Washington, March 6.—President Wilson was strongly urged by house leaders today to use his influence for, and agree to, a plan which would confine congress at the special session called for April 1 to the enactment of tariff of legislation and the passage of the two appropriation bills which failed in the closing days of last congress.

RIPPING REPARTEE.

The Newcomer Put One Over on Her Neighbor.

REPARTEE is a delicate instrument, a fine product, a thing of hints, lights and shadows. Anybody who does not believe this please stand up. Apparently everybody agrees to the description. Wherefore there is now related the example of the crudest repartee ever indulged in by man or woman.

It was in a city which had risen to the dignity of having "fashionable suburbs," in which the inhabitants resented the arrival of people who "did not belong." One day there appeared in the community a woman who had lots of money and a fine and ornamental lack of tact in dealing with her neighbors. She called and called and called on the women in the suburb which was "fashionable," and, strange to relate, she could never find them "in."

One woman particularly disliked her and was never to be seen. At last the newcomer met the one who had avoided her in such marked manner.

"My dear," said the avoider, "it is such a pity that when you call I am always out—always."

Responded she who had been snubbed:

"Out of your home—or your head?"—Popular Magazine.

Silenced.

Many a strange story is credited to Abraham Lincoln.

As a matter of fact, however, the great abolitionist once disclaimed credit for inventing stories. He said: "I don't make a story mine by telling it. I'm only a retail dealer." And to prove it he recited the following:

"There is a bright young slip of an attorney in southern Illinois who was trying a case in the district court. The prosecuting lawyer was a very large man, ponderous and likely to be overbearing in his attitude to the younger practitioners. In the course of his remarks the big man said: 'Why, your honor, counsel for the defense is so utterly insignificant that I could swallow him and his arguments at one gulp.'"

"I object to the remarks of the prosecutor," interrupted the young attorney. "But I would like to say, your honor, if the attorney for the complainant was able to do what he affirms he would have more brains in his stomach than he has in his head."—New York American.

Cautious.

I remember once hearing of a man—a farmer he was—over in the County Down. He was a great one for inventing—always turning out great ideas that were great failures. Naturally in a place like that he was the "great joke" of the countryside. Well, anyway, he invented a flying machine. It was really a pair of wings made from wire and hens' feathers.

He took a year to do it—secretly. But the night before he made his first attempt to fly, being both a hopeful and cautious man, he went round all the cottages within reach, and after sitting for a little while chatting, but never mentioning his great invention, he said in an offhand way before leaving:

"If any of yez sees a strange lukin' burrd flying about the country tomorrow for the love or goodness don't be shootin' at it."—Bystander.

It All Depends.

Love is blind when a button is missing from hubby's clothes. But it has fine sight when he comes home with a streak of rice powder on the lapel of his coat.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Child Welfare.

"I can cordially recommend these cakes, Miss Gladys. They are made with a liberal percentage of albumen."—Punch.

Expensive.

"She says she thinks she could learn to love me."
"Yet you do not look happy."
"It is going to be expensive. Had her at the theater last night, with a little supper afterward. The first lesson cost me $25."—Kansas City Journal.

Was It a Slip?

"Please don't bother to see me to the door," pleaded the departing visitor.
"Really, it's no bother at all," the hostess assured her. "It is a pleasure."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Reason.

Willie—Mother always carves when we have company to dinner. Bobby—Isn't your father able to? Willie—Guess he isn't able to without sayin' things.

"Not at Home."

Warder—Your wife's outside and wants to see you.
Prisoner—Oh, tell her I'm out.—Dik.

What

a great improvement would be made in the condition of horses and other animals if just the proper remedy were used when they became ill or injured. If your horse could talk he would ask you not to use any external remedy containing alcohol because it stings and tortures his flesh terribly. Some liniments have alcohol and other fiery ingredients which only inflame the skin and tissue without striking down to where the pain lies. Beware of such liniments. The great humane, quick-action remedy is MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT. Made of oils, without a drop of alcohol or other torturing element, it soaks straight to the bone and muscle. It soothes the wounded parts and is comforting while the healing work is progressing. Mexican Mustang Liniment is what you want because it your work lighter, saves your livestock from suffering and keeps them in good trim for work. For all forms of Lameness, Strains, Bruises, Cuts, Burns, Galls and Harness Sores in animals, it is safe and prompt and does not promise what it cannot perform. Mustang Liniment has been doing its wonderful healing work for 65 years. The amount of money it has saved livestock owners is incalculable. One man writes that he was about to kill his valuable horse because badly injured but Mustang Liniment made him well again. A Veterinary tells us he has used Mustang Liniment fifteen years and found it best liniment for cuts, strains, etc. And many others are enthusiastic friends of this tried and true remedy. Now you know just what makes

Makes

OBITUARIES.

