NEWBERRY, S. C.

Wednesday Morning, February 28, 1866.

Look out for the cross & mark. Renew your subscriptions.

Mr. Nathan Hunter, of Jalappa, will accept our thanks for a lot of onion buttons.

We regret to have lost the presence in our town of the courteous officers of the &. & C. R.R. Messrs, LasSalle, Southern and Carrington. The Bureau has been returned to Co umbia.

The Veto.

The President has bravely met the issue with radicalism. He has vetoed the Freedmen's Bu-Peau Bill and the Senate sustains him. We will publish the message in full in our next paper.

Death of Gen. Stephen Elliott.

We regiet to learn the death of the distinguished Gen. Stephen Elliott. He had but recently accepted an appointment on the S. C. Railroad.

We are pained to learn the death of our young friend, the Rev. J. E. Warson, recently in charge of the Methodist Church here. He was a young man of enlarged views and of a most engaging and generous disposition.

Laurens and Newberry Hack Line.

It gives us pleasure to observe the punctuality of the Laurens and Newberry Hack-always to time. All parties desiring passage by this route will find the back line exceedingly agreeable. The coach is hand ome, strong and comfortable. Leaves Newberry every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday morning.

A Cross Invention.

The best thing ever invented is the little × mark, now so extensively used by publishers of newspapers. It is the best thing for the purpose and the only thing that has ever been so successful in bringing up a delinquent to a sense of propriety. One or two little marks on a paper, and repeat the dose two or three numbers, if not at first attended to, and it is certain to "bring em in." The invertor of so happy and successful a thought is entitled to the blessings of all hitherto puharpy publishers Three crosses for three consecutive numbers, two before and one after the expiration of a subscriber's term, and then "off with his head," so much for not paying up. We would rather have one paying subscriber than five who do not.

Unfounded Rumors and Reports.

With deep mortification we allude to the fact that a letter received by a citizen of Newberry from a high and influential source in Charleston. makes mention of the many reports made there to the commanding general, of the utter lawless." ness and bad conduct of the e tizens of this distriet, which are altogether unfounded and injutions. The charges are lawlessness, bad faith, harsh treatment of freedmen, refusal to allow them to contract as they wish, refusal to give civil assistance to the military when called upon, and so on. We are altogether at a loss to imagine from whose heart such a tissue of vile calamnies could have emanated, in whose head they were hatched. The contrary of all this is the case. An instance, perhaps, may occur here or there where wrong is done, but in what community can the existence of some bad member be denied. To stigmatize a whole district, however. with such a catalogue of falseness shows an utter recklessness and want of truth. It has been a subject of congratulation among law abiding and peaceable men lately that so much of quiet reigns, and that from no quarter do we hear of anything calculated to disturb the harmony of existing relations. It is to be hoped that this matter may be set at right and the calumny be refuted.

President Johnson.

President Andrew Johnson is the man for the times; his position is a more important one than that of emperor, hierarch, or autocrat. The impulsions of a new order of civilization are advanced or retarded by his action. Peace, order and harmony depend upon the strength of his nerve. For months past he has maintained himself against a fearful pressure. Delegations and committees, individuals and parties of eminent ability have engaged him. Almost daily is he drawn to some new idea in ethics, jurisprudence, hw and government, only to heighten and increase the strength, clearness and beauty of his mental vigor. Men, astute and versed in subtleties, also encrouch upon and strive to gather something for capital, but he is prepared at all points. He seems to have grasped an universe of thought, and needs no preparation to combat the leftiest intellects of the day. The President of the United States is a clear and foreible logician, and though he wears a stern and thoughtful look, and has an iron will is yet genial and courtly in manners. And the amount of erudidition displayed by him is immense. He has never known defeat in debate or controversy. and in his native State of Tennessee always gained the day against such political giants as Gentry and Henry, and other men of talent. His reply to the Colored Delegation, as published in to-days paper, is a noble defence of the Consti-

THE NEWBERRY HOTEL .- Ye "fighting" local had been 'threatening' for some time to see for himself if the rumors and reports were true, that friend Epting "knew how to keep a hotel". And on last Saturday eve ing in company with a friend sat down to a supper that epicures would have delighted in. It was fit for the gods-and god- er, as we learn from Capt. M. F. Maury. Several desses, too-Mars, Jupiter and Venus not ex- Louisianians have lately arrived here, in search cepted! Such delicious shad, served a la mode with et ceteras! We retired from the sumptuous board perfectly ravished, our frame of mind so genial and our senses so enraptured that we could ing down $5,000 in cash, and getting as much not possibly have been induced to pick a quarrel or be "knocked into pi," that night. The very last thought that obtruded itself as we were entering the arms of Morpheus, was that Epting 'knows how to keep a hotel.'

