responsible for the following story: Tuesday morning a couple appeared in the Probate Court and demanded a marriage license. When the moment arrived for paying the fee the man was backing out, but the woman said he shouldn't do that, "not by any means," and she paid for the license. The couple soon afterward appeared at Justice Turner's office, and the woman made known her "intentions." The unusual appearance of the "happy couple" attracted unusual attention, and a large crowd was soon gathered there to see the solemn ceremonies. When the couple were asked to stand up and face the music, the groom again tried to back out; and the bride seeing that there was no other way for it, remarked that he'd got to stand it, and there was no use talking about it. She caught hold of the doubting Thomas and squared him up before the Justice, with the order for him to "sail in!" Just then the quere arose as to where the fee for the tying of the hymeneal knot was to come from. The man said he couldn't stand the expense. The woman asserted that she had paid for the license, and the man The subscriber would respectfully inform should pay for the marrying. He protested that he wouldn't, and that he'd go to Cincinnati to work. The woman caught him as he was Saddlery and Harness slipping away from the matrimonial noose, threw him down on the floor, and, taking some money from his pockets, she deliberately At BLEASE'S OLD STAND, paid the Justice his fee, and then, holding on to her "feller," the knot was tied in due form. All the while the bride was munching peanuts, and when the ceremony was concluded the floor was littered with the shells. The bride saluted her husband with "Tom, you're a liar!" Congratulations to the happy couple were fairly showered down, and were characterized more for their robusticity than for their delicacy; and the bride and groom left "inepresence" in a condition of jollity which foretold a boisterous honeymoon. When last seen the amiable spouse shoved her lord into the gutter at the corner of Jefferson and Second with a large supply on hand, to fill all orders

REQUISITES FOR GRADUATION. -The reonisites for graduation are three sessions of lectures, and three years study; or four sessions, including two years spent at the University THE SYSTEM OF MEDICINE TAUGHT .-The University is a liberal medical school, in which all branches of medicine and surgery are taught, including the preparatory studies, without regard to any sectarian views. flence, while they deprecate the exclusive-ness of Allopathy, Homocopathy, Eclecticism, Hydropathy, etc., they believe that all principles of cure and the rapeutical agents should be taught in all well regulated medical schools and that every intelligent, honest, and thorough practitioner is entitled to all the coursesies and privileges of the profession, without regard to his peculiar notions in therapeutics. FERS .- The fees for a libranches, including who purchase tickets only have to matricu-late once, which makes the second session $55, including demonstrator's fees, or $115 for a full course. To aid young men of moderate means, the University has issued five hundred scholarships, which are sold to first-course students, for $75, and to secondcourse students and clergymen for $50, each constituting the holder a life member, with the perpetual privileges of the lectures, and all the teachings of the school. The only additional fees are a yearly dissecting and matriculating ticket, each of which is $5. THE ADVANTAGES OF SCHOLARSHIPS .-

the College at any time during the year attend as long as he chooses, and re enter the Institution as frequently as desired. It requires no previous reading or study to enter the University on scholarships, hence all private : uition fees are saved. Students, by holding scholarships, can rosecute other business a part of the time. The candidate for graduation can present imself at any time, and receive his degree as soon as qualified

Washing Compound! The washing for a family of twenty persons may be completed before breakfast, the clo les out to dry, the house in good order and comfortable for the day, and the family saved from washing-day annovances. Who would not wish to have such comforts? This Compound is rapidly taking the placeof all soaps, wherever introduced. It is a chemical preparation for washing clothes, the coarsest, as well as the finest and most delicate fabrics, with little rubbing or boiling; saving in the process MORE THAN ONE-HALF THE COST OF SOAS, and but one-quarter of the time and labor is required to do the same amount of washing as with the best
