Polliteness Overworked.

A man there is whose fortune lies in saying, "I apologize!" He feels with all the world at ease when he exclaims, "Excuse me, please."

His manner mild and confident Bids every angry mood relent, And all your harsh resentments fit. As you reply, "Don't mention it." And so his willful way he goes. He steps upon your tenderest toes; He elbows you and hurts your pride As patiently you stand aside And let him grab the dairy lunch Or battle through the baseball bunch That sought the front seat at the game Which now serenely he will claim, He's here, he's there, he's everywhere; And yet to chime him who would dare?

He has a saving grace immense Of mingled nerve and innocence That lets him bully us at ease, It he but says, "Excuse me please."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

THE GREAT DESTROYER.

Excerpts from Address of Hon. Richmond P. Hobson before the National W. C. T. U. Convention, Baltimore, M. I.

It is high time that we pledged ourselves, the best that is in us, to destroy this destroyer, alcohol, that is striking at the standard of our citizenship and the character of our people, that would actually blast our chances not only of taking liberty but of carrying the gospel to the world.

When we strike at character and lower its standard, we are blocking the way for the gospel and the Christian religion. If the nations remain on a low level, they will fight and destroy each other, until the end of time. The very prospect of peace in this world and ultimately of brotherhood and the spread of the gospel is at stake.

I believe that America's glorious destiny has even a greater sweep than that of carrying liberty itself. In order that there may be a maximum of development for the human race, it is not only necessary that there should be equality of opportunity between individuals but it is further necessary that those individuals should co-operate, and they can only properly co-operate when they have reached that development of character where they possess justice, charity and the principles of the golden rule.

I believe that America's responsibility in this matter extends to the whole world. I will not develop this phase of the question, but I would remind you that America is really the great Christian nation of the world.

It is the first duty of any state to protect the lives of its people. I cannot be true to my facts without regarding the saloon institution as a wholesale assassin. The state not only has the right but it is its bounden duty to protect the lives of its citizens.

This is not only a question of the life of the individual citizen, but it is actually a question of the nation's life itself and the first law of nature—the law of self-preservation—gives the state and the Federal government not only the right, but the bounden duty to strive as fast as possible to put an end to this deadly traffic.

We reached a conclusion as to the individual, that the only reasonable life in this world is a life of total abstinence. We now register the verdict of society and the state, namely, that this great destroyer itself must be destroyed.

Now shall we proceed to destroy it. We have diagnosed this disease, I believe, correctly. It has been running for 3,000 years. It has the grip of the generations not only on the families of the rich, the leaders, the governments of all the world, but the very governments themselves are its allies and get the bulk of their revenues therefrom.

Furthermore, it is estimated that over eighty per cent of all the people of the United States and ninety-five per cent of the people of other white nations are under its sway. It is the most organic, the deepest-seated disease known to the body politic or the body social. Therefore it is very easy to prescribe the remedy. The remedy must be organic treatment.

We are fighting an enemy that has been conquering for three thousand years and he employs all the great laws of war. We must follow these laws. The first law is: Make your preparation. The next law is: You must be prepared so that you can wield all your forces. That means you must drill them as an army; you must be organized to the last unit.

The liquor element fooled some of the farmers down in Alabama, but not the farmers' wives, and from that day I have been a strong advocate of woman's suffrage. I believe that we should gain woman's suffrage and be able to marshal into the ballot box, the women who cannot be deceived.

When we finally declare war and when we are upon the battle line, we must follow the eternal laws of strategy, and here is the fundamental law:

Whenever a great battle is to be fought, whenever a great state is to decide whether it is to have prohibition in its constitution, turn the whole power of your army on that battle field. Down in Alabama we had to fight all the liquor forces of the nation, and almost of the world, but we were left practically alone on our side, except for the W. C. T. U.

You are engaged in a terrible war, but you may well go away tonight with a song in your hearts, because it is written in the book of fate that the universe is not to be blighted. While all other life is able to go on in its development, it is not destined that the human family, created in the image of the Maker, should be sloughed off.

It is written in the book of fate that this great destroyer—the liquor traffic—shall be destroyed. But the Almighty is not coming down to do the work Himself; He has placed this work in our hands.

Therefore I say to you, although you may have defeats, build up