Ordinance of the Convention.

As Court will soon sit, we republish for the benefit of the legal fraternity, the Ordinance of the late State Convention, the main object of which, says the Pickens Courier, is to confirm what has been done during the late war.

The fifth section provides a mode for the settlement of all contracts made between the first day of January 1862, and the 15th day of May 1865. The value of the article sold or purchased is to regulate, in all cases, the price thereof. How this value is to be ascertained, we know not: but we presume the lawvers will find a remedy. It is important that a few cases arising under this Ordinance, as well as contracts for negro property previously made, should be determined by the Courts, so that correct rules may be established by which settlements can be made without resorting in all cases to the law :

AN ORDINANCE To Declare in force the Constitution and Laws heretofore in force in this State, and the Acts. official, public and private done, and appointments and elections made under authority of the same.

We, the People of the State of South Carolina, by our Delegates in Convention met, do or-

1. That the Constitution of this State, as ordained and established by the People in Convention at Charleston, on the eighth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, is in force, except as amended or altered by this Constitution. 2. That all laws, orders, regulations and rules ascertaining the rights of persons, natural or artificial, or regulating the proceedings in the Courts of Law or Equity, which were of force in this State on the nineteenth day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand, eight hundred and sixty, are now in force, and shall so continue until altered, modified, repealed or avoided by proper State authority, except in so far as the same or any of them have been or has been, since that time, so altered, modified, repealed or avoided 8. That all Acts and Resolutions of the General Assembly of this State, which have been passed, adopted or ratified since the nineteenth day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty aforesaid, are now in force and shall so continue until altered. modified, repealed or avoided by proper State authority, except such as have expired by their own limitation, or by reason of the cessation of the causes which occasioned their enactment; not however, including within this exception the Act of Assembly prohibiting the collection of debts usually known as the Stay Law: Provided, however. That all laws, resolutions, orders or rules embraced within the terms of this and the preceding Section, which recognize the existence of slavery, and regulate the relations of master and slave, and define and enforce the rights and duties growing thereout, or create and punish offences against such rights or against the public policy of the State in reterence to slavery, have become of no further or future force or effect, by reason of the extinction of slavery. 4. That all official Ac's in the Executive and other D. partments of the Government of this Engineers known to the Rail Road service. State, judicial proceedings, rules of Court, sales, regret that we are not in possession of their conveyances, contracts, obligations, instruments names to make this record complete. However, of writing and transactions affecting rights of persons or property had, made, executed or incurred, since the nineteenth day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty, have, and shall continue to have, in all respects the same force, effect and validity as if the same had been had, made, executed or incurred during a time of peace, and as if the Ordinance of Secession had not been passed: Provided. That in every action arising in contract, whether under seal or parole, written or oral, made between the first day of January, in the year of our Lord 1862, and the fifteenth day of May in the year of our Lo.d, 1865, it shall be lawful for either party to the action to introduce testimony showing the true value and real character of the consideration of such contract at the time it was made, so that regard being had of disloyalty and hostility to the Government to the particular circumstances of each case, such in any of its branches, and state whether verdict or decree may be rendered as will effect such paper is habitual in its utterances of substantial justice between the parties : And, Provided further, that all prosecutions now pendding under any Act or Acts of the General Assembly passed to aid or assist in the war against the United States shall be discontinued.

5. The General Assembly of this State is forever prohibited from passing any law imposing civil disabilities, forfeiture of property or of other rights, or punishment of any kind, or any citizen or resident of this State, or person owning property herein, for the relation of such citizen, resident, or person to, or his or her conduct in reference to the late scces-ion of this State from the Federal Union or the war which grew out of the same, or for any participation, aid, council or assistance therein.

