

THE BANKING HABIT

means sound sleep, good digestion, cool judgement and independence.

It is good business to become identified with a good bank; to make it a habit to consult with its officers.

Cash in bank, with the credit it creates, is the key to opportunity and a reserve against adversity.

We invite you to open an account with us. We do not insist on a large beginning. The main thing is to make a start.

A SAVINGS ACCOUNT

Would place you in a position to laugh at the cry of hard times. Why not profit by the lesson that so many people have had forced upon them recently, and prepare yourself for the future. $1 starts an account and we will help you to make it grow.

THE BANK OF COLUMBIA, COLUMBIA, S. C.

"THE BANK WITH THE CHIMES."

OUR POLICY

is to serve our depositors well and truly, holding their interests identical with our own; to give as generous terms as are consistent with sound banking; to welcome the small account as well as the large one; to be satisfied with small margins of profit in its business transactions, and to give its customers a fair measure of its success. This is always the policy of

GETTING TOGETHER

In this day and age, nothing is so beneficial in business as getting together. We are something more than Bankers—something more than just a safe place to store your money—something more than a pass book, check or vault. We are a very human lot of individuals, and it is a matter of pride with us, that aside from the responsibilities we have developed in our business, we have always cultivated the friendship of those whom we serve. Come in—let's get together.

Prohibition Meeting at Lexington.

In accordance with the published call, a public meeting of those favoring prohibition was held at Lexington Court House on Friday the 25th inst. Dr. E. C. Ridgell of Batesburg was elected chairman and Mr. A. C. Sawyer of Lexington Secretary. The chairman was authorized to appoint an executive committee consisting of one member from each township and three from each town in the County. The duty of the committee will be the bringing of the subject of prohibition as it relates to the September election to the attention of the citizens of the County.

The following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

To the Citizens of Lexington County. Whereas, We believe the sale and use of alcoholic drinks as a beverage to be injurious to the mortal, mental, and physical being of our citizens, as well as detrimental to the welfare, safety and good order of the public;

Whereas, On the 14th day of September, next, an election will be held permitting the voters of South Carolina to say whether the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquors and beverages shall be prohibited or continued in this State as now provided by law; Therefore, Be It Resolved:

First; That we do pledge ourselves to a hearty support of prohibition in the said election, and do most earnestly invite and beseech all the citizens of Lexington County to join us in working and voting against the sale of alcoholic liquors as a beverage.

Second; That we urge the voters to register, as we understand that certificates procured before May, 1908, are not valid.

Common Pleas Court.

"We find for the defendant," was the unanimous verdict reached late Saturday by the jury in the case of James E. Wessinger against the Parr Shoals Power Co., trial of which was begun Thursday in common pleas court for Lexington county. Damages in the sum of $25,000 were demanded, the plaintiff alleging that an option and a deed to certain lands sold by him to the defendant had been procured by fraud and that a 300 acre tract nearby had been made uninhabitable by mosquitos and bad odors from the pond formed by the defendant's dam on Broad river.

The verdict was the first in favor of a corporation which a Lexington county jury has found in many months.

The court adjourned sine die at the conclusion of this case.

Swansea Items.

Prof. W. E. Black.

Prof. W. E. Black, principal of the Lexington High School, who received serious injuries to his left hand while attempting to ride a motorcycle about ten days ago, is now in a Columbia hospital. The injured hand not having improved as rapidly as it had been hoped for. In addition to the thumb, which was cut completely off by the machine, it is feared now that he will lose one or more of his other fingers.

Now is the time to get ready for the 1915 county fair. Every body's "doing of it." Get in line.

Chapin Notes.

(From our Correspondent)

Mimnaugh's the Place.

Mimnaugh's is the place to buy now if you want to save money. Never before has John L. Mimnaugh offered such matchless bargains at such stunning prices. This is the season of the year when Mr. Mimnaugh always throws open wide his doors to his thousands of customers, the season when he gives everybody, rich and poor, high and low, an opportunity to buy their goods at unheard of prices. This is the season when Mr. Mimnaugh has made his profits and is now getting rid of his left-over goods in order to make room for new fall goods, some of which has already arrived. If its anything in dry goods, notions, shoes, hats, etc. Mimnaugh's is the place and now is the time to buy.

St. Stephens.

Communion service will be held at St. Stephen's Lutheran church Sunday, July 4, at 11 a. m.

Night services will be discontinued at St. Stephens during the month of July and August.

Struck by Lightning.

Persons should be very cautious in using telephones during lightning storms. As evidence of this fact we call attention to the following accident last week:

"My wife while answering a telephone last Friday was struck down by lightning and was unconscious for one hour and a half; could not speak until about 12 o'clock at night." W. Westmeireland, Samaria, June 24.

Kinard the Clothier.

Kinard, the Old Reliable Clothier of Columbia, where beauty, artistic garments, and low prices always prevail. For years the name of Kinard stands as a synonym for all that is best in men's furnishings. When you buy of Kinard you have the satisfaction of knowing that you have the best that the finest clothier of the world can produce.

Warning.

All persons are warned not to hunt, fish, make paths, haul wood, or trespass in any manner upon my lands, as the law will be enforced against all such trespassers.

CHAS. J. METZKE, June 29, 1915—23.

Tapp's Sale.

The James L. Tapp Company's big department store continues to be the scene of much activity. The great Lockhart sale has been continued in order that all those who failed to take advantage of the bargains offered when the sale first began may do so now. And the best of all about the continuation of this stupendous sale is the fact that the longer the sale runs the greater the bargains. You can buy goods at Tapp's at your own price now—almost for nothing. And another beauty about this sale is, you can always secure the newest and best at Tapp's. The by-word: "If it's stylish, Tapp has it," has won for this establishment a distinction that cannot be equalled the county over. Be sure and go to Tapp's before buying elsewhere. You will never regret it and your pocketbook will be ample to get what you want.

Magistrate E. R. Steedman, of Batesburg, a mighty clever man, was here Friday on official business.

Some people cannot realize that an office is created for a capable officer and not simply to reward political friends, but some folks are never satisfied and really don't know how to appreciate a good officer and delight in knocking and finding fault and we guess it will be so to the end, and the fellow who thinks he knows it all, will still be learning more.

Amick-Aull.

Married at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Amick at one o'clock Monday, June 28, 1915, by the Rev. Edw. Fulmer, W. Mae Amick and Col. E. H. Aull.

Only the brides immediate family was present. Col. and Mrs. Aull left immediately after the ceremony in auto for Chick Springs. They will be at home in Newberry after July 4, at 1014 Boundary street.

The Dispatch wishes for Col. and Mrs. Aull everything that this good old world has in store for the pure in heart and those who love the Lord. The bride, until only a few years ago, was a resident of this town. She is a graduate of the Lexington High School and is both pretty and talented. Her many friends will learn of her marriage with keen interest and genuine pleasure.

Mr. McDuffie Hampton of the Railroad Commission and his good lady, came over Friday night to witness the operetta play Pauline, put on by the local talent, and were much pleased, saying that it would have done credit to an experienced company.

The remains of Mr. Govan Oswalt who accidentally electrocuted himself by trying to handle a live wire at Cayce Saturday, was brought up on Sunday morning's train and conveyed by Mr. Scott Hendrix's hears service to Irene at which place he was buried.
