CHRISTMAS HALF SHEET.

Somebody—a woman of course—inquires why, when Eve was manufactured from the spare rib, a servant wasn't made at the same time to wait on her? Somebody else—a woman, we imagine—replies in the following strain:

Because Adam never came whining to Eve with a ragged stocking to be darned, collar to be sewed on, or a glove to mend "right away, quick now." Because he never read the newspapers until the sun got down behind the palm trees, and then, stretching himself out, yawned out "ain't supper most ready, my dear?" Not he. He made the fire, and hung the kettle over it himself, we'll venture; and pulled the radishes, peeled the potatoes, and did every thing else he ought to. He milked the cows, fed the chickens, and looked after the chickens himself.

He never brought home half a dozen friends to dinner when Eve hadn't a fresh pineapple, and the mango season was over. He never stayed out till 11 o'clock to a card meeting, hurrying for an out-and-out candidate, and then could because poor Eve was sitting up and crying inside the gates. He never played billiards, rolled tennis and drove fast horses, nor smoked Eve with tobacco smoke. He never looked around for a young lady to slip and fall on, and then, when she was up, he did not think she was especially created for the purpose of waiting on him, and was not under the impression that it disgraced a man to lighten a woman's career a little. That's the reason that Eve did not need a maid girl, and with it was the reason that her fair descendants

"Betsy, get up and get me something to eat."
"Why John there's nothing cooked."
"Well, get up and cook something."
"There's nothing to cook."
"Nothing at all?"
"No."
"Well, get up and get a clean knife and fork—I'll go through the motions anyhow."

During an excursion on-board a steamboat on the Potomac, and whilst the company were amusing themselves with dancing, a young lady happened to slip and fall on deck. A dandy, who chanced to be near at the time, stood motionless, and on being asked why he did not assist her in getting up, fashionably replied that he was waiting for an introduction.

There is a town in Texas in which it is said there is but one grave, upon the slab of which is written the following epitaph:

Underneath this slab lies the body of a man who was a great success in life, but who died because he was too vain to let his friends know that he was a failure.

The Editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register has been presented with a grasshopper which he says weighs three to the pound. One cabbage head makes just as good a supper for four of this sort. He is two and a half inches long, and still an infant, his wings just beginning to come out of his back. He is one of the kind that has become a burden.

Two News for UNMARRIED LADIES.—It is said that the new invention in buttons, which can never fall off, is having a very depressing effect upon the matrimonial market. Never mind, ladies, this is only a temporary fluctuation. Buttons are not calculated to withstand the vigorous pulsations of a manly heart, when once you have set it in motion.

Another unexpected was the reply of the woman, who, being arranged for playing marbles on Sunday, and sternly asked, "Do you know where these little boys go to who play marbles on Sunday?" replied innocently, "Yes; some on 'em goes to the common, and some on 'em goes down by the side of the river."

A western journalist, whose wife had just presented him with twins, and who, for this reason, was compelled to neglect his paper for one day, wrote, the day after, the following excuse: "We were unable to issue our paper yesterday in consequence of the arrival of two extra males."

The latest style of hoop-skirts is the "adjusting, double-back-action," but the "huscan, face-expansion, Resonant-attachment, gossamer-indestructible, polio-morom." It is said to be a very charming thing.

I am afraid, said a lady to her husband, "that I am going to have a stiff neck." "Not at all improbable, my dear," he replied, "I have seen strong symptoms of it ever since I have known you."

A model return upon a writ was made by a deputy sheriff in Indiana. It was: "Served the writ; but was fit with bricks by the wimmin, so that I could not serve it."

A wretch, who, at a social party, said that a young lady playing a piano forte was like an ape, because her fingers were among keys, has been arrested.

To keep the freshest while man goes out and collects the materials to make the pot boil is said to be woman's mission.

"Shall I leave some tracts here?" "Yes," said the irritated burgher, "with the toes towards the door."

What kind of leather would a naked Moor remind you of? Undressed morocco.

Why was William the Conqueror of no sex? Because he was not a female Mor-man.

Reverdy Johnson has a cataract in his eye; but how many young men have a water-fall in both!

PREAMBLE AND RESOLUTIONS

of the Board of Newberry College, as to the Scholarships of said College.

WHEREAS, Newberry College has reached a period in its history, in which the Board of Trustees is compelled either to suspend the exercises of the Institution indefinitely, and to sell the property at public auction, or to make a compromise with the holders of Scholarships; and

WHEREAS, Scholarship holders have been notified by circular of the necessity of immediately remitting their dues that the exercises of College may continue, and they have failed to respond; and

WHEREAS, The necessity of such action has been occasioned, not from any want on the part of the Board of Trustees to comply with its obligations; but from the non-compliance of the Scholarship holders to fulfil the obligations imposed in their bonds; and

WHEREAS, The necessity either to suspend, and to sell, or to compromise forces itself upon the Board at the present time, therefore,

RESOLVED, By the Board of Trustees as assembled, and in accordance with the recommendation of the Ex. Luth. Synod of S. C. and adjacent States, whose servants they are, holding in trust the College of said Synod:

1. Every Scholarship paid in good money or its equivalent, before or during the year, shall be charged only half the price of tuition for every collegiate year due; or if paid in Confederate money after Jan. 1st, 1863, three fourths the amount of tuition, until the said scholarship is fully expended.

2. All scholarships, whose dues have not been paid in full, to Jan. 1st, 1863, shall be considered null and void, and will be regarded by the Board, after said date, as forfeited.

3. Scholarship holders, wishing to avail themselves of the benefit of their scholar ships forfeited as in Res. 2, can do so by paying the balance due on their scholarships, on or before the first of Jan'y, 1863, and secure the benefit of Res. 1. Nothing however, herein contained shall entitle the scholarship holder to send on such scholarship until all arrearages are paid.

4. After Jan. 1st, 1863, Newberry College shall be self sustaining, and every student shall be charged monthly, and no one shall be permitted to continue, until his monthly charges are paid, or settlement made with the President.

5. All Beneficiaries of the Luth. Church, as the College is an Institution of the Church, shall be entitled to tuition free, unless otherwise ordered by Synod.

6. No Scholarship shall be sold after the date of this meeting of the Board of Trustees.

All back dues shall be placed into the hands of a collector to be appointed, and he shall be authorized to proceed in the collection of these dues, according to his judgment, and the amount collected shall be applied to liquidating the back salaries of the Professors.

8. This Preamble and Resolutions be published in the Newberry Herald and Ex. Lutheran for three consecutive issues.

The following rates of tuition are fixed by the Board:

Classical Department—Latin, Greek, Mathematics, &c., per month, $3.00