6. The Judges of the several Courts in this State and other Judical Officers, the Attorney General and Solicitors, President and Directors of the Bank of the State of South Carolina, the Secretary of State, Commissioners of the Treasury, Surveyor-General and all District and other officers who derive their authority from or under the Executive, Legislative or Judicial Departments, who were holding and exercising office before and on the twenty-sixth day of April last, or bad pefore that day been elected thereto, are in the regard of the State, (except where vacancies have since occurred or may occur, by reason of death, the State) still holding their respective offices, and are entitled to hold and exercise the same by the original tenure thereof, for the residue of the terms for which they were severally elected or appointed: Provided however, that every person so holding office has heretofore taken and subscribed, or shall before the first day of December next, take and subscribe before some officer properly authorized to administer the same, the oath prescribed and required in the Proclamation of His Excellency Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, of the twentyninth day of May last, commonly called the "Amnesty Proclamation," and upon failure to comply with the requirements of this proviso, the office of such person shall be thereupon vacant, and shall be filled in the manner provided by law in cases of vacancy otherwise occurring.

Done in Convention at Columbia, in the State of South Carolina, the twenty-seventh day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five.

D. L. WARDLAW, President of the Convention.

JOHN T. SLOAN, Clerk of the Convention.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT. The Freedman's Bureau Bill Vetoed.

WASHINGTON, February 19, 1866. The President sent to the Senate his veto of the amendatory Freedmen's Bureau Bill. The President takes the ground that it is unconstitutional, and that the appointment of agents in exery country where freedmen and refugees exist would impose too much patronage in the hands of the Executive, and would enable him to a e it for the attainment of political ends if he was so disposed. He expresses the earnest hope that a question so important to the country will not become a law unless upon the deliberate consideration of the people, and that it should receive the sanction of an enlightened publi : judg-

The House, by a large majority, has passed resolutions declaring that the rebellion has deprived the people of the South of all civil government, and it becomes the duty of Congress to cnable them to organize State Governments. The President is fully justified in maintaining the suspension of the Hubeas Corpus in the Southern States, and in keeping troops therein for the proection of Union citizens and freedmen.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA RAIL ROAD .- Having had frequent occasion of late to pass over this road, we have been most favorably impressed with the enterprise that has been displayed in its entire management, and which has thus early placed the whole line in excellent running order. The traveling community cannot but feel greatful for the accommodations that are being extended to them in the way of new coaches, as fast as they can be completed. In this connection we deem it but a simple act of justice to award the meed of praise which is due to the gentlemanly corps of Conductors now engaged on the road-Messrs. W. D. Kennedy, J. E. Thames and S. H. L. Price. The traveling public will recognize in them persons with whom they were familiar in years past. They are the same obliging and courteous gentlemen now as then-in fact, they are ever solicitous for the comfort of their passengers, and at any time, should anything be amiss, it may reasonably be that the fault does not lie at their door, and is | evond their immediate means of correction. They take particular pai is to keep their cars cleanly, and most earnestly urge the co-operation of the passengers in this most important matter. The excellent order maintained on the cars, and the unceasing efforts on the part of the Conductors to make all things agrecable, is a constant theme of proise on the part of those who frequent the road. In fact, we have frequently heard persons from a distance, who are constantly traveling, assert that they have never met with a more willing disposition on the part of Rail Road Conductors to make passengers comfortable than they have witnessed on the South Carolina Rail Road. We think the Co pany are fortunate in retaining the services of these gentlemen in their important positions. We had almost forgotten the corps of young gentlemen who are acting as Baggage Masters or Assistant Conductors-Messrs. W. A. Bradley Edw. M. Cudworth and W. Barlow. It would have been an act of gross injustice to close this paragraph without awarding to them the praise which their well-known courtesy and obliging disposition has eminently entitled them to.

In conclusion we will state that the Company have in their employ some of the most competent pressed, "that more careful and pune ual. Engineers are not to be found on any rail road in the country"-the truthfulness of which assertion we believe the records of the road will fully sustain. Charleston Courier.

