Our stocks of MERCHANDISE for the Spring will be large, comprising a complete assortment of all GOODS suitable for the Southern Markets, and have been selected with great care by men conversant with the wants and tastes of the Southern people. Possessing ample facilities for purchasing, both at home and abroad, while our expenses, in comparison with other cities, are small; we feel confident in saying that we will be able to sell GOODS as cheap as the same articles can be nurselyed in any city in the articles can be purchased in any city in the United States.

We are prepared to respond to any CALL that may be made in our respective lines of business, and to fill at any time any responsible ORDER. The facilities for TRANSPORTATION between here and all points are easy, quick and rapid and we have been creditably informed by the President of the South Carolina Railroad that freights between here and Augusta will be reduced in rates as low as that of any competing

We hope that by the employment of the great agencies of energy and industry, the whole of the Southern country made desolate by the war may speedily be reorganized to the mutual advantage and general prosperity of all.

Com's Office, Feb. 25-10-tf.

IN reply to a Notice published in last week's paper, by J. Y Harris forewarning all persons not to settle with R. C. Wright, the notes and accounts of the firm of Harris & Wright, as he is not the proper one, I say it was very unjust in him in so doing, as l furnished all the funds that started the firm, with the assistance of Col. W. S. Chalmers as my surety. The conditions of the firm were, I purchased a stock of goods from Henry Halfacre, to the amount of $777 and some cents, and J. Y. Harris was to put in the same amount in money, which he did not do, and never did put in one dallar. Now who has the right to settle the firm ? The debt still hangs over me and my surety, to be paid. J.Y. Harris has received as much or more of the assets of the firm than I have. I have employed a lawyer and stated the facts to him, in every particular, and the law shall settle the whole matter.
