Wednesday Morning, October 10, 1866.

We invite attention to the card of Messrs. Boozer and Peoples, offering fair compromise to debters. All should avail themselves of these inducements, and get rid of the night-mare debt.

DR. R. S. WHALEY respectfully announces to his friends and the public that he is permanently located in Newberry, and will be pleased to wait upon then, professionally, either at his office, or their residence, when desirable.

NEWBERRY COLLEGE.-We are gratified to announce to the friends of this institution that it is again open. For the present the faculty is limited, but professors will be secured as the school increases. It is presided over by that good, pious and learned man, Rev. Prof. J. P. Smeltzer.

The Newberry District Bible Society will meet in the Lutheran Church Saturday the 13th inst., at 11. a. m. The friends of the Bible cause are invited to attend. An address will be delivered by Rev. Mr. Smeltzer. The object of the meeting will be to secure members. No cause is more worthy of a large membership.

Health and Prosperity of Charleston.

It affords us much pleasure to learn that the bity of Charleston is in such an excellent sanitary condition. The broke-bone fever, not at all dangerous, is rapidly passing away. It enjoys perfect immunity or exemption from the pestilences of the day, so afflictive to other communities. No better proof is ne ded than the daily arrival from, and departure to Charleston, of our merchants. Commercially, the old city is also doing well.

The community sympathizes with our afflicted townsman, N. B. Knox, who, within the brief space of a month, has consigned to the silent chambers of the grave, three members of his household; an endeared female relative, a lovely little daughter, and his beloved, devoted wife. The tendrils that entwined about his heart have I been broken one by one, and he is bowed beneath a burden of grief too deep for utterance-and eloquent enough to challenge the sympathy of . angels !

The new store of Mr. Singleton (No. 2. 3 Mollohon Row) is a feature in that old and favorite business block of stores. We are rpleased to notice the varied and choice stock of family groceries in this establishment, besides the principal and leading articles of dry goods, as well as shoes, &c. It is the aim of Mr Singleton to make No. 2. a place much to be desired to trade at, and as near A No. 1. as circumstances will allow, both in regard to excellence in goods and in prices. His motto is quick sales and short profits. His polite and gentlemanly clerks are in keeping with the general excellence.

Summary.

Disasters by flood, have befallen many of the farming interests of the North-west; much corn, etc., destroyed. Gloomy tidings reach us from England and Western Europe, concerning the harvests. In Russia, the crops were abundant. Agricultural societies are being organized in Georgia; we need agricultural clubs and societies here in Carolina-we need them in Newberry. "We can never' recover our lost wealth or position except through a prosperous agriculture. We need especially exhibitions of agricultural . implements and labor-saving machines, more than at any period of our history." The intelligence comes up from may sections of the State, that revivals of religion are progressing. We trust that the day is not far distant, (dark as is the prospect) when wars and persecutions shall cease. The Presbytery of South Carolina conwened in Anderson, last Wednesday. The Charleston papers announce the death of Mr. H. L. Briterfield, the late genial and kind-hearted host of the Pavilion Hotel, Charleston. They also record the death of Mr. Andrew McDowall. an esteemed citizen of that city. Another fiendish attempt was made last week to throw the cars from the track of the Blue Ridge Railroad, below Pendleton. It is proposed by one AhYuc, we believe, to flood the South with laborers from the "flowery kingdom." It will never do to plant the Mangolian here. The cholera has broken outwith much virulence, in Philadelphia. The rinderpest, or great cattle plague prevails in Kentucky. A mountain of pure rock-salt, several thousand feet high, has been discovered in Nevada. It is said that Mr. A. T. Stewart of New York, will donate one million dollars to build tenement houses for the deserving indigent poor, provided ground was furnished. A boat's crew from his Imperial French Majesty's war steamer Fulton, were captured, killed and eaten by the savages of New Caledonia, in the Pacific, last June. The ship's crew visited summary vengeance upon the canibals, by shooting and bayoneting them and burning their villages .-War has broken out in Candia between the Christians and Intidels. The allied Turks and Egyptians suffered a loss of 3000 killed, in an engagement. Agitation spreads. The complications in the East are so great that Western Europe is apprehensive of trouble.

