Mr. G. E. Elford has withdrawn from the Mountaineer. The management of the paper is now under control of Capt. E. J. Postick. The Mountaineer is a sterling paper.

W. C. & F. P. CURRICH, No. 39 Park Row, New York.

The Problem Rite. We learn from the Anderson Intelligence, that Alex. Bryce, Jr., of Wallajah, and several negroes in that vicinity, have been arrested by the military and lodged in jail, as implicated in the late outrage at the above place.

Demost's Illustrated Monthly. The current number of this favorite periodical is a very good one. In addition to its usual illustrations, including the colored fashion plate, there are three large plates devoted to fashions, and another feature of special interest to ladies, viz: a full-size pattern of Winter cloth.

Death of Col. Bauckert. The Columbia Phoenix records the death of this respected citizen, one of the wisest and brightest members of the Bar in the State. Col. Bauckert was born in Newberry District, and was about seventy-four years of age.

Important Decision. His Honor Judge Moses made an important decision last week, in the case of Sumner vs. Lyles, Messrs. Garlington & Sumner for the Plaintiff, and Mr. O. Garlington for the Defendant.

The facts proved were, that Lyles employed a servant (freeman) who had contracted with the plaintiff for the year 1887, as a farm laborer, and left his employment, and when the plaintiff demanded the servant, the defendant refused to send him back or discharge him. There was no proof that the defendant had enticed the servant away from his employer.

The case was within the Summary Process jurisdiction of the Court, and His Honor decreed for the plaintiff damages for the injury. The question involved is one of general interest, and it is supposed that it will be taken up on appeal.

Appalling! The Sheriff of Darlington District advertises three hundred and seventy-five tracts of land. Ordered for sale to pay State taxes. What a deplorable picture of the times, and view of prospective desolation!

Our western exchanges have for many dreary weeks conveyed the sad tidings that the scourge of yellow fever desolates innumerable homes in Louisiana and Texas. In some instances whole families have been swept off. The disease has no respecter of persons, the comely maiden and the stalwart man, infancy and age having alike found common sepulture.

Cabinet Work.—Mr. Wm. Zobel, having sufficiently recovered, is ready to make, mend or alter any piece of work in the cabinet making line. He is a superior workman, and will warrant entire satisfaction.

Democratic Victory in Baltimore.

THE COMPLETE RETURNS—SUCCESS OF THE WHOLE CONSERVATIVE TICKET. We give below the returns of the election in this city yesterday for Judge of the Court of Appeals, Chief Judge and four Associate Judges of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore city, and for Mayor and City Council, showing the election of all the Democratic Conservative candidates.

The total vote on the constitution at the election on the 18th ultimo, in Baltimore city, was 21,747, of which 16,120 were cast for its adoption, and 5,627 against it—majority for it, 10,493. The increase in the total vote cast yesterday over that cast at the previous election is 1569. The increase in the Democratic vote is 2200, and the loss on the Radical vote is 781. For Judge of the Court of Appeals, the total vote cast is 23,429, being 113 votes more than the total vote cast for Mayor—of which Bartol received 18,228 votes and Kenly 4807—majority for Scott, 18,416.

SECOND DOCTRINE FROM A RADICAL PAPER.—The New York Evening Post makes the following remarks upon a point that has lately caused much thought in this country: "The independence and rights of the States are as absolutely essential to its harmonious working as the supremacy, in certain respects, of the Federal power."

ON A SPOON.—The late and almost unprecedented ugly weather is altogether owing to the absence of the clerk, who has such matters in hand. We believe that he has gone off on a spree, where no one knows, or can tell. When last he was singing "it rained all night the day I left." Accidental or premeditated, fight or sober, he should be overhauled or kept for keeping us in the wet for so long a time; had luck to him, for such a continuous "waterfall."

Good Advice.—and better than all, gratis.—As the winter will soon be upon us, we advise every one who has not already taken the precaution in preparing to spend it happily, to read on, and follow to the letter. —Breathes there a man with soul so dead—who never to himself hath said—I will a local paper take—both for my own and family's sake?—If such there be, let him repent—and have the paper in his hand—and if he'd pass a happy winter—he in advance should pay the printer.

Be Not Too Jubilant.—A Cincinnati friend writes to the New Orleans Picayune as follows: "I drop you a note by request of a friend, and urge upon your people to be patient and calm; not to feel that the victory is complete yet. One little riot, in the next month, and who knows what would be the result? Let every editor make it a point to urge this in every issue. That the radicals will use every means possible to draw you into a riot, you may expect; but if the people will watch them, and head them off for one year or nine months more the victory will be complete. I feel elated, and know the Southern people will, and I am so fearful they may feel too jubilant and overdo the matter."

