIED?

Perhaps we ought to be satisfied with present achievement. But, you know "the more a man gets the more he wants." This being true, we are then justified in soliciting new business; and especially so, since we are so well equipped to handle it.