> HORRIBLE OUTRAGE .- One night last week three negroes effected an entrance to the dwelling house of Mr. Daniel Hammond, living near Smithfield, Jefferson county, Ohio, while all members of the family were absent, excepting two daughters of Mr. Hammond, and gratified their brutal passions by outraging the bodies of the two young ladies. They effected entrance about nine o'clock in the evening and did not leave till near four o'clock in the morning. One of the young ladies is not expected to live.

> In the famine districts in India, the natives are reduced to feed on roots and mango stones, which they grind into a kind of flour. This miserable sustenance is wholly insufficient to keep a large number of them from starving, and the fearful spectacle is presented of numerous corpses lying on the highways. They remain unburied, and, probably as a consequence, cholera has broken out, and is carrying off large numbers of persons. In their utter distress mothers are offering their children for sale in order to buy bread.

Our Exchanges.

We have received the American Agriculturist, for October. This popular monthly, published at 41 Park Row, N. Y., by Orange Judd & Co., for only $1,50 per annum, in advance, is brimful of agricultural, horticultural and scientific intelligence. It is devoted to the farm, the garden and the household.

Also, the American Farmer, for October, a handsome monthly magazine, of agriculture and horticulture, the oldest in the United States, is published by Worthington & Lewis, 52 South Gay St., Baltimore, Md., Price $2 per annum.

And "The Southern Cultivator," published at Athens, Georgia, by Wm. N. White, $2 per year. The Cultivator for October, is replete with delightful, edifying and instructive reading for the farmer. "Agriculture is the most healthful, most useful, and most noble employment of man," and we would be rejoiced if, at this juncture, in our farming history, every planter in the South would subscribe for the above works. They are publications that will bear the test of criticism every way, and yield a handsome return for a careful perusal.

The Abbeville Banner.-Mr. James S. Cothran retires from the editorial chair. He says, in his valedictory, "that the retrospect is so full of blasted hopes, perfidious promises, delusions, pain, anxiety, trouble, that he shrinks from holding it to view." Messrs. M. M. and W. W. Farrow succeed in the management.

Sumter News .- Friend Darr, has associated with him in the management of his handsome paper, Mr. N. G. Osteen, a practical printer and courteous gentleman. Mr. F. J. Moses, adorns the editorial column.

The Weekly Record, offers to any clergyman sending the names of two annual subscribers with the cash, a third copy of the Record free for one year. The Charleston Record is a compendium of useful intelligence.

The Columbia Carolinian .- Mr. De Fontaine will, in addition to his popular daily, soon issue "the tri-weekly", and Weekly Carolinian. Send in your names at once. Tri weekly $2.50 for six months; weekly, $1.75, do.

Southern Enterprise .- Mr. W. P. Price, the senior partner of the Press has sold his interest to Mr. John C. Bailey. Col. G. F. Townes takes control of the editorial department; it will suffer no detriment at his hands. Success to the Enterprise, brother Bailey and the Col.

Savannah Advertiser .- E. O. Withington, publishes, in Savannah, one of the neatest, liveliest and quickest little dailies in the South. We recommend the Advertiser to every one wishing a Savannah paper. Subscription only $4 per

The Augusta "Press."-Mr. E. H. Pughe has enlarged and improved his paper. It is alive, and robust with 'healthy' matter. We commend the "Daily Press" to those wanting a paper from

THE SIGNS .- The Louisville Journal observes: The signs are direful. Our nationality seems more fearfully threatened than it was at any time during the late war, the world's greatest war. The portents glow and redden like balefires upon all the hills. The country is covered with combustible materials scattered around by fierce hands, and the hurling abroad of a single firebrand from Washington, or the bursting of one flash of lightning from the lurid clouds that hang low over the capitol may wrap the land in a configgration of civil war. And let the Northern people remember that if civil war comes, it will rage and madden and work its desolations first in the North, and if the South choose, be confined to the North. The people of the North, with the exception of the soldiers, know little of war save from reading about it. The flames of burning cities glared, and the thunder of hostile cannon roared and died away a thousand miles off from them, but let a civil war, such as large portions of them seem now to be invoking, burst forth among themselves, and they will be the witnesses and the victims of horrors wholly unparalleled by the late dreadful experience of the South. It will be a war, less of armies than of neighbors and neighborhoods The midnight torch will be one of the chief weapons of the fight. The air will be red with flame and black with sulphurous smoke.