The convention of union prayer meetings, according to previous announcement, assembled on Wednesday last, and continued in session during that and the succeeding day. There was a very good attendance, and the meeting was of a very interesting character. The convention represents the best intelligence, character and influence, both here and elsewhere in our District, and shows the zeal with which leading and influential laymen are co-operating with the ministry in their efforts to build up the Redeemer's kingdom in the hearts of his people—kindle away the waning fires of devotion, and restore to the Church the spirit of primitive Christianity.

STATE FINANCES.—We learn that one of the principal objects of the conference between General Canby and Governors Orr and Worth, says the "Charleston Courier," was the adoption of some financial measures providing means for carrying on the State Governments. With the close of this month expires the fiscal year as fixed by the law of the State. The details of the measures agreed upon are not yet complete, but will be shortly announced. It is understood that the Provisional Governments of the State will be continued without modification.

The Yorkville Enquirer notices the death of Mr. David Porter of Limestone Springs, which resulted while blasting rock, a piece weighing perhaps forty pounds unfortunately striking him between the shoulders. The honorable action of the company in whose employ he was is deserving of praise in these degenerate days. Every attention being paid to him immediately before death, and a liberal support given to his widow and children. Some corporations have souls.

THAD. STEVENS ON THE ELECTIONS.—The Morning Post prints the following extract from a private letter from Thaddeus Stevens, on the late elections: "Such as I am, I take this occasion to thank God for our late defeat. The Republicans have been acting a cowardly part, and have met a coward's fate."

Wade has been heard from. A Cleveland paper says that, on entering the news election, he went into a hole and pulled the hole in after him, and has not been seen since.

LOCAL ITEMS.

The creditors of James M. Senn, dead, will observe Commissioner's notice in another column and will render their demands at once, as there are important reasons why they should do so promptly.

Attention is directed to private sales at auction prices and auction sales by Capt. Bythewood, Auctioneer, under Newberry Hotel. These sales are made to close out a large stock of goods for parties who have determined to give up merchandizing in Newberry.

APPOINTMENT.—Changes having been made in the 3d Collection District of this city, and the Divisions of Newberry consolidated and known as the 7th Division, Mr. H. C. Corwin has been appointed Asst. Assessor of U. S. Internal Revenue for the same. Mr. Corwin's office is on Law Range.

THE BARBER.—Louis Butler, our town barber, is one of the best in his line. If you wish the luxury of a clean shave, or cleansing of the hair, call on Butler. And if you desire your hair dressed in any imaginable style, go to Butler—he will satisfy your every want in the art tonorial.

YOUNG KENTUCKY.—The celebrated horse trainer Young Kentucky, is now holding forth at Jones' stable. It is worth one while to witness the ease and success with which he subdues the most fractious horse, and puts him through the most perfect training. His lessons are short, and guaranteed to be perfect, otherwise he needs no pay. Go to see him.

ON A SPOON.—The late and almost unprecedented ugly weather is altogether owing to the absence of the clerk, who has such matters in hand. We believe that he has gone off on a spree, where no one knows, or can tell. When last he was singing "it rained all night the day I left." Accidental or premeditated, fight or sober, he should be overhauled or kept for keeping us in the wet for so long a time; had luck to him, for such a continuous "waterfall."

Good Advice.—and better than all, gratis.—As the winter will soon be upon us, we advise every one who has not already taken the precaution in preparing to spend it happily, to read on, and follow to the letter. —Breathes there a man with soul so dead—who never to himself hath said—I will a local paper take—both for my own and family's sake?—If such there be, let him repent—and have the paper in his hand—and if he'd pass a happy winter—he in advance should pay the printer.

Germany has a rival for Brigham Young, in the descendant point of view; for a German newspaper says that two years ago a Mr. Christian Segemayer became father of his fifty-eight child. His first wife gave birth to twenty-three, of which six were twins and eleven single born; and his second wife to nineteen, and the third and yet living wife is mother of sixteen children. Of these fifty-eight children, twenty-eight are living, all being daughters, and the man has never been sick, and enjoys good health, as do his children.

The New York Recorder says J. P. M. Galvo, formerly of Columbia, S. C., and well-known in South Carolina as a veteran printer and publisher, died at New Orleans on the 15th ultimo, of congestion of the brain, aged forty-five years. His first wife gave birth to twenty-three, of which six were twins and eleven single born; and the third and yet living wife is mother of sixteen children. Of these fifty-eight children, twenty-eight are living, all being daughters, and the man has never been sick, and enjoys good health, as do his children.

WE rather therefore liked it this time, on the whole. Another reason, various complimentary notices of the new Judge, excited much curiosity, every paper opened was charged with them, and to be "charged" by him would alone satisfy our desire. We set with patient dignity while he did so, and having survived, add our tribute of praise by saying that he is a man after our own heart—in a business way, and exceedingly fair to look upon—as a Judge. He is full of humor also, and has a good knowledge of nature.

