

ILLINOIS CORN GROWER WINS W. K. KELLOGG NATIONAL TROPHY

R. A. James of Charleston, Ill., is the 1910 Winner of the $1,000 Cup—Grows Best Ear in Last Year's Bumper Crop.

R. A. James, Winner of W. K. Kellogg Trophy, with the Trophy and the 1910 Champion Ear

R. A. James, of Charleston, Ill., has the proud distinction of having grown the best ear of corn in all the 125,713,600 bushels of last year's bumper crop. At the National Corn Show just held at Columbus, Ohio, this gentleman was awarded the W. K. Kellogg National Corn Trophy, donated in 1909 by W. K. Kellogg, president of the Kellogg

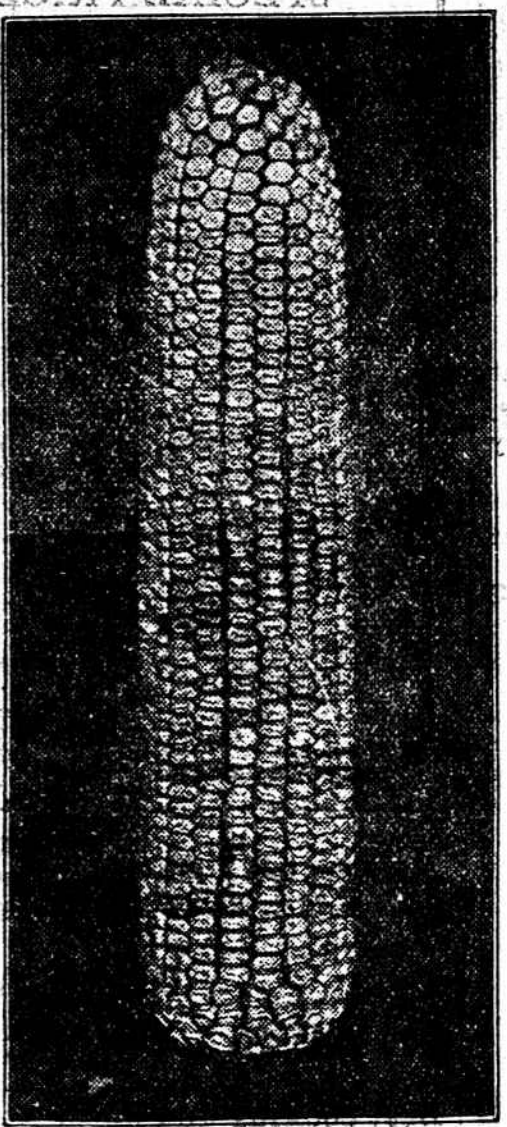

The W. K. Kellogg National Corn Trophy
Toasted Corn Flake Co., of Battle Creek, Mich.

R. A. James, Winner of W. K. Kellogg National Corn Trophy for 1910 is of Reid's Yellow Dent variety. It is 10 inches long, 7 1/2 inches in circumfer-ence, and has 20 rows of kernels, 6 to the inch in the row, average 3/4 of an inch in depth, and 5-16 of an inch in width. It is indeed a very perfect type of yellow dent corn.

Mr. James, the winner, is a vigorous farmer about 40 years of age and of pleasing personality, a man who has given careful study to corn culture and who has achieved his success as a grand champion winner only by years of hard work and painstaking seed selection and careful breeding from season to season.

World's Best Ear of Corn for 1910

Yellow Dent variety, crossed with Alexander Gold Standard. Last year's prize winner is the most perfectly formed ear of the two, though it requires a careful judge to distinguish the points of superiority.

The trophy awarded to Mr. James was made by Tiffany, of New York, for Mr. W. K. Kellogg, at a cost of $1,000. It is made of Sterling silver, bronze and enamels, and is a truly artistic creation. It stands 30 inches in height. Mr. Kellogg's interest in corn growing can be understood when it is stated that the Kellogg Toasted Corn Flake Co., of which he is president, has an output requiring 10,000 bushels of corn a day, raw product, for its manufacture. A peculiar feature is that while the Kellogg product is made exclusively from selected white corn, the Kellogg trophy has been won each time by yellow corn exhibit. The trophy is offered for annual competition until won twice by the same grower.

The National Corn Show at which the award was made, was an event of tremendous magnitude. At one of the sessions President Taft was present and delivered an address.

OBITUARY

Lucy A. Frye was born February 8th, 1857, and died April 27th, 1911, making her sojourn in this world of sorrow 54 years, 2 months and 19 days.

She was first married to Albert Rickard, who preceded her to the land of peace, many years. To them were born six children, two sons and four daughters.

She was later married to Joseph Frye. To them were born four children, one son and three daughters.

She was committed to Holy Baptism in infancy, and afterwards became a member of the Methodist church, and ever remained a true believer of the Lord Jesus Christ.

She leaves to mourn her loss, a broken-hearted husband, ten children, six brothers, one sister, two half brothers and two half sisters and a host of relatives and friends.

There is a chair vacant that can never be filled, a voice stifled that can no more be heard. She can never return to us but we can go to her.

May God bless the bereaved family and sorrowing friends.

IN MEMORIAM

James Cleburn Bickley, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Bickley, died March 20th, 1911, making his short stay here on earth only one year, five months and seventeen days. One little brother preceded him to the Spirit land.

He leaves his father, mother, grand father, grand-mother and a host of relatives and friends to mourn his untimely departure. Pneumonia was the cause of his death.

Little Cleburn was a very bright child and was loved by every one. He was always full of glee. The last words from his sweet lips he called for Oily and told us "Ti, Ti." May God bless and comfort these bereft ones.

In the solemn hour of evening,
In the silence calm and deep;
Lying on his peaceful bed,
Our little babe fell asleep.

In St. Thomas' churchyard
There is now a new-made mound,
And our little babe so cherished,
Has been laid beneath the ground.

But up yonder in the ports
That is shining very fair;
Our little babe is now sheltered
By the Savior's loving care.

Dearest one, thou hast left us,
Lonely are our hearts today;
Death has of him bereft us,
Taken him so far away.

He has crossed the cold dark river,
Angels hold him by the hand;
He is safe from storms forever—
Safe within the promise land.

How we miss his gentle footsteps,
Miss each kind and gentle word;
No more in the lonely household
Will his tender voice be heard.

Dear, how we loved him!
No pen can write no tongue can tell;
But the gentle shepherd called him,
We must bid a long farewell.

For alas, the Savior called him,
Called him from this world of woe;
And his spirit has ascended
From this earthly home below.

So fare the well, our dear one!
He has only gone before;
For if we are but as faithful,
We shall reach the golden shore.
—The ones whose hearts are broken.