SIDNEY MALFORD SHARPE.

Sidney Malford, son of Mf. and Mrs. David B. Sharpe, was born December 14th, 1912, and died March 2, 1913, making his short stay on earth two months and sixteen days. He was buried in the Harmony cemetery after services by Rev. Daniel Shumpert.

We know when God call us we must go,

But why he took my dear little Darling from my arms I do not know.

Sleep on, sleep little Sidney, sleep, I hope to meet you where parting never shall be.

HIS MOTHER.

W. D. Schoenberg.

W. D. Schoenberg was born September 30, 1836, at Moritzberg, kingdom of Saxony, Germany, and died January 18, 1913, at his home near North, S. C. He married Adrianna Jones, May 6, 1866. He came to this country just in time to enlist in Hart's Battery and made a gallant soldier throughout the Confederate war. Besides his widow he leaves three sons: C. G. Schoenberg, of North; H. R. Schoenberg, of North; and K. R. Schoenberg, of Iva. He was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church, of Columbia, and died as he had lived in the faith. He was almost a life long educator and delighted in his work. His home life and his public life was an open book, on the pages of which are no blots or scars. He passed through deep waters of suffering for more than two years, suffering greatly but never murmuring. A man whose whole life and conduct were controlled by Christian principle. His home life was exceedingly beautiful. He was indeed the husband and a father that so reigned by love as to enjoy the respect of all who came under his generous roof. His home was always open to God's servants and glad to see them. I was with him from once to twice a month and gave him the holy communion before he was transplanted from the Church militant to the Church triumphant. W. D. Quick.

Civil war is still raging in Mexico.

A Business Partner.

A farmer should remember that his wife is a business partner. She makes the butter, boards the hands, helps prepare things for market, is a watch dog for the premises when he is away, and sometimes assists with the poultry and garden; and when he secretly signs away money she has helped to earn, he is cheating his partner, as well as robbing his wife; and it is an offense the law would not tolerate in any other co-partnership, nor should it in this. There is a law that prevents a man from selling his farm without his wife's signature, and it sounds as if a wife was of some importance; but it is rendered non-effective as a preservative of her home from the fact that he can mortgage it and endorse other men's papers to any extent without her knowledge or consent, and thus dispose of the family possessions,—and the sheriff can sell, and she has no rights that he is bound to respect. This statute is mockery until it is supplemented by another making a man's signature, as security, invalid when written without his wife's approval; and still another making it illegal for him to mortgage the farm to pay debts that she has no knowledge of.

Salary Changes.

Houston Post.
Gee, but Mr. Taft's drop from $6,250 a month to $5,16 is enough to jar his back teeth. And Woodrow's jump from $33 to 6,250 is enough to turn his pindorous Presbyterian solemnity into shouting Methodist exultation.

When Burton Holmes recently gave his celebrated travelogue on 'Panama' at Orchestra Hall, Chicago, he was seriously interrupted by continual coughing of the audience. No one annoys willingly and if people with coughs, colds, hoarseness and tickling in throat would use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, they could quickly cure their coughs and colds and avoid this annoyance. W. S. Skelton, a merchant at Stanley, Ind., says he would not take $100.000 for the relief a single box of Foley Kidney Pills gave him. "I had a severe attack of kidney trouble with sharp pains through my back and could hardly straighten up. A single box of Foley Kidney Pills entirely relieved me." Harmon Drug Co.

Border Patrol is Withdrawn

Washington, March 6.—General Ojeda, commander of the Mexican federales, has expressed regret to American consular officers at Nogales for the recent clashes with American troops near Douglas, Ariz. General Ojeda assured the officers that he would adopt means to prevent further trouble and has ordered the Mexican patrol withdrawn from where the outbreaks occurred.