One for instance will suffice, although many others might be cited, but this juror is sensible that some of them though funny for his Honor and the court, were not so to the parties, therefore deponent saith not, otherwise his nasal organ might suffer from the consequences. In passing sentence on Georgiana Suber, colored, to a two year's residence in the penitentiary, the fair but frail and guilty Georgiana arose in her wrath, and said unto him, Judge Moses, "I would rather be hung!" Whereupon his Honor, without rising, but also in wrath, and with contracted brows, said unto the ungrateful Georgiana, "be hanged then, and be, you can have your choice." Georgiana, not caring to make further trouble, accepted first proposition. The Sheriff will remember him too, for, contrary to old custom, his Honor made him sit at his left hand, under strict injunction, and with a shake of his honorable and longest judicial digit, to stay there till permitted to retire. He was not the only one kept up to time, however, for lawyers, clerk, jurors, and all, were made to "push along, keep moving" in this Common Pleas treadmill, under the admirable working of the new Judge. The restriction placed over the worthy Sheriff's motions had an immediate soporific effect, for he fell asleep directly, and re-

COUET.—The Court of General Sessions closed on Friday last, after five days close and unremitting attention on the part of Bench and Bar, as well as all others concerned, and much to the credit of all except the guilty parties, whose names together with their indictment and sentence are as follows: State vs. Burr Sondley—indictment Robbery—found guilty. Sentenced to be hung on the 3rd Friday, 20th December, between the hours of 10 and 4 o'clock. Burr Sondley was also implicated in the murder of Mr. Lane, on which occasion the robbery was committed.

State vs. Eliz. Koon and Harriet Koon—Riot and Assault and Battery—found guilty of assault—fined $20 each. State vs. Walter Koon—Assault and Battery—plead guilty—fine $35.

State vs. J. B. Neel and others—Riot and Assault and Battery—Neel plead guilty to second charge—sentenced to one month imprisonment and $50 fine. Others not guilty.

State vs. Georgian Sabler—freedwoman—assault and battery with intent to kill—found guilty.—Sentence to two years in penitentiary.

The Session was replete with interest, much able argument from the State and the legal gentleman engaged being adduced in the regular course, besides the fact, that His Honor Judge Moses was presiding here for the first time. Our experience at Court is but limited, but we must give to Judge Moses the praise of having presided altogether to our satisfaction, and so far as we have heard, to that of the community at large. Deeply read in law, clear and concise in argument, together with the best practical idea of business, and the value of time we have ever seen, on the Bench, his Honor is our beau ideal of a Judge.

All of the Inquiry Docket was not reached, and in consequence a large number of cases were continued or thrown over till next court. We hardly think much dissatisfaction is felt at this, on the contrary many parties interested were highly pleased at the result.

ONCE UPON THE JURY.—It's disagreeable to complain of individual annoyances or troubles, but sometimes patience ceases to be a virtue, and the wounded spirit must cry out aloud in its anguish. Just so. We can and have borne an inconceivable amount, and will continue to, perhaps, there being no remedy known in law; we cried out once before in bitterness of heart; we do so now,—under slightly modified circumstances, the facts of the case being different. The first occasion which called forth that lament was our having to "sit" in the District Court, which is rather on the one horse principle, besides it was in August and fly time. On this occasion we "sat" under the auspices of the General Sessions and Common Pleas, influenced by the genial softness of October weather. The difference was considerable. But still in the language of that estimable old soul, Mother Partington, "we like a president, it gives color and a show of right, otherwise its repugnant to our feelings, and we kick. Show us a precedent for putting a man on the jury two times successively and we are agreeable, but not our city is liberty or death. The principle is objected to. Is there no other good looking, intelligent or well dressed man in town capable of a "sit," of so elevated a position, besides us? Believing it impossible to find another one, with all these requisites, the late flattering mark of consideration induces us to forego hostile demonstration, and look kindly upon Sheriff and Clerk, who brought it about. Very good fellows are they, taken all in all. Besides this consideration, dollars and cents come from it, and, too, much knowledge is gained while in position as an intelligent juror.

THE New Orleans Evening Crescent, of Tuesday last, has the following paragraph: "It is reported that two gentlemen of high respectability, residents of the city, fought a duel early this morning with pistols, and that one was killed at the first fire." "A party of eight individuals were arrested as principals and accessories to a duel which was to have taken place yesterday in the Third District. The cause of the animosity of the principals is of the most delicate nature."

In Virginia City a poor widow, in overhauling an old vest of her husband, who had recently died, found a dusty paper in the pocket, which, upon examination, proved to be the deed of three feet of the Savage claim. The secretary of the company informed her it was genuine, and that $1800 in dividends were due on it. She took the money, sold the dirty paper for $14,000, and came to her home and friends in the East.

Eddie Marrast, a boy of ten years of age, stabbed and killed Dorcie Williams, another youngster aged about eleven, on Tuesday last, near Greensboro, Ala.

The Columbia Chronicle learns that many persons express the determination to leave that city because of high rents. Why is a newspaper like a wife? Because every man ought to have one of his own. Senator Sumner's wife has left for Europe under her maiden name.