Every man who does not convulsively shut his eyes, can foresee the consequences, but we can scarcely hope that any consideration, however appalling, will cause fanatics and madmen to pause in the execution of their wild and feroclous policy. 'Tis little to a man to die, but that our once all-glorious country should perish from off the face of the earth-the thought is terrible. It might well sadden the whole civilized world.

HONORABLE. - Several of our lawyers have informed us that even had not the Legislature postponed the Fall Session of the Courts of Common Pleas, the docket would have presented a beggarly array of suits. We are proud to record this evidence of the good-feeling prevailing among the citizens of this District. An instance has very recently been brought to our attention, where a gentleman declined to accept specie in payment of a debt contracted before the war, declaring he would only receive currency. We have heard several merchants express their willingness to compromise with their debtors upon the most liberal terms. Such indications of humanity and sympathy, amid the demoralizing tendencies of the times, are most creditable and praise-worthy, and deserve the highest commendation.

[Chester Standard. THE SOUTH .- The destiny of the South is the fate of Fairfield District. While we have no desire to screen the worst aspects of the current of events as it flows by, it is advisable that a dignified composure characterize us under the really ominous cloud now growing darker and darker above our political horizon. Let us push on as though the utmost prosperity awaited us. It is worse than childish to fold our arms and growl over the rudeness with which we have been treated, or put on a long face of melancholy at what seems to be in store for us. Let us rather go on just as if there was not a Radical outside of the Chinese wall. Six years of hard times must not be lost as a school of experience.-Winnsboro' News.

An unsual amount of sickness is prevailing in the country, mostly chills and fever. At West Point, Columbus, Georgia and other adjoining places, chills, bilious and broken bone fever are the prevailing disease.

ACQUITTAL OF MESSES. STARLING AND POPE.-The trial of these two gentlemen, who it will be remembered were instrumental in the killing of John Counts alias John Dawkins, the negro murderer of Mr. Lemuel Lane at Newberry, and in the recovery from him of several thousand dollars, took place yesterday, before His Honor Judge Aldrich. Indicted for murder, every particle of evidence that could be gathered, was adduced pro and con; and after the arguments of Messrs. Baskin and S. Melton, on the part of the defence, Mr. Ficklin for the State, and the charge of his Honor, the case was given to the jury, who, after an absence of three quarters of an hour reurned the verdict-

The case is one which has excited much attention. Had the victim been a white man, and like John Counts the freedman, a known murderer, no trial would have taken place; but the fact that the victim was a negro, induced the authorities to make a most searching investigation, and subject the case to the severest tests. We shall publish a full report of the proceedings here-

BANISHED FOR 5 YEARS .- John Tollison and his two sons, young men who had been found guilty of cow stealing, after an affecting address by his Honor Judge Aldrich, were banished from the State for five years. Samuel Byers for an assault and battery was fined fifty dollars. Charles Parker, found guilty of horse stealing was sentenced to be hung on the first Friday in February next. The jury had recommended the prisoner to executive

This specimen statesmanship of the radicals, says the Argus, ought to make holders of United States securities rush to the polls next November to keep those statesmen in power.

ALBANY, N. Y., October 5.—In this vicinity to-day Judson Palmer eloped with the daughter of Archibald Stevens. The latter went in pursuit and the two men finally confronted each other in the house of a friend and commenced firing. Stevens was killed and Palmer slightly wounded. The latter, however, carried off the woman.

OBITUARY.