INTERESTING TO NEWSPAPERS .- The following circular was issued on the 18th to the commandants of military departments:

HEADQ'RS ARMIES OF THE U. S., Washington, February 17, 1866. You will please send to these headquarters, as soon as practicable, and from time to time thereafter, such copies of newspapers published in your department as contain sentiments such sentiments. The persistent publication of articles calculated to keep up the hostility of feeling between the different sections of the country cannot be tolerated. This information is called for with a view to their suppresters only. By command of Lieut. Gen. Grant. T. S. BOWERS. (Signed,)

sion, which will be done from these headquar-

Assistant-Adjutant General. In Mr. Pollard's case, Gen. Grant refused to rescind the order of suppression, but the President has authorized the resumption of the publication on certain conditions.

THE TRUE POLICY .- Let the President issue his proclamation appounding that the late revolted States are restored, and demand equal representation under the Constitution. If a majority of Congress refuse the representation required, the President should treat them as revolutionists laboring to perpetuate disunion. If the Senators who advocated the right of secession in the United States Senate in 1861even traitors, as declared by Andrew Johnson at the time, and deserving of punishmentthen the present Senators and members that. expiration of term or otherwise under the laws of instead of restoring, would subjugate them to servitude and perpetual separation, are guilty of the same crime-treason-and should be treated accordingly. A little Jackson firmness on the part of the President will set all right. Let the Union be restored in fact, and we cease our denunciations and proscriptions of the South, our violent expressions of hatred and animosity, and remember that the people of the South, being American citizens, have both rights and sensibilities, and not disdain to respect them, and they will be a cheerful people, and we will have a Union indeed. [Saco (Maine) Democrat.

GENERAL BRAGG'S REPORT. - The Nashville Union and American closes, a notice of Gen-Bragg's official report of the battle of Perryville

Our chief object in making these notices however, was to refer to the manifest unkindness visited upon an eminent man and officer by this report. Gen. Holk is charged with disobedience to orders, and thus initiating all the disasters to the expedition. In view of the fact that the commanding General lost the golden opportunity of the enterprise by leaving his position at Green river, and thereby opening an easy way to Buell to reach Louisville and receive additions to his force equal to his whole army at Bowling Greenand in view of the further fact that after leaving Bardstown, Gen Bragg instituted a policy of disintegration, at the very moment when concentration became indispensable to his success, his feeble effort to make General Polk the scape-goat of his errors and short comings is no less disgraceful than ungenerous .- This is about all we have to say on the subject. The Greenville Mountaineer learns from Ex-Governor Perry, now in Washington, that there was an under-current at work which wrs crumbling to pieces the radical party, and they would separate-that the prospect was decidedly hopeful, and that the Southern members would soon be admitted. The President informed Gov. Perry that the State works at Greenville and the Gas Works in Charleston, lately seized by the Treas-

LOCAL ITEMS.

"LET ME IN."-Passing by a small business house the other day, which by the way though small in its dimensions, does a large business, and the stock or share holders of which are many in number, and who too we would judge are the principal patrons, we noticed a gentleman on the outside knocking his heels together, and Justily demanding entrance, which apparently was not effected. The cry of "let me in" must have been answered by "stop dat 'nockin', you can't come in." "too many of de stockholders in here now;" at which, curses loud and deep were uttered by the outside partner who was determined not to be a silent one. "He didn't like dis bisness and would devise a distillution of de blamed partnership; spected the other gentlemen was not doin' fair, but was eatin' up de principal of his interest in de proceedings, and talkin' away de valuable time which ought to be promoted to the vantage of de whole stockhold. He would insult de bureau and incline de partnership, he would, by gum." Whether he finally got in is not known, it was raining at the time so we left.

THE CONCERT. - Don't forget Prof. Schmitt's entertainment will take place on Wednesday evening at half-past 7 o'clock. The professor will be ably assisted by a number of amateur performers, and a rich treat may be expected. Not the least part of what is expected or promised will be the performance of the Minstre! Band, which will conclude the evening's entertainment. By all means give the professor a full house, and you will come away more than satisfied.

GRAND CONCERT.

Headquarters Bureau Refugees, Freedmen and Abandoned Lands.

DISTRICT WESTERN SOUTH CAROLINA. COLUMBIA. S. C., February 14, 1866.