DIED, in Helena, on the 25th of September, of congestion of the brain, CORA HALLOWAY BREAZEALE, aged 9 years and three months, youngest daughter of Halloway and Caroline Breazeale.

Cora was much beloved by all and peculiarly so by those who were daily associated with her. She was a favorite with her teachers as well as her schoolmates, from the eldest even to the little ones who could barely lisp her name.

Cora was too pure for earth and as a tender plant has been transplanted to a more congenial clime. She is now with Him who hath said "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven.'

We deeply sympathize with her bereaved parents and sister. May we when called to go up higher, join our dear little friend Cora in singing "Around the Throne of God in Heaven" which was the last hymn she learned on earth. M. S. B.

Annual Fall Session of this Institution began on Monday last with a full corps of able and experienced Professors all at their posts. The indications are, we learn with pleasure, that the classes will all be well filled. Parents thinking of sending their daughters had best do so at once, as it is always so much better in every respect for the pupils to get an equal start with their classes. The learned, accomplished and devout President, Mr. Price, enters with great zeal upon the discharge of his duties as the head of the Institution, and is earnestly seconded by the able corps of Professors associated with him. An Offer

Is made to all parties indebted to me by note or account, made previous to the war, to settle the same at a liberal compromise in proportion to the ability of the parties to pay, if paid by the 1st of January 1867. After which time they very likely will find them in the hands of another person for collection, that will not settle on as liberal terms. This offer is made in consequence of the result of the late war and of being under obligations to make payments on old debts myself by the time above mentioned.

LAURENSVILLE FEMALE COLLEGE.—The Headquarters Assistant Commissioner_ BUREAU REFUGEES, FREEDMEN AND ABAN-BONED LANDS, SOUTH CAROLINA.

CHARLESTON, S.C., August 17, 1866. (CIRCULAR.)

In all cases where Freedpeople are working l'lantations for a share of the crop, the owner of the land will furnish the necessary buildings in which to store the Cotton making a separate apartment for each person employed, where his or her cotton can be securely stored until the crop is gathered, when it will be divided, either before or after it is ginned, as the parties may agree.. The outer door of the building will be fastened by lock, and the key placed in chargeof some person in whose honesty all have confidence. The cotton can be weighed as: it is stored, that all may know the amount. of cotton picked each day.

No person will sell, or in any way disposeof, any part of crops, where the owner of land has a share, until after a division is fairly made.

A strict obedience to these instructions will be required, and thereby save all the anxiety, and the chance of theft, so much dreaded by those who have honestly labored. to make a crop.

All honest men will at once see the necess sity of some rule by which all will be equally protected. Any person disobeying the orders of the officer in charge, will be arrested and punished.

The land-owners in many cases have advanced rations to enable the freedmen to make their crop, and justice now demands that they should be protected from dishonesty. By this course, all are secure in their just rights, and the cotton will not be exposed to the chance of injury from smoke if taken into the houses of the people, or rain if put into small pens.

GENERAL ORDERS,)

No. 21. To regulate the division of crops where the Freedpeople are working for a share thereof. and to protect both the Employer and the Employees from the injurious results arising from the practice of some persons in buying the crops in small quantities from the freedmen, paying therefor a mere pittance of their market value, whereby many of the freed-people are left impoverished, it is ordered—

I. That all crops, when harvested, shall be stored in a secure place, prepared for market, and divided between the employer and the employees, in accordance with the contract. where contracts have been approved by this

II. When the cotton shall have been prepared for market, and no officer or agent of this Bureau can be present, the contracting parties may agree upon some person in whom they have confidence, or choose referees to divide the crop; and if they cannot agree, the officer in charge will act.

In all cases, officers and agents of this Bureau will render every assistance in their power to prevent unfairness or dishonesty.

III. Officers and agents of this Bureau will see that accounts between the employers and employees for labor or advances of provisions or money be justly arranged before either party dispose of their crop. IV. A station or landing on each of the islands will be established, where all cotton for market can be taken; and an agent will be appointed to weigh the cotton, and to that the freedmen are neither cheated weight nor price, and that they receive amount of money due them from the