The Acting Assistant Commissioner congratulates the planters in his District that so many have been able to secure laborers for the coming year, and hopes, by the blessing of Providence, they may have full granaries and an increase of wealth from the coming crop. Gentlemen, with a desire to restore confidence in my District. I issue this communication. It is absolutely-necessary that all contracts be made in duplicate, and unless approved by an officer or agent of this Bureau, will be considered null and void. In the absence of the civil courts, you may depend on the protection of the military. No partiality will be shown to freed persons, or the contrary. Our chief aim will be justice. Let us adopt the immortal creed, "with malice towards none and charity for all," and strive carnestly to establish peace and good will, and recognizing the rights of all men, do what we can to inaugurate for our country a fairer future of happiness and prosperity.

It is hereby announced that all freedmen found idle or vagrant on the streets of this city, in the country-in fact, anywhere within the limits of the District of Western South Carolina-after the first of March next, will subject themselves to arrest, and be compalled to work on Government plantations, for the support of the aged and infirm freed persons in my charge. And now I cheerfully add a word of encouragement to those who have so willingly gone to work. This gives me great satisfaction. You have many enemies-many detractors. Heed them not, but work, work, work. "Labor and wait," and all will yet be well. Do all you can to procure a large crop. Great inducements-splendid opportunities-are offered you. Then go, plough and plant, dig and hoe, cut and gather in the harvest. Let it be seen that where in slavery there was raised a blade of corn or a pound of cotton, in freedom there will be two! Be peaceful and honest-falsehood and theft should not be found in freedom. In a word be men! Keep in good faith all your contracts and agreements, remembering always that you are slaves no longer. While guarding carefully of your employers. "Do unto others as you would !

Feb. 28, 9-tf. TO THE CITIZENS OF SOUTH CAROLINA. The termination of a sanguinary contest, which for the past four years has presented an impossible barrier to all social or commercial intercourse between the two great sections of our country; having at length happily cleared away all obstacles to a renewal of those relations which formerly bound as together in a fraternal union. I take the earliest opportunity afforded me by this auspicious event, to greet my Southern friends, and to solicit from them a renewal of that extens re business connection which for a quarter of a century has been uninterrupted save by the great public calamity to which I have adverted. It is scarcely necessary, on the threshold of a so often given to my friends, to beware of all those spurious and deleterious compounds which, under the specious and false titles of Imported Wines, Brandies, Holland Gin, Liquors, &c., have been equally destructive to the health of our cinizens as prejudicial to the interest of the legitle Many years of my past life have been expended in an open and caudid attempt to expose these wholesale frauds; no time nor expense has been public auction about 100 BUSHELS smared to accomplish this salutary purpose, and to place before my friends and the public generally, at the lowest market price, and in such quantities as might suit their convenience, a truly genuine imported article. Twenty five years business transactions with he largest and most respectable exporting houses in France and Great I ritain have afforced me ensurpassed facilities for supplying our hotie market with Wines, Liquors and Liquores of the best and most approved brands in Europe, in addition to my own distillery in Holland for the manufacture of the "Schiedam Schnapps." The latter, so long tested and approved by the medical Faculties of the United States, West Indies and South America as an invaluable therapeutic, a wholesome, pleasant and perfectly sale beverage in all climates and during all seasons, quickly excited the cupidity of the home manufacturers and venders of a spurious article under the same name. I trust that I have, after much toil and expense, surrounded all my importations with saleguards and directions which with ordinary circumspection will insure their delivery, as I receive them from Europe, to all my customers. I would, however, recommend in all cases where it is possible, that orders be sent direct to my depot, 22 Beaver Street, New York, or that pruchases be made of my accredited agents. In addition to a large stock of Wines, Bran lies, &c., I have a considerable supply of old tried foreign wines, embracing vintages of many years war, which I can especially recommend to all connoisseurs of these rare luxuries. In conclusion, I would specially call the early attention of my Southern customers to the advantage to be derived by transmitting their orders without loss of time, or calling personally at the depot, in order to insure the lun their orders out of the present large and well selected assortment. UDOLPHO WOLFE, 22 Beaver-Street, New York Feb 21-3m
